Diálogo: An Interdisciplinary Studies Journal is published with support from DePaul University's College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences and the Office of the Provost.

Diálogo is a refereed journal published since 1996 (biannually since 2012) that seeks research and reflection articles of regional and hemispheric contexts with a focus on diverse Latin American, US Latino, and Indigenous populations and experiences, recent immigration, and places of origin. The journal received the 2015 Phoenix Award by the Council for Editors of Learned Journals (CELJ, subgroup of MLA) for best revitalization and transformation of a journal over a three-year period. We welcome submissions throughout the year: suggested themes, articles that help bridge barriers between academic and local communities, book and film/media reviews, and interviews pertinent to Latino communities in the US, the Caribbean, and Latin America. Please send queries and submissions to the editor at dialogo@depaul.edu.

Claims Policy: Domestic and non-US claims for missing issues must be received within 90 days of the publication date. Issues returned "undeliverable" are available for reshipment at cost of new postage.

Diálogo is indexed and/or abstracted in EBSCO, the MLA International Bibliography, and Ulrich's Periodicals Directory. Current content of the journal is available electronically through Project Muse.

Copying beyond Fair Use: Authorization to photocopy items for the internal or personal use of specific clients is granted by the University of Texas Press, provided that the appropriate fee is paid directly to the Copyright Clearance Center.
