Preservation Education & Research (PER) is one of the leading academic journals focusing on disseminating peer-reviewed scholarship in historic preservation and related academic disciplines: heritage conservation, cultural resources management, preservation law, preservation economics and finance, building and landscape conservation, urban conservation, and public history.

Support for the publication of this volume has been provided by the National Council for Preservation Education. The National Council for Preservation Education (NCPE) launched Preservation Education & Research in 2007 as part of its mission to exchange and disseminate information and ideas concerning historic environment education, current developments and innovations in conservation, and the improvement of historic environment education programs and endeavors in the United States and abroad.

SUBMISSIONS Direct original submissions and books for review to the journal editor, Emily Bergeron, at emily.bergeron@uky.edu. Manuscripts should follow the style suggestions included in the latest edition of The Chicago Manual of Style. For details about what to include with your submission, consult the PER publication guidelines, available at <http://www.ncpe.us/publications/manuscript-submission-guidelines>. Manuscripts are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the year, but submission by February 15 will help ensure that accepted materials are published in the next annual volume. All submissions are peer reviewed in a double-blind process.

SUBSCRIPTIONS For our current subscription rates, please see our website: <http://www.upress.umn.edu>. Preservation, Education, & Research is available online through Project MUSE at <http://muse.jhu.edu>.

Address subscription orders, changes of address, and business correspondence (including requests for permission and advertising orders) to the University of Minnesota Press: attn Preservation Education & Research, 111 Third Avenue South Suite 290, Minneapolis, MN, 55401.
