The Twilight of the Avant-Garde

Jonathan Mayhew

Published by Liverpool University Press

Mayhew, Jonathan.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/72687.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/72687
Contents

Acknowledgments  page 7
Preface 9

Part One: The Avant-Garde and its Discontents:
The Place of Poetry in Contemporary Spanish Culture

1 Aesthetic Conservatism in Recent Spanish Poetry 17
2 Three Apologies for Poetry 32
3 Poetry, Politics, and Power 49

Part Two: Valente, Gamoneda, and the “Generation of the 1950s”

4 In Search of Ordinary Language: Revisiting the “Generation of the 1950s” 65
5 José Ángel Valente’s Lectura de Paul Celan: Translation and the Heideggerian Tradition in Spain 83
6 Antonio Gamoneda’s Libro de los venenos: The Limits of Genre 103

Part Three: Women Poets of the 1980s and 1990s

7 Gender Under Erasure (Amparo Amorós, Luisa Castro) 121
8 Desire Deferred: Ana Rossetti’s Punto umbrio 132
9 Concha García: The End of Epiphany 145
10 Lola Velasco’s El movimiento de las flores and the Limits of Criticism 156

Afterword 165
Bibliography 169
Index 175