Sungkyun Journal of East Asian Studies

The Sungkyun Journal of East Asian Studies (SJEAS), published since 2001 by the Academy of East Asian Studies (AEAS), at Sungkyunkwan University, Seoul, Korea, is an international double-blind peer-reviewed journal dedicated to research on East Asian humanities. Appearing biannually, SJEAS promotes multidisciplinary research related to the former sinographic sphere or 'Sinographic Cosmopolis' prior to 1945, and thus also welcomes papers on Vietnam. Articles that stay within traditional disciplinary or regional boundaries, as well as works that explore commonalities and contrasts across East Asia or that take an interdisciplinary approach, are all welcome. SJEAS is included in the Current Contents/Arts & Humanities, Arts & Humanities Citation Index, SCOPUS, EBSCO, Project MUSE, and the Bibliography of Asian Studies.

Call for Papers

SJEAS publishes articles, research notes, and book reviews related to East Asia and the sinographic sphere (including Vietnam) before 1945. SJEAS seeks original academic papers that delve into the past and the present of the region, primarily within the field of the humanities. Research areas SJEAS prefers include philosophy, religion, art, anthropology, archaeology, literature, history, historical linguistics, and culture. Scholars considering a submission are encouraged to use multi-disciplinary approaches that transcend the conventional boundaries between these subjects. Papers from social science disciplines are also welcomed if their topics and methodologies supplement or broaden the perspectives of the humanities.

SJEAS supports academic interests and aims of its sponsor, AEAS, which promotes inter-disciplinary research on East Asia and a cross-regional approach within that area. While supporting explorations of its past that remain within traditional scholastic boundaries, SJEAS also seeks papers that deal with the region in its entirety or explore common identities and mutual contrasts found in East Asian countries.

All contributions are peer-reviewed and subject to final approval by the editorial board.

How to Prepare a Manuscript for Submission

Essays should be written in proper, grammatically correct English and not require further corrections. Manuscripts should be double-spaced throughout. A length of approximately 10,000 words is preferred for an article, including footnotes, and approximately 1,500 words for a book-review. The author's name, postal address, email address, and the title of the manuscript should appear on the cover sheet. An abstract of no more than 150 words should also be included, along with five or six key words. Sinographic terms should be accompanied by the relevant sinographs at first mention. Please use in-text citation and footnotes rather than endnotes. An up-to-date curriculum vitae should also be submitted with the manuscript.

Manuscripts can be sent as a MS word file. Contributors are encouraged to observe and follow the journal's textual conventions closely. Please refer to our Style Sheet in the Notice Board on our website. SJEAS reserves the right to make stylistic, linguistic, and grammatical changes according to the journal's standards when deemed necessary.

Romanization

SJEAS uses the following systems of Romanization: Korean – the McCune-Reischauer system (Yale system for historical linguistics)
Japanese – the Hepburn system
Chinese – the Pinyin system

Copyrights

Submission of a paper will be taken to imply that it is unpublished, that it is not being considered for publication elsewhere, and that the author will automatically agree that upon acceptance of the article its copyright will belong to the Academy of East Asian Studies, Sungkyunkwan University.

Permissions

Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material, including photographs and illustrations, for which they do not hold copyright and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

How to Submit a Manuscript

Manuscripts can be submitted electronically using the site <http://sjeas.skku.edu>.

The "Submission" button on the homepage will connect you to the journal's online manuscript system. There are separate submission buttons for "articles" and "book reviews." Please choose appropriately. Fill in the blanks in the form and attach the manuscript and curriculum vitae files. You also may send files to the managing editor through email to sjeas@skku.edu.
