From Black Power to Black Studies

Rojas, Fabio

Published by Johns Hopkins University Press

Rojas, Fabio. From Black Power to Black Studies: How a Radical Social Movement Became an Academic Discipline.

Figures and Tables

Figures

3.1. Jimmy Garrett 62
3.2. Black Studies Curriculum Catalog Cover 63
3.3. The Gater Incident 65
3.4. George Murray and Jack Alexis 70
3.5. Nathan Hare 71
3.6. S. I. Hayakawa with Ronald Reagan 84
6.1. Institutions of Higher Education with a Black Studies Program 170
6.2. Institutions of Higher Education with a Black Studies Program, by Carnegie Category 171

Tables

1.1. Model of How Movements Change Bureaucracies 16
5.1. Ford Foundation Grants for Black Studies 138
5.2. Characteristics of Black Studies Grant Applicants and Population of Institutions Awarding Four-Year Degrees 157
5.3. Effects of University Status and Campus Unrest on Number of Black Studies Applications to Ford Foundation, 1969–1973 158
5.4. Effects of Applicant Characteristics on Log-Odds of Receiving Ford Foundation Grant by 1973 160
5.5. Justifications Offered for Support of Black Studies Programs 162
6.1. Black Studies Program Creation 176
6.2. Estimates of Protest Interaction Effects 180
6.3. Characteristics of Africana Survey Respondents 183
6.4. Degree Data by Broad Area 185
6.5. Doctoral Degree by Discipline 186
6.6. Doctoral Degree by Institutional Type 187
6.7. Graduate Schools That Awarded at Least 10 Ph.D.’s to Black Studies Professors 188
6.8. Institutions Where Graduates from Selected Universities Teach 189
6.9. Appointment Status within Types of Universities 190
6.10. Percent of Respondents Who Teach African American Studies 192
6.11. Teaching Introduction to Black Studies 194
6.12. Total Number of Departments in Which Respondent Has Taught Introduction to Black Studies 195
6.13. Respondents’ Attitudes toward Issues in Africana Studies 197
6.15. Ordered Logit Model of Belief That Black Studies Has Its Own Research Methodology 199
6.16. Respondents’ Perceptions of Their Own Program 200
6.17. Estimated Importance of 18 Black Studies Texts 202
A.1. Predictors of Participation in Survey of Issues in Africana Studies 236