

PROJECT MUSE®

How to Cite Content in Project MUSE

The formats shown here are for citing journal articles and books in the “works cited” or reference list. For more detailed information, consult the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers, the MLA Style Manual and Guide to Scholarly Publishing, the Publication Manual of the APA, or one of the APA Style Guide books.

JOURNAL ARTICLES

MLA Style

FORMAT:

Author Last Name, First Name. "Title of Article." Journal Name Volume.Issue if applicable (Year): page(s). Project MUSE. Web. Day Month Year of access.

EXAMPLE:

Ross, Patricia A. "The Fact Value Dichotomy in Demarcating Disorder." Philosophy, Psychiatry, & Psychology 14.2 (2007): 107-09. Project MUSE. Web. 20 Aug. 2010.

APA Style

FORMAT:

Author Last Name, First Name. (Year). Article title. Journal Name, volume number(issue number, if applicable), page number(s). Retrieved Month day, year, from Project MUSE database.

EXAMPLE:

Grady, Frank. (2003). Arnoldian Humanism, or Amnesia and Autobiography in the Schwarzenegger Action Film. Cinema Journal, 42(2), 41-56. Retrieved September 4, 2004 from Project MUSE database.

BOOKS

MLA Style

FORMAT:

Author Last Name, First Name. Book title. Place of publication: Publisher, Publication date. Project MUSE. Web. Day Month Year of access

EXAMPLES:

Treuer, Anton. Assassination of Hole in the Day. St. Paul: Borealis-Minnesota Historical Society, 2010. Project MUSE. Web. 18 July 2011.

Conteh-Morgan, John. New Francophone African and Caribbean Theatres. African Expressive Cultures. Bloomington, IN: Indiana University Press, 2010. Project MUSE. Web. 18 July 2011.

APA Style

FORMAT:

Author Last Name, Initials. (Publication date). Book title. Place of publication: Publisher. Retrieved from URL

EXAMPLES:

Weintraub, S. (2011). Farewell, Victoria! Greensboro, NC: ELT Press. Retrieved from <http://muse.jhu.edu>

Conteh-Morgan, J. (2010). New Francophone African and Caribbean Theatres. African Expressive Cultures. Bloomington, IN: Indiana University Press. Retrieved from <http://muse.jhu.edu>