New Towns for the Twenty-First Century

A Guide to Planned Communities Worldwide

Edited by Richard Peiser and Ann Forsyth

New Towns for the Twenty-First Century considers the ideals behind new-town development, the practice of building them, and their outcomes. A roster of international and interdisciplinary contributors examines their design, planning, finances, management, governance, quality of life, and sustainability. Case studies provide histories of new towns in the United States, Asia, Africa, and Europe and impart lessons learned from practitioners. The volume identifies opportunities afforded by new towns for confronting future challenges related to climate change, urban population growth, affordable housing, economic development, and quality of life.

Disastrous Times

Beyond Environmental Crisis in Urbanizing Asia

Edited by Eli Elinoff and Tyson Vaughan

"A welcome contribution to the critical social science of the anthropocene. Disastrous Times not only develops a 'quotidian' understanding of a sometimes abstract and theoretical concept but also demonstrates the importance of Asian research sites for reassessing what has been a primarily Euro-American debate."

—Jerome Whitington, author of Anthropogenic Rivers: The Production of Uncertainty in Lao Hydropower
