EDITORIAL ADVISORY BOARD

YONI APPLEBAUM  The Atlantic
PETER CARMICHAEL  Gettysburg College
MARIA CARRILLO  Harvard University
AMANDA CLAYBAUGH  Lincoln Memorial Shrine
CATHERINE CLINTON  University of Texas at San Antonio
LISA TENDRICH FRANK  Author and Historian
BARBARA GANNON  University of Central Florida
SARAH LEWIS  Harvard University
TAMIKA NUNLEY  Cornell University
SUSAN O’DONOVAN  University of Memphis
PAUL QUIGLEY  Virginia Tech
BRITT RUSERT  University of Massachusetts, Amherst
GWENDOLYN DUBOIS SHAW  University of Pennsylvania
NATALIA TRETHEWEY  Northwestern University
EMILY WEST  University of Reading, United Kingdom

FORMER EDITORS

BRIAN CRAIG MILLER  Mission College
LESLEY J. GORDON  The University of Alabama
WILLIAM BLAIR  Pennsylvania State University
JOHN T. HUBBELL  Kent State University
ROBERT R. DYKSTRA  State University of New York at Albany
JAMES I. ROBERTSON JR.  Virginia Polytechnic Institute
CLYDE C. WALTON  University of Colorado

The Kent State University Press

Coming Soon

HIGH-BOUNTY MEN IN THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC
Reclaiming Their Honor
Edwin P. Rutan II

Through expert use of statistical data, blended with astute deployment of a variety of other sources of information, Edwin P. Rutan II convincingly offers us a brand-new interpretation of the men who joined the Union army during the last half of the Civil War. It is a positive and balanced portrayal of these ‘late-war’ soldiers that turns the traditional view of them on its head. This is a much-needed analysis of a vital cohort of troops who were instrumental in saving the Union in 1865, and it is a brilliant addition to Civil War soldier studies.” —Earl J. Hess, professor emeritus, Lincoln Memorial University

TABERNACLES IN THE WILDERNESS
The US Christian Commission on the Civil War Battlefront
Rachel Williams

THE RADICAL ADVOCACY OF WENDELL PHILLIPS
Abolitionism, Democracy, and Public Interest Law
Peter Charles Hoffer

THE CREATION OF A CRUSADER
Senator Thomas Morris and the Birth of the Antislavery Movement
David C. Crago

Recent and Recommended

Available from www.KentStateUniversityPress.com, 800-247-6553, or wherever books are sold.

Use discount code ENJOY30 for 30% OFF all KSUP books through 12/31/24