Cultures of Anyone

Luis Moreno-Caballud

Published by Liverpool University Press

Moreno-Caballud, Luis.
Cultures of Anyone: Studies on Cultural Democratization in the Spanish Neoliberal Crisis.
Liverpool University Press, 2015.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/72668.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/72668

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2491983
Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction 1

Part I. Cultural Authority and Neoliberal ‘Modernization’

Chapter 1. Cultural Aspects of the Neoliberal Crisis: Genealogies of a Fractured Legitimacy 17
  1.1. Crisis of a Hierarchical, Individualistic Cultural Model 17
  1.2. Enlightened Gardeners, or, the Power of Knowledge 33
  1.3. ‘Transplanting People’: Capitalist Modernization and Francoist Technocracy 41
  1.4. Pedagogy of ‘Normalization’ and Cultural Elites 53

Chapter 2. ‘Standardizing’ from Above: Experts, Intellectuals, and Culture Bubble 64
  2.1. Experts in Something and Experts in Everything: The Two Pillars of the Culture of the Transition 64
  2.2. Men Who Smoke and Men Who Drink (or, Culture, that Modern Invention) 73
  2.3. The Engineer’s Great Style: A Depoliticized Aesthetic Modernity 82
  2.4. ‘Normalization,’ Deactivation, and Culture Bubble in the CT 89

Chapter 3. Arrested Modernities: The Popular Cultures that Could Have Been 105
  3.1. Arrested Modernities I: A Culture Rooted in Tradition Faces the Transition 105
  3.2. Words in the Kitchen: Subsistence Cultures and Productivist Cultures 113
  3.3. Arrested Modernities II: Postwar Cultures and Creative Consumption 121
Part II. Cultural Democratizations

Chapter 4. Internet Cultures as Collaborative Creation of Value 137
  4.1. Genealogies and Contradictions of Digital Cultures 137
  4.2. Unpaid Work and Creation of Value on the Internet 146
  4.3. The Pleasure of Doing, and Telling What One Does: Self-Representation of Internet Cultures 156
  4.4. Two Overlapping yet Clashing Value Systems 166

Chapter 5. Combining the Abilities of all the Anyones: The 15M Movement and its Mutations 178
  5.1. Anyone’s Word and the Expert’s Word: An Alliance 178
  5.2. Sustaining the Plaza and Beyond: Towards a New Cultural Power 192
  5.3. Conflict of Authorities: Intellectuals, Mass Media, and the 15M Climate 205
  5.4. ‘The Boxer and the Fly’: Nomadism and Sustainability after the Plazas 219

  6.1. The Self-Managed Culture in its Life Spaces 232
  6.2. Under the Ambiguous Umbrella of the Public Sector 242
  6.3. Between Institution and Experimentation: Why Hasn’t There Been a Marea de la Cultura? 254
  6.4. ‘Making Us Be’: The Question of Forms of (Self-)Representation 263

Epilogue. Cultures of Anyone: A Proposal for Encounters 275

Works Cited 285

Index 301