

PROJECT MUSE®

Emerging Writers Fellowship

Umi Lestari

Southeast of Now: Directions in Contemporary and Modern Art in Asia,
Volume 3, Number 2, October 2019, p. 281 (Article)

Published by NUS Press Pte Ltd

DOI: <https://doi.org/10.1353/sen.2019.0035>

➔ For additional information about this article

<https://muse.jhu.edu/article/737389>

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.
[3.135.246.193] Project MUSE (2024-04-26 06:42 GMT)

Emerging Writers Fellowship

We are delighted to announce the second recipient of the Emerging Writers Fellowship: Umi Lestari.

Abstract

“Basuki Resobowo on Film, Arts, and Theatre”

In Indonesian art history, Basuki Resobowo (1916–99) is rarely written about. His ideas on art and activism are less popular than those of S. Sudjojono, Hendra Gunawan or Affandi. However, Basuki was much involved in the art, film, theatre and literary scene in Indonesia. He acted in Kedok Ketawa (Jo An Djan, 1940); was involved in the visual department of Keimin Bunka Shidoso; joined Perfini as artistic director and scriptwriter; and was appointed as head of the visual arts department in LEKRA (Lembaga Kebudayaan Rakyat, Institute for the People's Culture). This research will target Basuki's ideas on art, film and other media. How are his ideas affecting dynamic aspects of visual culture in Indonesia? What can we learn from Basuki Resobowo's ideas?

BIOGRAPHY

Umi Lestari is a writer, researcher and film critic. She focuses on researching the history and aesthetic aspects of Indonesian cinema. She is currently teaching at the Department of Film, Universitas Media Nusantara (www.umilestari.com).