

The Journal of Global Postcolonial Studies

Editor:

Hans-Georg Erney, Georgia Southern University
herney@georgiasouthern.edu

Senior Associate Editor:

Rebecca Weaver-Hightower, Virginia Tech
raweav1@yahoo.com

Editorial Assistant

Michael Basista

Editorial Board:

Deepika Bahri, Emory University
Gerd Bayer, Friedrich-Alexander Universität
Timothy Brennan, University of Minnesota
Alexander Fyfe, University of Georgia
Namita Goswami, Indiana State University
Jerod Hollyfield, Carson-Newman University
Erin James, University of Idaho
Gautam Kundu, Georgia Southern University (Emeritus)
Vinay Lal, UCLA
Simon Lewis, College of Charleston
Russell McDougall, University of New England (Emeritus)
Pushpa Parekh, Spelman College
Jahan Ramazani, University of Virginia
Esra Santesso, University of Georgia
Asha Sen, University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire
Julietta Singh, University of Richmond
Christine Sizemore, Spelman College (Emerita)

The Journal of Global Postcolonial Studies (formerly The Journal of Commonwealth and Postcolonial Studies) publishes multi-disciplinary and pedagogical articles, interviews, and creative writings on the literatures, histories, politics, and arts, addressing traditional postcolonial concerns as well as existing and emerging fields of inquiry like Latin American Studies, the Global South, and Indigenous Studies, among others. We explore the convergences and divergences between these fields, especially in their awareness of history and the relations of power. We seek to present global societies in their diversity, interdependence, complexity, and contingency.

Manuscripts for publication must be written in English, be between 6,000 and 8,000 words, and follow the latest edition of the MLA Handbook. Manuscripts, in .docx format (MS Word), should be submitted through our online submission portal at <https://journals.upress.ufl.edu/jgpps/submit>