PROJECT MUSE®

Notes on Contributors

Comparative Critical Studies, Volume 3, Issue 1-2, 2006, pp. v-ix
(Article)

Published by Edinburgh University Press

DOI: <https://doi.org/10.1353/ccs.2006.0004>

➔ For additional information about this article

<https://muse.jhu.edu/article/199714>

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

SUSAN BASSNETT is Professor in the Centre for Translation and Comparative Cultural Studies at Warwick University. She is author of over 20 books, including her Translation Studies (3rd ed. 2002) which first appeared in 1980 and Comparative Literature: A Critical Introduction (1993) which has been translated into several languages. Her more recent books include Sylvia Plath: An Introduction to the Poetry (2004), Constructing Cultures (1998) written with André Lefevere, and Post-Colonial Translation (1999), co-edited with Harish Trivedi. Besides her academic research, Susan Bassnett writes poetry; her latest collection is Exchanging Lives (2002).

LUCIA BOLDRINI is Senior Lecturer in the Department of English and Comparative Literature at Goldsmiths College, University of London. Her recent books include: Biografie fittizie e personaggi storici (1998) and Joyce, Dante, and the Poetics of Literary Relations: Language and Meaning in Finnegans Wake (2001); she is editor of Medieval Joyce (2002) and co-editor of Autobiografictions (2004). She is on the executive committee of the BCLA and, in September 2005, was elected General Coordinator of the European Network for Comparative Literary Studies.

PRUDENCE BORTHWICK completed her primary school education in Thai in Bangkok, where her father was posted with the Australian Embassy. As an adult, she returned to Thailand in the nineties to work on HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for UNICEF on HIV/AIDS in the Lao Peoples' Democratic Republic.

ROSEMARY CLARK graduated from Oxford with a BA in Languages and has worked for an international NGO and on a professional journal.

After marriage, worldwide travel and motherhood, she now occupies herself with gardening and with the study and translation of French poetry.

JONATHAN CULLER is Class of 1916 Professor of English and Comparative Literature at Cornell University. His books include Flaubert: The Uses of Uncertainty (1974), Structuralist Poetics: Structuralism, Linguistics, and the Study of Literature (1975), Ferdinand de Saussure (1976), The Pursuit of Signs: Semiotics, Literature, Deconstruction (1981), On Deconstruction: Theory and Criticism after Structuralism (1982), Roland Barthes (1983), Framing the Sign: Criticism and Its Institutions (1988) and Literary Theory: A Very Short Introduction (1997). He was President of the American Comparative Literature Association from 1999 to 2001.

DAVID DAMROSCH is Professor of English and Comparative Literature at Columbia University and was president of the American Comparative Literature Association from 2001 to 2003. His books include Meetings of the Mind (2000), on conference culture, We Scholars: Changing the Culture of the University (1995), and What Is World Literature? (2003), and he is the general editor of The Longman Anthology of World Literature (2004).

THOMAS DOCHERTY is Professor of English and Comparative Literary Studies at Warwick University and has published on most areas of English and comparative literature from the Renaissance to the present day. His books include Reading (Absent) Character (1983), John Donne Undone (1986), On Modern Authority: The Theory and Condition of Writing (1987), After Theory: Postmodernism, Postmarxism (1990, revised and expanded 1996), Postmodernism: Reader (1992), Alterities: Criticism, History, Representation (1996). A new book, entitled Aesthetic Democracy, is forthcoming in 2006, as is the volume The English Question, to be published in the series Critical Inventions.

FERIAL J. GHAZOUL is Professor of English and Comparative Literature at the American University in Cairo and author of several books and articles on medieval literature and postcolonial criticism, including Nocturnal Poetics: The Arabian Nights in Comparative Context (1996). She is editor of Alif and the co-editor of The View from Within: Writers and Critics on Contemporary Arabic (1994). She has translated several texts from and into Arabic, English, and French, including writings by Althusser, Riffaterre, Ricoeur, Said and Matar.

LINDA HUTCHEON is University Professor of English and Comparative Literature at the University of Toronto. She was president of the MLA in 2000. Her books include Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox (1984), A Theory of Parody: The Teachings of Twentieth-Century Art Forms (1985), A Poetics of Postmodernism: History, Theory, Fiction (1988), The Canadian Postmodern: A Study of Contemporary English-Canadian Fiction (1988), The Politics of Postmodernism (1989; rpt. 2002), Irony's Edge: The Theory and Politics of Irony (1994), Other Solitudes: Canadian Multicultural Fictions (1990), Opera: Desire, Disease and Death (with Michael Hutcheon, 1996), Bodily Charm: Living Opera (with Michael Hutcheon, 2000), Opera: The Art of Dying (with Michael Hutcheon, 2004), and Rethinking Literary History: A Dialogue on Theory (with Mario Valdés, 2002).

DJELAL KADIR is The Edwin Erle Sparks Professor of Comparative Literature in the Department of Comparative Literature at Pennsylvania State University. His books include The Other Writing: Postcolonial Essays in Latin America's Writing Culture (1993), Columbus and the Ends of the Earth: Europe's Prophetic Rhetoric As Conquering Ideology (1992), Questing Fictions: Latin America's Family Romance (1986), and Juan Carlos Onetti (1977). He has edited and co-edited some thirty volumes and special periodical issues, including Comparative Literature and Globalization (2001), Other Modernisms in An Age of Globalization (2002), Longman Anthology of World Literature (2003), Comparative History of Latin American Literary Cultures (2004), How Far Is America From Here? Selected Proceedings of the First World Congress of the IASA (2005). He was editor of World Literature Today from 1991 to 1996.

GEERT LERNOUT is Professor of English and Comparative Literature at the University of Antwerp and Director of the James Joyce Centre. His books include The French Joyce (1990), The Poet as Thinker: Hölderlin in France (1994), and Iets Anders: De GoldBerg-Varieties van Bach (2001) and is author of articles on European literatures and literary and editorial theory. He is co-editor of The Reception of James Joyce in Europe (2004) and The Finnegans Wake Notebooks.

OLIVER LUBRICH is Wissenschaftlicher Assistent at the Peter Szondi Institute of Comparative Literature at the Freie Universität Berlin. His books include Shakespeares Selbstdekonstruktion (2001), Postkoloniale Poetiken (2004) and Reisen ins Reich 1933-1945. Ausländische Autoren berichten aus Deutschland (2004). Essays on Judaism, Museology, Cuba, Dracula and James Bond. Editor of Alexander von Humboldt (2004), translator of Virginia Grütter's Los amigos y el viento (1996) and curator of the exhibitions "Indigenous Peoples" (2000) and "Jewish Life in Germany Today" (2000-2004).

ALAIN MONTANDON is Professeur de Littérature Générale et Comparée at the Université Blaise Pascal (Clermont II) and director of the Centre de Recherches sur les Littératures Modernes et Contemporaines. His books include La réception de Laurence Sterne en Allemagne (1985), Jean Paul romancier (1987), Formes brèves (1993), Politesse et savoir-vivre (1997), Le roman en Europe au dix-huitième siècle (1999), Paris au Bal (2000), Sociopoétique de la promenade (2000), Du récit merveilleux ou l'ailleurs de l'enfance (2001), and Désirs d'hospitalité. De Homère à Kafka (2002).

ELINOR SHAFFER is a Senior Fellow in the Institute of Germanic and Romance Studies of the School of Advanced Study, University of London, and Director of the Research Project 'The Reception of British and Irish Authors in Europe'. Besides her books 'Kubla Khan' and The Fall of Jerusalem: The Mythological School in Biblical Criticism and Secular Literature, 1770-1880 (1975) and Erewhons of the Eye: Samuel Butler as Painter, Photographer and Art Critic (1988), she has many publications on the Romantic period in England and Germany and has also edited numerous volumes, including The Third Culture: Literature and Science (1998) and 24 volumes of Comparative Criticism from 1979 to 2003.

DAN SHEN is Changjiang (Yangtze) Professor of English and Director of the Center for European & American Literatures at Peking University. Apart from her numerous books and essays published in China, she has published some thirty essays in North America and Europe on narrative theory, literary theory, stylistics, comparative literature and translation studies.

MARTIN SORRELL is Professor of Literary Translation at the University of Exeter. He has published extensively in the field of translation studies. His books include Elles: Modern French Poetry by Women (1995), Verlaine: Selected Poems (1999), Rimbaud: Collected Poems (2001), Claude de Burine: Words have frozen over (2001), and translations of three Molière plays, The Hypochondriac, Tartuffe, The Miser. In addition, he has written five original plays for BBC Radio 4.

XIAOYI ZHOU is Professor of English and Comparative Literature at Peking University. He is a member of the executive council of the International Comparative Literature Association. He has published two books in China on English and Chinese aestheticism and numerous essays in North America and Europe in comparative literature.

The editor ROBERT WENINGER is Professor of German at King's College London. His books include: Arno Schmidts Joyce-Rezeption 1957–1970. Ein Beitrag zur Poetik Arno Schmidts (1982), The Mookse and the Gripes. Ein Kommentar zu James Joyces »Finnegans Wake« (1984), Literarische Konventionen: Theoretische Modelle / Historische Anwendung (1994), Framing a Novelist: Arno Schmidt Criticism 1970–1994 (1995) and most recently Streitbare Literaten. Kontroversen und Eklats in der deutschen Literatur von Adorno bis Walser (2004).