

PROJECT MUSE®

North-South Knowledge Networks Towards Equitable Collaboration Between

Tor Halvorsen, Jorun Nossun

Published by African Books Collective

Halvorsen, Tor and Jorun Nossun.

North-South Knowledge Networks Towards Equitable Collaboration Between: Academics, Donors and Universities.

African Books Collective, 2017.

Project MUSE.muse.jhu.edu/book/51762.

➔ For additional information about this book

<https://muse.jhu.edu/book/51762>

About the authors

Anders Bjørkelo is a professor at the University of Bergen, Norway.

Tor Halvorsen is a senior researcher at the University of Bergen Global, and an associate professor in the Department of Administration and Organisation Science at the University of Bergen, Norway.

Sk Tawfique M Haque is a professor at North South University in Dhaka, Bangladesh.

John Higgins is the Arderne Chair of Literature at the University of Cape Town, South Africa.

Johnson Muchunguzi Ishengoma is a senior lecturer and head of the Department of Educational Foundations, Management and Lifelong Learning at the University of Dar es Salaam's School of Education, Tanzania.

Ishtiaq Jamil is an associate professor at the University of Bergen, Norway.

ABK Kasozi is a research associate at the Makerere Institute of Social Research in Kampala, Uganda.

Ane Landøy is head of the libraries at the University of Bergen, Norway.

Mahmood Mamdani is director of the Makerere Institute of Social Research in Kampala, Uganda, and Herbert Lehman Professor of Government at Columbia University, USA.

Joe Mlenga is a lecturer in the Department of Journalism and Media Studies at University of Malawi Polytechnic in Blantyre, Malawi.

Maria GN Musoke is professor of information science at the College of Computing and Information Sciences, Makerere University, Kampala, Uganda.

Jorun Nossom is a senior adviser at NORAD and the programme co-ordinator for the NORHED programme.

Fadwa Taha is a professor at the University of Hafr Al-Batin in Saudi Arabia and at the University of Khartoum, Sudan.

Eren Zink is a senior researcher in the Department of Cultural Anthropology and Ethnology at Uppsala University in Sweden.