CONTENTS

Introduction vii
    T. R. Johnson and Tom Pace

PART I: WHAT HAPPENED: THE RISE AND FALL OF STYLISTICS IN COMPOSITION

Introduction 1
    Tom Pace

1. Style and the Renaissance of Composition Studies 3
    Tom Pace

2. Where Is Style Going? Where Has It Been? 23
    Elizabeth Weiser

3. Contextual Stylistics: Breaking Down the Binaries in Sentence-Level Pedagogy 42
    Rebecca Moore Howard

4. Style Redux 57
    Kathryn Flannery

PART II: BELLES LETTRES AND COMPOSITION

Introduction 76
    T. R. Johnson

5. The Uses of Literature 78
    Tina Kelleher

6. Persuasion, More Than Argument: Moving Toward a Literary Sensitivity in the Classroom 93
    Allison Alsup

7. An Arts-Centric Composition Classroom 107
    Gabriel Gomez

8. Playing with Echo: Strategies for Teaching Repetition in the Writing Classroom 119
    Melissa A. Goldthwaite

9. The “Weird Al” Style Method: Playful Invention as Serious Pedagogy 130
    Keith Rhodes
10. When Their Voice Is Their Problem: Using Imitation to Teach the Classroom Dialect 139
   J. Scott Farrin

PART III: TEACHING PROSE STYLE

Introduction 151
Tom Pace

   Nicole Amare

12. Balancing Thought and Expression: A Short Course in Style 167
   Lisa Baird

13. Rethinking Stylistic Analysis in the Writing Class 181
   William J. Carpenter

14. Re-Placing the Sentence: Approaching Style Through Genre 198
   Peter Clements

15. Tutoring Taboo: A Reconsideration of Style in the Writing Center 215
   Jesse Kavadlo

PART IV: NEW DEFINITIONS OF STYLE

Introduction 227
T. R. Johnson

16. Rhetor-Fitting: Defining Ethics through Style 228
   Dion C. Cautrell

17. Style as a System: Toward a Cybernetic Model of Composition Style 241
   Drew Loewe

18. Teaching the Tropics of Inquiry in the Composition Classroom 256
   M. Todd Harper

19. Writing with the Ear 267
   T. R. Johnson

Notes 286
References 294
Contributors 309
Index 313