

PROJECT MUSE®

---

The Way Ahead

Brzustowski, Tom

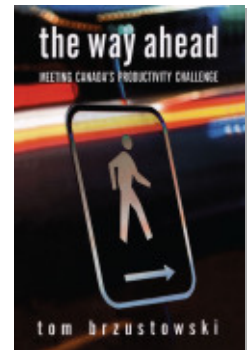

Published by University of Ottawa Press

Brzustowski, Tom.

The Way Ahead: Meeting Canada's Productivity Challenge.

University of Ottawa Press, 2008.

Project MUSE.muse.jhu.edu/book/4435.

➔ For additional information about this book

<https://muse.jhu.edu/book/4435>

Table of Contents

Preface	1
Introduction	9
1 Canada in the World	15
How Canada compares with the top economies	15
Excellence in science and engineering	20
The “small country” put-down	26
Canada’s prospects	26
2 Why Productivity Matters	31
Why it matters	33
How to increase productivity	35
3 Getting Started	39
The high-level vision: “Science the Endless Frontier”	40
The importance of Basic Research	43
Centres of Basic Research	44
The practical approach: Hong Kong Productivity Council	46
4 Sustaining our Prosperity	53
Value added	54
Commodities and innovations	56
A note on the many kinds of innovation	58

The connection between innovation, productivity, and wealth creation	60
The big picture	61
5 Time Is of the Essence	65
The Porter Admonition	66
The Innovation Strategy, R.I.P.	67
Forgacs' Conjecture	71
The cadence of innovation in industry	73
Wasted time	76
6 Innovation in Canadian Industry	79
The impacts of different sectors	80
Griller's Framework	82
The R and the D of R&D	87
The role of design	90
The cost of R&D	92
Now what?	94
Value-added manufacturing in the big picture	96
A distinctive feature on Canada's R&D landscape	98
7 How University Research Helps	103
Three main ways	103
How the Canadian system works	109
Commercializing inventions coming out of basic research	115

Community colleges	119
Government laboratories	121
8 Improving Things	125
CME 20/20	126
Six quick hits for Canadian commercialization	128
The Ontario Premier's Council	133
The new federal S&T strategy	135
Last thoughts on improving things	137
9 Preparing for the Long Term	141
Offering government programs as a system	143
Developing the capacity for joint government and business strategic planning	145
Defining opportunities strategically	149
Promoting a long-term approach to investing	151
Developing entrepreneurial managers	153
Developing our untapped human resources	155
Working to become a world marketing powerhouse	158
Growing "3-legged people"!	160
Developing a new business model for Canada	161
Glossary	171
Appendix	173
Index	179

To Fraser Mustard, for teaching experts to see the big picture