Index

Académie des Sciences, 28, 39
“Active” citizens, 3, 60, 63
Alsace, 103
Ami du Peuple, 26–29, 31, 32, 85; circulation of, 29; content of, 27–28, 82–83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2); distribution of, 27; financing of, 27; format of, 27; historical survey, 26–29; price of, 34 (table 2.1); time of existence of, 11–12, 27; tone of, 27–28
—views held: on counterrevolutionary plots, 58, 106; on the king, 112 (fig. 5.4); on Lafayette, 106, 110 (fig. 5.3); on Mayor Bailly, 109 (fig. 5.2); on National Assembly, 115, 116 (fig. 5.5), 118; on officiers, 49; on Paris municipality, 109 (fig. 5.1); on popular action and force, 64; progressive tax proposed, 69–70. See also Marat, Jean-Paul, editor; views held
Annales Patriotiques, 15
Année Littéraire, 31–32
Anoblis, 39
Antifeminism, 45
Aristocrates, (aristocratie), 39, 42, 48–59, 72, 93, 108, 125; definition of, 48–49, 51; exclusion from cultural sphere urged, 71–72; groups included in, 48–51; justice and tolerance toward, 43; property of, respected, 44, 70–71, 72
—radical press criticism of, 49–59, 79, 80, 87, 101; of their counterrevolutionary efforts, 52, 54–58, 76, 79, 80, 86, 87, 93–96, 97–98, 99, 106–7, 113–14; of their immorality, 42, 45, 51–52; of their use of wealth, 52–54
Armed forces, 67–68
Artisans, 39, 40–41
Artois, Comte d’, 28, 79
Arts, 71, 72, 77
Assembly, right of, 62, 79
Assignats, 39, 50, 90, 99
Audouin, Pierre-Jean, 17–19, 20, 83, 86, 87; biographical data, 18–19; and civil liberties, 80, 100; as editor of Journal Universel, 12, 17–18, 19, 33, 34
—views held: on citizen action, 63; on clergy, 56, 98; on Cordeliers and Jacobins, 100; on counterrevolutionary plots, 54, 56, 63, 93, 102, 106; on force of philosophie, 46, 53; on gambling, 45, 46; on human “nature,” 53; on the king, 112, 113; on Lafayette, 104, 106; on Mayor Bailly, 103; on ministers, 93, 94; on morality as prerequisite for liberty, 46; on National Assembly, 46, 116–17, 118; on National Guard, 107, 108; on Paris municipality, 101, 102; on peuple, 41; on peuple as judge of theater, 72; on popular sovereignty, 60; on les riches, 49, 52. See also Journal Universel
Aulard, Alphonse, 2, 26, 128
Austria, 95. See also Leopold II, Emperor
Austrian Committee, 54, 97–98
Avignon, 49
Avocats, 39, 48, 50
Bailly, Jean Sylvain, 79, 100–101; radical press treatment of, 12, 62, 92, 101, 102–3, 108, 109 (fig. 5.2), 120–21, 122 (table 5.2)
Barnave, Antoine Pierre, 86
Bassville, Nicolas-Jean Hugou de, 15–16, 34
Bastille Day, 9, 21, 32, 79, 108, 123; first anniversary celebration, 42, 105
Belgians, revolt of, 49
Besenval, Baron, 2

179
INDEX

Bonne-Savardin, chevalier de, 79
Book reviews, 75, 76, 77
Bouillé, François, 105
Bourbon dynasty, 110
Bourgeoisie: definitions, 39; landed, 39; pauvre, 40; petite, 41
Brabant: Austrian claim to, 60–61; revolution in, 19
Breteuil, Baron Louis Auguste de, 55
Brigands, 48, 50, 51
Brisot, Jacques Pierre, 15, 77
Broglie, Maréchal de, 55
Brotherhood, 42–43, 46, 51, 125

Cafés, 1, 2
Calonne, Charles-Alexandre de, 55
Camus, Armand, 86
Capital punishment, 66
Carra, Jean-Louis, 15, 16, 33, 34
Castries, duc de, 44, 62, 63
Catholic church: radical press coverage of, 77, 92, 98–99, 115
Cazalès, Jacques de, 86
Censorship, 4

C'est en fait de nous (pamphlet by Marat), 64
Champ de Mars massacre, 9, 15, 21, 32, 108, 121
Charles V (Chenier), 76
Châtelet, 29, 80, 83, 86, 94
Chaumette, Anaxagoras, 25, 26, 34
Chenier, André, 76
Church. See Catholic church; Clergy
Cicé, Champion de, 94
Civil Constitution of the Clergy, 98, 108 (table 5.1), 114
Civil liberties, 48, 79–80; press coverage of, 79–80, 82 (fig. 4.1), 99–100
Civil war, alleged aim of aristocrates, 55, 57, 106
Clergy, 39; lower (parish), 41, 98; luxury and wealth of, 52, 98; radical attacks on, 56, 98–99; upper (non-parish), 40, 48, 49, 50, 51, 93, 98. See also Civil Constitution of Clergy
Clubs, 1, 2, 99–100; “le club 89,” 99; royalist and moderate, 54. See also Cordelier Club; Jacobin Club
Cobb, Richard, 6, 127, 128
Colombe, Mme., 32
Commerçants, 39
Commune, Paris, 19, 26
Constitutional monarchy, 78, 113
Constitution of 1791, 59, 60, 117; amendment procedures, 60, 62; Louis XVI and, 113
Convention: Audouin in, 19; Desmoulins in, 21; Fréron in, 33; Marat in, 29
Corday, Charlotte, 29
Cordelier Club, 2, 6, 12, 37, 78
Cordelier district, 2, 14, 37, 99
Cordeliers: attitudes and ideology of, 4–6, 37–72, 124–29; compared to Jacobins, 126–27; compared to sans-culottes, 42, 126–27; concept of popular sovereignty of, 2–3, 4, 38, 60–62, 65, 68, 125–28; in municipal government, 2–3; origin of, 2; protection of Marat by, 29, 99; as radical press heroes, 92, 99–100, 120
Council of Five Hundred, 19
Counterrevolutionary efforts, 54–58, 76, 93, 115; king believed involved in, 113–15; radical press emphasis on, 79, 80, 82 (fig. 4.1), 86, 87, 93–96, 97–98, 99, 101–2, 103, 106–7, 113–14, 117–18
Court at Versailles, 92, 93, 95–96, 112, 115. See also Nobility, court
Courtisanes, 45
Courts, justice, 78
Cultivateurs, 39–40
Cultural goals, 71–72, 125

Daily newspapers, statistics on, 8–12
Danton, Georges Jacques, 2, 5, 12, 15, 16, 26, 33
Dantonists, 21
d’Argis, Boucher, 102
Darnton, Robert, 7, 18
Declaration of the Rights of Man and Citizen, 96, 97, 114, 115, 117, 123; on freedom of press, 5; on popular sovereignty, 3, 59, 115
Desmoulins, Lucie-Camille-Simplice, 19, 22, 32, 35, 80; biographical data, 20–21; as editor of Révolutions de France et de Brabant, 12, 19–20, 34, 35; execution of, 21, 33
—views held, 71; on church doctrine, 99; on citizen action, 63; on clerics, 49; on counterrevolutionary plots, 54, 57, 93, 94, 103; on Jacobins, 100; on the king, 66, 112; on Lafayette, 104, 105; on love of luxury, 51, 53; on Mayor Bailly, 102–3; on ministers, 93–94; on National Assembly, 63, 115; on National Guard, 105; on Paris Municipality, 101; on people, 41, 42, 43, 44; on people’s instinct and reason, 46–47; on popular sovereignty, 60–61; on the queen, 21, 97; on a republic, 66; on voting limitations, 63. See also Révolutions de France et de Brabant
Directory, the, 19, 33, 129
Disfranchisement, 3, 60, 63, 113
Districts, administrative, 1, 2, 3, 100–101, 102–3
Dufour, M., 27
Duportail, Lebègue, 114
Duport de Tertre, Adrien, 95

Ecclesiastics. See Clergy
Economics: goals of Cordeliers and Jacobins versus sans-culottes, 126–27; limited reform proposals, 44, 46, 69–71, 125, 126, 128
Electoral process. See Franchise
Emigres, expropriation of, 70
Encyclopedists, 47
Enfantin, Marcel, 32
Enlightenment, 35, 36. See also Philosophes
Equality: economic, limited proposals for, 44, 46, 69–71, 125, 126, 128; legal, 46; political, 51–53, 60–63, 70; social, 126, 127, 128
Estates-General, 5, 60, 67, 100
Executions, 66; Marat’s demands for, 64
Executive branch of government, 66–67
Extreme left, defined, 1–2, 4
Fabre d’Eglantine, Philippe, 25, 26, 34
Family, emphasis on, 45
Fermiers, 40
Fermiers-généraux, 70
Fête of Federation, 88, 89 (fig. 4.3), 90, 109 (fig. 5.1)
Feuillants, 29
Feuille du Jour, 1
Financiers, 39, 48, 49–50, 51
Fiscal crisis, 94; treatment in radical press of, 76–77
Food crises, 54–55, 76
Force, use of, 2, 62–64
Foreign news reporting, 75–76, 87
Foreign powers, collusion with counterrevolutionary aristocrates alleged, 57, 58, 76, 87, 93, 95, 97–98
France Libre, La, 21
Franchise: limitations on (“active” versus “passive” status), 3, 60, 61, 63, 113; role of wealth in, 52, 61; universal male, radical demands for, 61
Franklin, Benjamin, 87
Freedom of expression. See Press, freedom of Free trade, 70–71, 125, 126, 127
French Revolution, ideological versus nonideological theories of, 6–7, 128–29
Fréron, Elie, 31–32
Fréron, Stanislas, 31–34, 78; biographical data, 31–33; and civil liberties, 79, 80; collaborator of Révolutions de France et de Brabant, 20, 32; editor of Orateur du Peuple, 20, 31, 32–33, 34; penchant for violence, 64—views held, 108; on church doctrine, 99; on citizen action and force, 64–65; on Cordeliers, 99; on counterrevolutionary plots, 54, 55–56, 57, 93, 94, 95, 96, 102, 103; on court society, 93; on the king, 113, 114; on Lafayette, 105, 106, 120; on Mayor Bailly, 103, 120; on ministers, 93, 94, 95, 96; on National Assembly, 64–65, 115; on officiers, 49; on Paris Municipality, 102, 120; on Parlements, 50; on philosophie, 46; on voting privilege and wealth, 52. See also Orateur du Peuple
Gallois, Léonard, 22
Gambling, 45, 46
Garnery, M., 19–20
Gelé, D. J., 17
Gens de lettres, 40, 41
Girondins, 7, 15, 17, 29, 127
Godechot, Jacques, 1
Gottschalk, Louis, 28
Gouvelet, M., 79
Government: constitutional monarchy, 78, 113; popular limitations advocated, 65–68, 125; radicals’ suspicion of, 65, 67; representative, Cordeliers’ views of, 2–3, 4, 68; republic, 66, 67
Grain distribution, 93, 94, 102, 112, 117; dealers, 48, 50
“Grub-street” radicals, 7, 18, 26, 35, 123, 126; attitude toward queen, 96, 97, 98; view of decadence of aristocrates, 52
Guillement, M., 22

Herissant, Veuve, 17, 27
Histoire générale de la presse française, L’ (Bellanger et al.), 8
Hôtel de Ville, 101
Imprimerie de Marat, L', 27
Income parity, 43-44
Income tax, progressive, 69, 70, 125
Indigens, 40, 61; Marat's doubts about, 41, 61-62; morality of, 41, 44
Inheritance law, 69
Intellectuals, pensioned, 39

Jacobins, 7, 15, 19, 21, 33, 86, 126-27; compared to Cordeliers, 126-27; compared to sans-culottes, 126-27; "most advanced," 126-27; opposition to ministers, 94; radical press coverage of, 92, 99-100, 116, 120; versus Girondins, 7, 127

Jeunesse dorée, 33

Journal d'État et du Citoyen (later Mercure National), 13-15

Journal Universel, 17-19, 27; circulation of, 19; content of, 18, 82-87; distribution of, 18; format of, 17, 18; historical survey, 17-19; number of issues published, 17; price of, 18; reporting on National Assembly, 77-78, 83, 86; time of existence of, 12, 17; tone of, 18—views held: on the aristocratie and luxury, 52; on gambling, 45; on the king, 112 (fig. 5.4); on Lafayette, 104, 110 (fig. 5.3); on Mayor Bailly, 109 (fig. 5.2); on National Assembly, 115-16; on Paris Municipality, 109 (fig. 5.1). See also Audouin, Pierre-Jean, editor; views held

Journée des Poignards, 100, 121
Judiciary, radicals' views of, 66, 67
Juries, powers of, 66
Justice, 43, 46, 66

Kérailio, Louise Félicité Guinement de (Louise Robert), 86; biographical data, 14, 15; and civil liberties, 79; as editor of Mercure National, 14-15, 16, 34—views held: on citizen action, 62-63; on family and women's role, 45; on Lafayette, 105, 106; on people, 43; on people's self-education, 47. See also Mercure National

Kérailio, Louis GuINement de, 14-15, 16, 33, 34

Labenette, M., 33
Labor associations, 70

Laboureurs, 39

Lafayette, Marquis de, 79, 95, 110-11; commander of National Guard, 3, 68, 100-101; and mutiny at Nancy, 105-6
—radical press treatment of, 12, 92, 103-7, 110 (fig. 5.3), 120-22; criticism, 18, 64, 99, 103, 104-7, 108, 110 (fig. 5.3); praise, 101, 103-4, 108, 110 (fig. 5.3)

Laffrey, Jean-Jacques, 20

Lameth, Charles Malo François de, 44, 87, 95

Land distribution, 44

Landowners, 39, 40, 50, 69, 70

La Poype, Jean François, 32

La Tour du Pin, Jean Frédéric, 55, 94

Laurens, M., 32

Lebrun-Tondu, Pierre, 16-17, 34

Lefebvre, Georges, 5

Lefort and Company (printer), 16

Legal profession, 48, 49, 50, 51

Legislative Assembly, 10, 120

Legislative bodies: attention of press to, 78, 82-83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2); open proceedings demanded, 65; question of recall, 60, 65; radicals' concept of, 65, 67

Leopold II, Emperor of Austria, 60-61

Libel laws, 5

Liberty: individual versus collective, 48; prerequisites for, 42, 46, 48

Lille, L. Potier de, 15

Literature, revolutionary, 71-72

Loi agraire, 44, 70

London, political press of, 10-11

Louis XVI, king of France, 58, 79, 90; address to National Assembly, 112, 113; attempt to journey to Saint-Cloud, 114, 121; believed involved in counterrevolutionary efforts, 113-15; and Constitution, 113; and Declaration of Rights, 96, 114; departure of aunts of, 121; flight to Varennes, 66, 67, 103, 108, 114, 118, 121; ministers as scapegoats for, 96, 112

Loustallot, Elisée, 25, 34, 58, 66, 105

Luzerne, César-Henri, 55, 94

Malouet, Pierre Victor, 77, 89

Manège, 65-66

Manouvriers, 39, 40

Manuel, Pierre, 18
INDEX

Marat, Jean-Paul, 20, 26–29, 32, 35, 76, 87; biographical data, 28–29; causes of his radical leaning, 28; and civil liberties, 79; editor of Ami du Peuple, 12, 26, 27–28, 33, 34; and execution of Carra, 15; Malouet’s attack on, in National Assembly, 89, 90; murder of, 29; paranoia of, 28; versus Paris Municipality, 29, 64, 99, 102; penchant for violence, 64
—views held: on aristocrates, 51, 52–53; on counterrevolutionary plots, 54–55, 56, 57–58, 93–94, 95–96, 97, 102, 103, 106; on court nobility, 49, 93–94, 95; on executions, 64; on grain dealers and shortages, 50; on human “nature,” 53; on ills of luxury, 44; on indigens, 41, 61–62; on the king, 64, 112, 113–14; on Lafayette, 12, 26, 27–28, 33, 34; and execution of Carra, 15; Malouet’s attack on, in National Assembly, 89, 90; murder of, 29; paranoia of, 28; versus Paris Municipality, 29, 64, 99, 102; penchant for violence, 64

Marchand, Pierre-Sylvain, 25–26, 34
Marché, Albert, 128
Marché, Louis-Sebastien, 15
Mercier, 40
Military, the, 67–68
Military trials, abolition urged, 68
Militia, 67, 68. See also National Guard
Ministers, 83; attention of press to, 64, 78, 92, 93–96, 112, 115; of midsummer 1789, listed, 94; recall of November 1790, 95; of 1790, 95
Mirabeau, Comte de, 5, 79, 86
Moderates, political, 54, 61
Monarchy: constitutional, 78, 113; press treatment of, 66–67, 78, 92, 96–98; radicals’ views of, 66–67, 111, 113
Montesquieu, Baron Charles Louis de, 47
Montmorin, Saint Herenn, 94, 95
Morality, 42–46; of aristocrates, 42, 45, 51–52; of indigens, 41, 44; of the peuple, 42–43, 44–46, 54, 56, 62; as prerequisite for liberty, 42, 46, 48; women in public life and, 45
Moutain (Montagnards), 29
Municipalities, 78. See also Paris Municipality

Nancy, 79; armed mutiny at, 4, 79–80, 105–6; newspaper coverage of massacre of troops at, 89 (fig. 4.3), 90, 105, 106, 118

Napoleon Bonaparte, 19, 33, 129
National Assembly, 1–2, 81–83, 94, 112; accused of counterrevolutionary efforts, 117–18; assignats debate in, 90; beginnings of, 3; Commerce Committee, 64; Constitutional Committee, 64; constraints imposed on popular sovereignty by, 3–4, 59–60, 61, 63, 113, 117–18; demise of, 9–10; Jacobins in, 99, 100, 116; Louis XVI’s address in, 112, 113; Manège (meeting hall), 65–66; Marat’s battle with Malouet in, 89, 90; and Marat’s C’est en fait de nous, 64 —radical press treatment of, 77–78, 79, 82–83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2), 86, 92, 99, 115, 116 (fig. 5.5), 117–18, 120–21, 122 (table 5.2); exhortations and criticism, 43, 46, 49, 56, 63, 64–65, 86, 115, 116 (fig. 5.5), 117–18; praise, 115, 116 (fig. 5.5), 117; proceedings reported, 77–78, 81, 83, 86
National fête. See Fête of Federation
National Guard, 3, 4, 56, 67, 68, 80, 86, 94; Cordelier battalion of, 4; creation of, 100–101
—radical press treatment of, 78, 92, 103, 104, 107–8, 115, 120; criticism, 104–5, 107–8; praise, 101, 107
“Nature” of man, 47, 53–54, 58
Necker, Jacques, 86, 92, 93–94, 95, 110, 117
Négociants, 49, 50
Newspapers. See Press
Nobility, 48–49, 50; abolition of, 43, 108 (table 5.1); court, 49, 51, 93
Nyon, N. H., 14, 15
October Days, 86, 108, (table 5.1)
Officeholding, public, requirements for, 60, 61
Officiers, 40, 48, 49
Old Regime, 67; luxury and debauchery of, 40, 45; newspaper reporting during, 75–76, 91
Open government, demands for, 54, 65
Orateur du Peuple, 30–33, 79, 81, 85; content of, 31, 82–83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2), 86; format of, 31; historical survey, 31–33; price of, 31; time of existence of, 12, 31; tone of, 31 —views held: on counterrevolutionary plots, 54, 55, 56, 106, 107; on the king, 112 (fig. 5.4); on Lafayette, 106, 107, 110 (fig. 5.3); on man as “stupid beast,” 53; on Mayor Bailly, 109 (fig. 5.2); on National Assembly, 116 (fig. 5.5); on National Guard, 107; on Paris Municipality, 109 (fig. 5.1). See also Freron, Stanislas, editor; views held
Orléans, duke of, 80, 86, 93
Ouvriers, 39, 41
Pamphlets, prerevolutionary, 6
Paris: Girondist opposition, 127; local administrative units, 2, 100–101, 102–3; Parlement, 50; population of, in 1790, 9; starvation in, 54–55, 102
Paris Municipality, 2; and civil liberties, 99–100; creation of, 100–101; encounters with Marat, 29, 64, 99
—radical press treatment of, 77, 92, 101–2, 108, 109 (fig. 5.1), 115, 120–21; criticism, 64, 99, 101–2, 108, 109 (fig. 5.1); praise, 101, 102, 109 (fig. 5.1)
Parlements, 50, 51, 55, 101
Participatory politics. See Political action, popular
“Passive” citizens, 3, 108
Pauvres, 40. See also Indigens
Pensioners, 39. See also Rentiers
Petite bourgeoisie, 41
Petition, right of, 60
Peuple, 38–48, 54, 58–59, 72, 125; brotherhood of, 42–43, 46, 51, 125; definitions of, 39–42; groups excluded from, 39, 40–41; groups included in, 39–42; judicial power advocated for, 66; menu, 6–7; morality of, 42–43, 44–46, 54, 56, 62; versus petite bourgeoisie, 41; political participation urged, 62–66, 67–68; reason and instinct of (philosophie), 46–48, 53, 56, 62; sans-culottes’ definition of, 42; “veto” power advocated, 65, 68
Philinte de Molière, Le (Fabre d’Eglantine), 26
Philosophes, 31–32, 47, 67
Philosophie (reason), 46–48, 53–54, 56; lack in aristocrates, 51
Play reviews, 76
Political action, popular: appeals for, 62–65, 67–68; emphasis of press reporting on, 78–79, 80, 81, 82–83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2), 90, 91
Political power, wealth as basis of, 51–53, 61
Pompadour, Mme. de, 45
Popular action. See Political action, popular
Popular sovereignty, 37–39, 59 68, 81, 91, 101; Bailly accused of actions against, 102–3; concept held by radicals, 2–3, 4, 38, 60–62, 65, 68, 125–28; constraints imposed on, by National Assembly, 3–4, 59–60, 61, 63, 113, 117–18; defined in Declaration of Rights, 3, 59, 115; Louis XVI believed in favor of, 110, 112, 113
“Power struggle” theory, 128
“Premature class struggle” theory, 128
Press: centrist, 77, 78, 79, 80, 83, 86, 90; freedom of, 5, 9, 64, 71, 79, 80, 90; prerevolutionary, content of, 75–76
—Parisian, 1789–91, as a whole, 7–11, 77, 78; statistics on, 8–10
—radical, 11–12; basic nature of, 4–7; comparison of general characteristics of six selected journals, 33, 34 (table 2.1), 36; content, 35, 73–81, 82–83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2), 90–91, 92, 124–28; coverage of events in, 73–81, 82–83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2), 84–87, 88 (fig. 4.2), 89 (fig. 4.3), 90–91, 92, 124–25; coverage of institutions and individuals in, 73–78, 81, 82–83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2), 92–108, 109 (fig. 5.1, 5.2), 110 (fig. 5.3), 112 (fig. 5.4), 113–15, 116 (fig. 5.5), 117–21, 122 (table 5.2, fig. 5.6), 125; financing arrangements, 33; formats, 33; historical survey of six selected journals, 13–36; journalists, 35–36, 37, 122–23; prices of, 34 (table 2.1), 35; printing and marketing arrangements, 35; shifts of opinion examined, 100–123, 124; “sources,” 74–79; times of existence of six selected journals, 12
Price, Dr., 87
Printing technology, 5–6
Procureurs, 39, 40
Prolétares, 39, 40
Property, private, 44, 70–71, 72
Prudhomme, Louis-Marie, 18; biographical data, 22; and civil liberties, 99; as editor of Révolutions de Paris, 12, 22, 25, 34
—views held: on avocats, 50; on citizen action and violence, 63–64; on clergy, 98; on Cordeliers, 99; on counterrevolutionary plots, 55, 56, 58, 94; on court society, 93; on faith in morality, 46; on financiers, 49–50; on gambling, 45; on “honorable indigens,” 41; on human “nature,” 53; on the king, 67, 113, 120; on Lafayette, 105, 120; on luxury, 44, 51, 93, 98; on ministers, 94; on the National Assembly, 115, 117, 120; on the peuple, 39, 41; on peuple’s reason and instinct, 47; on public welfare, 70; on the queen, 97; on right to assemble, 62. See also Révolutions de Paris
Public debt, 70
Publiciste Parisien, Le, Journal Politique, Libre et Impartial, 27
Public welfare, 70, 77. See also Subsistence, minimum, advocacy of Radicalism, defined, 1–2, 4
Reason, 46–48, 53–54, 56, 62; as prerequisite for liberty, 46, 48
Recall of officials, demands for, 62, 65
“Release of capitalist enterprise” theory, 128
Rentiers, 39, 40; sans-culottes’ view of, 42
Representative government, Cordeliers’ view of, 2–3, 4, 68
Republic, radicals’ suggestions for, 66, 67
Révolutions de France et de Brabant, 19–21, 80; circulation of, 20; content of, 20, 82–83 (figs. 4.1, 4.2), 86; distribution of, 22; financing of, 20, 35; format of, 19, 20; Fréron as collaborator, 20, 32; historical survey, 19–21; price of, 19; time of existence of, 11 (fig. 1.2), 12, 19; tone of, 20
—views held: on counterrevolutionary efforts, 95, 106; on the king, 112 (fig. 5.4); on Lafayette, 104, 105, 106, 110 (fig. 5.3); on Mayor Bailly, 109 (fig. 5.2); on monarchy, 67; on National Assembly, 116 (fig. 5.5); on Paris Municipality, 109 (fig. 5.1); on popular sovereignty, 60–61; on voting limitations, 63. See also Desmoines, Lucie-Camille-Philippe, editor
Révolutions de l’Europe, 16
Révolutions de Paris, 16, 22–26, 43, 80; circulation of, 22; collaborators, 25–26; content of, 22–25, 82–83, 86; financing of, 22; format of, 22; historical survey, 22–26; reporting on National Assembly, 77–78; time of existence of, 11 (fig. 1.2), 12; tone of, 25 —views held, 46; on aristocrates, 51; on clergy, 52; on counterrevolutionary efforts, 54, 55, 95; on freedom based on reason, 48; on “honorable indigens,” 41; on justice and judiciary, 66; on the king, 112 (fig. 5.4); on Lafayette, 104, 110 (fig. 5.3); on Mayor Bailly, 102, 103, 109 (fig. 5.2); on ministers, 94, 95; on National Assembly, 116 (fig. 5.5); on National Guard, 107; on Paris Municipality, 101, 109 (fig. 5.1); on petite bourgeoisie, 40–41; on revolutionary literature, 71. See also Desmoulins, Lucie-Camille-Philippe, editor
Riches, 48, 49–50, 51
Riquetti-Cravatte, André, 79
Robert, François, 15–17, 20, 25, 83, 86, 87; biographical data, 15; and civil liberties, 79; as editor of Mercure National, 15, 16–17, 33, 34, 35
—views held: on counterrevolutionary plotting, 106; on the king, 113, 114; on Lafayette, 105, 106; on ministers, 95; on National Assembly, 118; on peuple, 43; praise of Jacobins, 99; on a republic, 66. See also Mercure National

Robert, Louise. See Keralio, Louise Félicité Guinent de

Robespierre, Maximilien de, 15, 19, 21, 26, 33, 126, 127

Rohan, cardinal of, 87

Rousseau, Jean Jacques, 44, 47

Royal court. See Court at Versailles

Royalists, 64; clubs, 54

Rudé, George, 6, 128

Rural life, treatment in radical press, 76, 77

Saint-Cloud, king’s effort for journey to, 114, 121

Saint-Priest, Guignard, 55, 57, 94

Sans-culottes, 6–7, 26, 126–28; compared to Cordeliers, 42, 126–27; compared to Jacobins, 126–27; definition of peuple by, 42

Sartine, M., 55

Sections, administrative, 1, 2, 103

Shopkeepers, 40–41

Sieyès, Abbé, 3

Soboul, Albert, 6, 71, 126, 127, 128

Social welfare, 70, 77, 126, 127, 128

Sociétés populaires, 54

Speech, freedom of, 71, 79

Starvation, 54–55, 102

Strasbourg, 87

Subsistence, minimum, advocacy of, 44, 70, 125, 126

Suffrage. See Franchise

Sydenham, Michael J., 7, 127, 128

Taine, H., 128, 129

Taxation: as basis for voting status, 3; progressive, proposals for, 69, 70, 125

Terror, the, 19, 21, 33, 41, 128

Theaters, 63–64, 71–72

Théâtre Français section, 2

Theory of circumstances, 128

Thermidorians, 19, 129

Third estate, 3, 110

Thompson, Eric, 2

Thompson, J. M., 4

Toulon, massacre at, 33

Tournon, Alexandre, 16, 25, 34

Tyrannicides, proposal for, 63, 64

Unemployed, the, 41

Varennes, royal flight to, 66, 67, 103, 108, 114, 118, 121

Vatican hierarchy, 49

Ventôse decrees of 1794, 70

Violence, use of, 2, 62–64

Vitry, M., 22

Voltaire, 28, 47

Vote. See Franchise

Wages, 44, 70, 125

Welfare, public, 70, 77. See also Subsistence, minimum, advocacy of Women, role of, 45

Workers’ associations, 70