My abiding thanks to Carolyn Fay whom I met at her Houston Center many years ago when my late husband, Barry Ulanov, and I lectured there. We were struck by the quality of her creative presence manifested in the art, music, dance, and presentations. Carolyn's gift of Jung through the Fay Lecture Series, with books to follow, continues her gift of Jung's Analytical Psychology to many generations. My warm thanks to David Rosen and his committee for the honor of inviting me to do the Fay Lectures for 2012 and for his presiding over the lectures and their transformation into a book. My warm thanks to Judith Herrick Beard for her unfailing skills and kindness in typing my draft into a manuscript.
