American Creoles

Martin Munro, Celia Britton

Published by Liverpool University Press

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/72693

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2492866
Contents

List of Illustrations vii
Acknowledgements viii

Introduction 1

Martin Munro and Celia Britton

Creolizations

Lafcadio Hearn’s American Writings and the Creole Continuum 19
Mary Gallagher

Auguste Lussan’s La Famille créole: How Saint-Domingue Émigrés Became Louisiana Creoles 40
Typhaine Leservot

Caribbean and Creole in New Orleans 56
Angel Adams Parham

Creolizing Barack Obama 77
Valérie Loichot

Richard Price or the Canadian from Petite-Anse: The Potential and the Limitations of a Hybrid Anthropology 95
Christina Kullberg

Music

‘Fightin’ the Future’: Rhythm and Creolization in the Circum-Caribbean 113
Martin Munro
American Creoles

Leaving the South: Frantz Fanon, Modern Jazz, and the Rejection of Négritude
Jeremy F. Lane 129

The Sorcerer and the Quimboiseur: Poetic Intention in the Works of Miles Davis and Édouard Glissant
Jean-Luc Tamby 147

Creolizing Jazz, Jazzing the Tout-monde: Jazz, Gwoka and the Poetics of Relation Jerome Camal 165

Intertextualities: Faulkner, Glissant, Condé

Go Slow Now: Saying the Unsayable in Édouard Glissant’s Reading of Faulkner
Michael Wiedorn 183

Édouard Glissant and the Test of Faulkner’s Modernism
Hugues Azérad 197

The Theme of the Ancestral Crime in the Novels of Faulkner, Glissant, and Condé
Celia Britton 216

An American Story
Yanick Lahens 230

Notes on Contributors 240

Index 244