

Public Culture

Join the discussion.

For more than twenty years Public Culture has mapped the capital, human, and media flows drawing cities, peoples, and states into transnational relationships and political economies.

A subscription includes online access to all current and back issues of the journal, including

“The Public Life of History” (#54)
Bain Attwood, Dipesh Chakrabarty, and Claudio Lomnitz,
special issue editors

“Cultures of Democracy” (#51)
Dilip Parameshwar Gaonkar,
special issue editor

To read a sample issue online, visit publicculture.dukejournals.org.

Subscribe today to Public Culture
(three issues each year).

Online access, RSS feeds, and table-of-contents alerting are included with a print subscription.

Individuals, $37

Students, $25 (photocopy of valid student ID required)

Additional postage fees apply for international subscribers.

To place your order, please visit dukeupress.edu/publicculture.

DUKE UNIVERSITY PRESS

boundary 2

an international journal of literature and culture boundary 2 approaches problems in the areas of literature and culture from a number of politically, historically, and theoretically informed perspectives. boundary 2 remains committed to understanding the present and approaching the study of national and international culture and politics through literature and the human sciences.

Recent special issues

“American Poetry After 1975” (36:3)
Charles Bernstein, special issue editor

“The Sixties and the World Event” (36:1)
Christopher Connery and Hortense J. Spillers, special issue editors

Paul A. Bové, editor

Subscribe today to receive boundary 2 (three issues per year).

Online access, RSS feeds, and table-of-contents alerts are included with a print subscription.

Individuals: $33

Students: $20 (photocopy of valid student ID required)

Additional postage fees apply for international subscribers.

To order, please visit

dukepress.edu/boundary2

DUKE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

from the MIT Press

PAJ: A Journal of Performance and Art

Photo: Isaac Julien, Small Boats Series, 2007. Courtesy the artist, Victoria Miro Gallery, London and Metro Pictures, New York.

PAJ is admired internationally for its independent critical thought and in-depth interviews with major international figures in the arts. PAJ charts new directions in performance, video, drama, dance, installations, media, film, and music, integrating theatre and the visual arts. Artists' writings and portfolios, critical commentary, interviews, and a special review section for performances and exhibitions are featured in the issues. Also included are new plays and performance texts from around the world.