The International Journal of Evangelization and Catechetics (IJE) is a peer-reviewed, interdisciplinary journal presenting scholarly and pastoral articles in the fields of evangelization, catechetics, and liturgical catechesis with an international scope. IJE’s essays attend to advances in the human and social sciences and are faithful to the Catholic theological tradition and so make the journal an important resource for scholars, teachers in seminaries, colleges, and universities, directors of faith formation in parishes and dioceses, catechists, and others in positions of catechetical leadership and evangelization ministry. IJE is published twice-yearly in print and digital format and each issue includes a book review section. The International Journal of Evangelization and Catechetics invites scholars and practitioners to submit manuscripts in the fields of evangelization, catechetics, and liturgical catechesis to be considered for publication in the journal. Manuscripts submitted to the journal should be typically between 4,000–8,000 words. Contributions should be formatted for blind review. Name, affiliation, and contact information should be included on a separate page apart from the submission. The Chicago Manual of Style (17th edition) is our authority on matters of style. Address all contributions and related correspondence to the editor, Raymond Studzinski at studzinski@cua.edu or trs-ijec@cua.edu.
