Forming American Politics

Tully, Alan

Published by Johns Hopkins University Press

Tully, Alan.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/71583
Contents

Maps viii
Preface ix
Acknowledgments xi
Introduction 1

PART I • The Contours of Provincial Politics 9

One / Seventeenth-Century Beginnings 11
Conquest and Conflict on the Hudson 13
Utopian Dissonance on the Delaware 27
“There is not after all a single kind of strife . . .” 44

Two / The Proving of Popular Power 49
Opportunistic New Yorkers 51
Aggressive Pennsylvanians 68
“We are not striving for Grants of Power but what are essential . . .” 86

Three / The Pursuit of Popular Rights 92
Freedom of Speech and the Zenger Trial 94
Liberty of Conscience and Provost William Smith 106
The Character of the “unalienable Rights of the People” 116
Contents / vii

Ten / The Legitimation of Partisan Politics 390
  Interests, Polity, and Party 391
  New York and the Politics of Contention 400
  Pennsylvania and the Politics of Party 407
  Toward a New Politics 413

Conclusion 416

Appendix 431

Abbreviations 435

Bibliographical Note 437

Notes 439

Index 553