The American Journal of Theology & Philosophy is sponsored by the Institute for American Religious and Philosophical Thought

Editorial Policy

The goal of the American Journal of Theology & Philosophy is to promote lively conversation among theologians and philosophers by providing a forum for discussions in the following areas: 1) the interface between theology and philosophy, especially as shaped by American empiricist, naturalist, process, and pragmatist traditions; 2) the development of liberal religious thought in America.

The Journal is published three times per year: in January, May, and September. Manuscripts on topics related to one or more of the areas identified above should be sent to the Editor electronically through the journal's online manuscript submission system (link below). Manuscripts should be approximately 15 to 18 (and no longer than 25) double spaced pages. We follow The Chicago Manual of Style, and use footnotes instead of endnotes. All papers are refereed using a peer-review system. Direct manuscript inquiries to Gary Slater at garyslater@gmail.com.

To submit your manuscript electronically visit: <https://www.press.uillinois.edu/journals/ajtp/ajtpsubmissions.html>
