T'ang Studies is a peer-reviewed interdisciplinary publication of the T'ang Studies Society. It appears once a year and is currently produced at Cornell University.

The journal is receptive to critical inquiry into all aspects of T'ang China and welcomes submissions of original research, brief communications, reference notes, as well as bibliographic materials. Submission is not limited to members of the T'ang Studies Society.

All submissions should be sent to the Editor and must carry assurance that they have been submitted exclusively to T'ang Studies. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any materials taken from other sources (e.g., quotations that exceed fair use, illustrations, charts and/or other graphics) from their respective copyright owners.

Manuscripts should be prepared in accordance to the guidelines set forth in the Chicago Manual of Style. They should be typed and double-spaced (including doublespace for quotations) on 8½" by 11" paper. Footnotes must be listed in sequence on separate sheets of paper and placed at the end of the manuscript. For proper citation format in footnotes, please refer to articles published in earlier issues of the journal. Manuscripts that do not conform to these guidelines cannot be considered and will be returned to the author.

Authors whose work is published in T'ang Studies will receive 20 complimentary copies of offprint of their contribution.
