ABOUT THE MAY SWENSON POETRY AWARD

The May Swenson Poetry Award was named for May Swenson, and honors her as one of America’s most provocative, insouciant, and vital poets. During her long career, May was loved and praised by writers from virtually every major school of poetry. In John Hollander’s words, she was “one of our few unquestionably major poets.” She left a legacy of nearly fifty years of writing when she died in 1989.

May Swenson lived most of her adult life in New York City, the center of poetry writing and publishing in her day. But she is buried in Logan, Utah, her birthplace and hometown.
