Index

Note: Italic page numbers indicate illustrations.

Abigail (1D fanfiction participant), 70–72, 130, 140 AbsoluteDestiny (AMV elite), 98–99 achievement markers, 24, 92–95. See also status active participants, 46–47 Adrian (Nerdfighters participant), 141–142, 160–163 affinity: affiliation defined by, 41–42; connected civics model of, 25; connected learning in, 166; interests and, 18, 22–23. See also bonding affinity networks. See online affinity networks age: Bollywood participants, 188n3 (Case 2.2); digital culture generation gap, 171–172, 177–178; Hogwarts at Ravelry participants, 148; intergenerational connections, 16, 148; StarCraft II participants, 32; Wrestling Board participants, 16, 28 Akash (Bollywood dance team member), 54, 79–81, 134 alternative culture, 84
AMVs. See anime music videos (AMVs) community Amy (Ravelry.com designer), 1–3, 132–133, 143 anime music videos (AMVs) community, 14, 117–122; academic connection, 121–122, 135; career skills and opportunity, 120–122, 140, 141; civic and charitable activities, 138; community-driven supports, 106; community organizing, 61–62; contests and challenges, 60, 119; creator profile, 117; cultural mashups in, 117; design and redesign of site, 119; education level of participants, 118–119; elites, 98–99, 120; gender of participants, 119; learner story, 120–122; leveling up in, 82; off-topic discussions, 51; shared culture and knowledge, 48; status in, 82, 86, 98–99, 119; tech-savvy groups in, 15; volunteers and donations, 119 animemusicvideos.org, 117–120, 185. See also anime music videos (AMVs) community Anime Weekend Atlanta, 61, 120 aspirational standards, 96–100 attention-scarce marketplace, 90 audience problem, 159–160
banking model of education, 126
BarCraft, 57, 61
Beach, King, 126–127
Blizzard Entertainment, 32, 141–142. See also StarCraft II
Bollywood America, 76–77
Bollywood dance, 14, 73–81, 185; academic connection, 134, 178; age of participants, 188n3 (Case 2.2); career skills from, 77–81; collaborative production, 52, 54; collegiate teams, 73, 74, 76–81, 139; community organizing, 60; contests and challenges, 59, 76–77; Facebook connections, 77, 78, 79–80; learner story, 79–81; participation by underrepresented group, 16; rise of, 73–74; social causes, 139; symbiotic relationship between film and live dances, 75–76; “taking lessons in Indianness,” 74–75, 81; teachers and mentors, 102; teams as learning communities, 77–79; YouTube resources, 73, 79–80
Bond, Andy (engineer at Blizzard Entertainment), 142 bonding, 22–23; bridging to wider worlds vs., 109–111; collaborative production and, 52–56; compartmental intimates, 24, 86, 100, 125; contests/challenges and, 56–60; finding “their people,” 4; infrastructure and, 40–47; intentional involvement and, 5, 42–45, 167; interest-driven participation and, 41; lurkers and casual participants, 39–40, 46; nature of online relationships, 4–5; peer learning and, 107–109; peers who “get it,” 23, 24, 166; shared culture/knowledge and, 47–51, 166–169; shared practices and, 52–64; specialized networks and, 42–43; stigma of online relationships, 47, 161; stigmatized interests and, 16, 23, 26–27, 43–44, 49–50, 51 bonding social capital, 85–86, 167–168 book covers, on Wattpad, 66, 67 bowling leagues, bonding social capital in, 85–86 boyband fandom. See One Direction fanfiction boyd, danah, 12 careers. See economic/career opportunity case studies, 13–18, 187n2; cross-case analysis of, 11. See also specific case studies casual participants, 39–40, 46, 110, 180 celebrities: gaming, 97–98, 143; Wattpad, 69–70, 99; YouTube, 156–157, 170 charity, 96, 137–139, 156, 157 chess, comparing StarCraft II to, 32, 124 Chicoine, Lauren (AMV editor), 82 civics, 25, 124–125, 136–139, 156–157
Class, The (Livingstone and Sefton-Green), 187n3 CLRN. See Connected Learning Research Network collab-accounts, 55, 71 collab channels, YouTube, 55, 158–159, 159 collaborative production, 52–56; Bollywood dance, 52, 54; Hogwarts at Ravelry, 52–54, 158–159, 159; One Direction fanfiction, 52, 55, 68, 70–71; Sackboy Planet, 52, 55–56; Scratch online community, 179–180; Wrestling Board, 52–53, 53 collective action, 166–167 collegetial Bollywood teams, 73, 74, 76–81, 139 Collegiate Starleague, 36–38, 57, 61, 124 comment-bombs, 157
communities of practice, 19, 75, 166–167 community-driven supports, 103–107 community organizing, 60–64; change and adaptation in, 62–64; characteristics of organizers, 63 compartmental intimates, 24, 86, 100, 125 compartmentalized social networks, 172–174 competitions. See contests and challenges competitive gaming (esports), 28, 32–33, 49, 57, 177, 181 conflict, 17
Connected Camps, 174, 175–176, 178–179 connected civics, 25, 124–125, 136–139, 156–157 connected learning, 3–5, 125–129, 129–144, 166–169; anime music video community, 120–122; Bollywood dance, 79–81; connecting spheres of learning in, 21, 21–22; definition of, 3; designers and developers as hidden partners in, 15; equity (inequity) in, 3, 5–8, 7, 15, 165, 168–171; future of, 164–181; Hogwarts at Ravelry, 150–152; Nerdfighters, 160–163; opportunities and design principles for, 174–181; positive deviance in, 14–15, 17; progressive tradition and, 19, 126; project-based and production-centered, 178–180; research agenda for, 11; risks and challenges in, 169–174; role of online affinity networks in, 4–5, 17–18; Sackboy Planet, 115–116; shared progressive agenda for, 6; sociocultural learning theory and, 19, 126, 166; StarCraft II, 36–38, 123–124; status/subcultural capital and, 109–110; subcultural capital and, 83–87; traditional learning vs., 3–4; Wrestling Boards, 29–31. See also academic connections; economic/career opportunity Connected Learning Alliance, 180–181
Connected Learning Research Network (CLRN), 8, 9, 11, 187n3 consequential transition, 126–127 contests and challenges, 56–60; academic connections, 178–181; anime music video community, 60, 119; Bollywood dance, 59, 76–77; Hogwarts at Ravelry, 58, 58–59, 63, 93, 94, 137, 148; Sackboy Planet, 59, 114; StarCraft II, 36–38, 49, 56–57, 98, 99; Wattpad, 59–60; Wrestling Boards, 57 Crayo (Wrestling Boards founder), 27–28, 129 crocheting: online affinity network, 1–2, 13, 146–152. See also Ravelry.com cultural capital, 6, 83–87, 172–174 cultural content, 23
culturally relevant pedagogy, 126 cultural relevance, 166 culture: alternative, 84; anime music videos and mashups of, 117; Bollywood dance and, 74–75, 81; connected learning and, 3; digital generation gap, 171–172, 177–178; participatory, 52; shared, 47–51, 166–169, 174–178; subculture, 84
DarkMatter9 (Sackboy Planet elite), 97–98 Day[9] (Sean Plott) (StarCraft II shutter-caster), 34, 35–36, 98, 143 day-care centers: bonding social capital in, 85–86 decreasing World Suck,” 96, 137, 156–157 design principles, for connected learning, 174–181
DeviantArt, 181
Dewey, John, 19
digital culture generation gap, 171–172, 177–178 digital edge,” 15, 187n3
Digital Media and Learning (DML) Initiative, 8, 12
Digital Youth Project, 2–3, 8–10, 41, 47, 85, 187n3
DML. See Digital Media and Learning (DML) Initiative
Doctor Who, 50, 155
Doolan, Yuri (Bollywood dance team member), 139, 188n1 (Case 2.2)
DREAM Activists, 136
Duncombe, Stephen, 84

ecommerce, 1–3, 25, 142–144, 143, 173 economic capital, 6. See also equity economic/career opportunity, 25, 124–125, 139–144, 173–174; anime music video community and, 120–122, 140, 141; Bollywood dance and, 77–81; LittleBigPlanet 2 and, 141–142; Nerdfighters and, 141–142, 161–163; One Direction fanfiction and, 140; Ravelry.com and, 1–3, 140, 142–143, 143, 173; StarCraft II and, 35–36, 141–142, 143; Wrestling Boards and, 29–31, 140–141; YouTube and, 141, 173 economic inequities, 6–7, 7, 165, 168–171 education and schools: opportunities and design principles, 174–181; project- and production-based learning, 178–180; Quest to Learn, 164–165; scholarships for digital skills, 128, 181; Scratch online community, 174, 175. See also academic connections elites, 96–100; gaming celebrities, 97–98, 143; gender and, 99–100; tech-savvy, 3, 15, 37, 114; Wattpad celebrities, 69–70, 99; YouTube celebrities, 156–157 Eng, Lawrence, 84
entrepreneurship, 1–3, 25, 142–144, 173 entry of newcomers, 88–92 equity, 3, 5–8, 15; gap in opportunities, 6–7, 7, 165, 168–171 esports (competitive gaming), 32–33, 49, 57, 177 esport scholarships, 128, 181 etiquette, learning, 88–92, 103–107 Etsy, 142, 173
exclusion, 17, 44, 87, 100
Facebook, 40–41; Bollywood dance communities on, 77, 78, 79–80; “likes” on, 29; Nerdfighters on, 153–155; popularity of, 9; segmented identities and, 85

Family Creative Learning, 177–178 family support, 135–136, 177–178 fanfiction: generation gap in, 171–172; literacy skills from, 177. See also One Direction fanfiction fantasy wrestling. See Wrestling Boards Fault in Our Stars, The (Green), 155 female gamers, 36–38, 99–100 fiber crafting: online affinity network, 1–2, 13, 146–152. See also Ravelry.com filmmaking experience: academic connections, 181; from anime music video community, 120–122, 140; from Bollywood dance, 77–78, 80–81, 102; from Nerdfighters, 141–142, 155, 156–160, 160–163; from Wrestling Boards, 30–31
FIRST Robotics, 176
Foundation to Decrease World Suck, 156
Frank, Ze, 153
Freire, Paulo, 126
friendship-driven participation, 41

Gadget42 (Sackboy Planet participant), 115–116, 134, 136 gaming: academic connections, 115–116, 123–124, 130–132, 131, 164–165, 177; career opportunities in, 35–36, 140, 141–142, 173; collegiate teams, 36–38, 57, 61, 124; competitive (esports), 32–33, 49, 57; Connected Camps, 175–176; female gamers in, 36–38, 99–100; generation gap in, 171–172; level design, 112–116 (see also level design, in gaming); massively multiplayer, 12; motor skills in, 37, 90; as primary social vehicle, 2; scholarships for, 128, 181; sexism in, 87, 99–100; tech-savvy (geeky) communities in, 3, 15, 37, 114. See also LittleBigPlanet 2
"geeking out," 2, 7–9, 41; digital inequities and, 170; peer learning and, 107; positive vs. negative, 44–45; shared culture and, 47, 48; stigmatized interests and, 23, 43–44, 67, 172 geeks (tech-savvy groups), 3, 15, 37, 114 gender: anime music video participants, 119; and elite status, 99–100; Hogwarts at Ravelry participants, 148; Nerdfighters participants, 155; One Direction fanfiction participants, 67; Sackboy Planet participants, 99–100, 114; sexism in gaming, 87, 99–100; StarCraft II participants, 32, 36–38, 99–100; underrepresented groups, 15–16; Wrestling Board participants, 28 generational cooperation, 16, 148 generation gap, 171–172, 177–178 genres of participation, 10 geometry: Ravelry.com and, 132–134; StarCraft II and, 130–132, 131 Gepetto (AMV creator), 48, 120–122, 135
Giovanni, Alex (StarCraft II player), 123–124
Green, Hank, 14, 96, 97, 153–155, 154
Green, John, 14, 96, 97, 153–155, 154
Gutiérrez, Kris, 126
Hanging Out, Messing Around, and Geeking Out (Ito et al.), 9
Harry Potter Alliance, 136, 176
Harry Potter interests: generation gap and, 172; Nerdfighters, 153, 155; One Direction fanfiction mashups, 69; Ravelry.com, 1, 146–152. See also Hogwarts at Ravelry hidden partners, designers and developers as, 15 high-functioning affinity networks, 17, 51
High School Starleague, 57, 61, 124 Hindi Film Dance (HFC) competitions, 14, 76. See also Bollywood dance hip-hop culture, learning opportunities in, 177 Hogwarts at Ravelry, 1, 13, 146–152, 147, 185; age of participants, 148; “be nice” rule, 149–150; change and adaptation, 62–63; civic and charitable activities, 137–138; collaborative production, 52–54, 54; community organizing, 60, 62–63; contests and challenges, 58, 58–59, 63, 93, 94, 137, 148; economic opportunity on, 1–3, 25, 140, 142–143, 143; elites, 96; entry and earning subcultural capital, 88–89; founding of, 147; gender of participants, 148; learner story, 150–152; main page, 89; message boards and threads, 148; number of members, 148; off-topic discussions and mashups, 50–51, 51; peer learning and social support, 108, 149; reputation system (badges and points), 93, 94; role-playing, 53, 88, 146; shared culture and knowledge, 47–48; socialization of newcomers, 58, 102; status in, 43, 88–89, 93, 96, 149; teachers and mentors, 101–102, 148–149
House Cup, on Hogwarts at Ravelry, 58, 58, 63, 93, 137, 148
House Unity projects, on Hogwarts at Ravelry, 58–59 Indiegogo, 156, 157
individualism, networked, 41–42 infrastructure, 23, 40–47
Instagram, 41
instant messaging (IM), 41 intentional involvement, 5, 42–45, 167 interest(s): affinity and, 18, 22–23; connected civics model of, 25; connection to learning, 18–22; development of, 18–20, 20, 166–167; family support for, 18; individual preferences and “lines of practice” in, 18; mashups of, 50–51, 51, 69; niche, 43, 47–48, 51, 117, 125; stigmatized, 16, 23, 43–44, 49–50, 51, 125 (see also stigmatized interests); support from online affinity networks, 19–22, 20; teacher or mentor support for, 18, 71–72, 135 interest-driven participation, 41 intergenerational connection, 16, 148
Invisible Children, 136

Japanese anime. See anime music videos (AMVs) community

Jenkins, Henry, 52, 136, 172

Khan Academy, 170
knitting: online affinity network, 1–2, 13, 146–152. See also Ravelry.com KnittingPrincipal (Hogwarts at Ravelry teacher), 53, 101 knowledge, shared, 47–51, 166–169, 174–178 Kurimoto, Kengo (level-design lead at Media Molecule), 56 learning: banking model of, 126; connected, 3–5, 166–169 (see also connected learning); connecting spheres of, 21, 21–22; connecting vs. transferring, 25, 125–127, 144–145; entry of newcomers, 88–92; leveling up, 51, 100–103 (see also leveling up); Leveling Up goal for, 10; online affinity networks and connection to interests, 18–22; online affinity networks and potential for, 2–3, 109–110, 165; peer, 107–109; shared progressive agenda for, 6; socialization of newcomers, 58, 85, 88, 102–105; social use of media vs., 7–8; sociocultural theory of, 19, 126, 166; subcultural capital and, 83–87; teachers, mentors, and moderators for, 101–103; technology and equity in, 5–8, 165, 168–171; translation to opportunity, 25 learning communities, Bollywood dance teams as, 77–79 level design, in gaming, 112–116, 113; academic connection, 115–116, 134; career opportunities from, 141–142; change and adaptation in, 63–64; collaborative, 55–56; elites participants and, 97–98; openness and sharing, 45; peer learning and, 107–108; privacy settings, 94; teachers and mentors, 102–103 leveling up, 51, 100–103; anime music video community, 82; community-driven supports for, 103–107; limitations on, 110–111; peer learning and, 107–109; Starcraft II, 49, 57; teachers, mentors, and moderators for, 101–103

Leveling Up, 8–18; building on Digital Youth Project, 2–3, 8–9; case studies in, 13–18, 187n2 (see also specific case studies); collaboration in, 11–13, 187n1; cross-case analysis in, 11; evolving research agenda, 8–10; goal of, 10; positive deviance approach in, 14–15, 17; research settings/online spaces in, 12; social change agenda of, 10; underrepresented groups in, 15–16
Levine, Peter, 159
LGBTQ community/issues, 40, 81, 139, 155
libraries, YOUmedia Learning Labs in, 175–176
Lifelong Kindergarten group, 175 “likes for likes,” 70, 95
“lines of practice,” 18
LittleBigPlanet 2, 14, 112–116; academic connection, 115–116, 134; bonding through, 23; career opportunities from, 141–142; civic engagement, 136; collaborative production, 52, 55–56; community organizing, 63–64; contests and challenges, 59, 114; creativity in, 112–114; family support for interest, 136; level design in, 112–114, 113 (see also level design, in gaming); level editor, 112, 113; lore and backstory, 112; scaffolded approach in, 112–113; tech-savvy groups and, 15. See also Sackboy Planet LiveJournal, 41
Livingstone, Sonia, 187n3
lurkers, 39–40, 46, 110, 180

MacArthur Foundation, 8, 12. See also Connected Learning Research Network; Digital Media and Learning (DML) Initiative; Leveling Up MAPP. See Media, Activism, and Participatory Politics
Maria (Wrestling Boards participant), 39, 129–130, 135, 140–142 Mary (Hogwarts at Ravelry participant), 58, 134, 150–152 mashups, 28, 50–51, 51, 69, 117 massively multiplayer online games (MMOs), 12 mathematics, 168; open learning platforms, 170; Ravelry.com and, 132–134; StarCraft II and, 130–132, 131 Media, Activism, and Participatory Politics (MAPP), 14, 136, 187n2 media addiction, 5
media engagement: adoption of new media, 9–10; context of, 5–6; genres of participation, 10; rise in, 5; social use vs. learning, 7–8 Media Molecule, 56, 112, 141–142. See also LittleBigPlanet 2
Meeting of the Minds (Starcraft club), 124 meganiche, 48, 117
mentors: online affinity network, 101–103; school or community, support from, 18, 71–72, 135 metagame, in StarCraft II, 33–34
Minecraft: Connected Camps, 175–176, 178–179; in learning settings, 177; Quest to Learn, 164–165
MIT Media Lab, 175, 177–178 moderators, 101–103

museums, YOUmedia Learning Labs in, 175–176
My Little Pony mashups, 28, 50–51, 51
MySpace, 8, 40–41, 85

National Writing Project, 177, 181 negative dynamics, 17, 44–45, 104, 106–107, 110, 169 negative stereotypes, 172
Nerdfighters, 14, 153–163, 185; academic connection, 161–163; audience problem, 159–160; bonding through, 23; civic engagement, 96, 137, 156–157; collaborative production, 55, 158–159, 159; comment-bombs, 157; community organizing, 60; “decreasing World Suck,” 96, 137, 156–157; economic/career opportunities, 141–142, 161–163; elites (VlogBrothers), 96, 97, 153–155, 154; etiquette and encouragement, 160; gender of participants, 155; learner story, 160–163; Nerdfighteria Census, 155–156; Project for Awesome (P4A), 96, 137, 156; race of participants, 155; random play of videos, 157; shared identity as nerds, 155; tech-savvy groups and, 15; video production, 155, 156–160; video views, 155 networked individualism, 41–42 new members: entry and subcultural capital of, 88–92; socialization of, 58, 85, 88, 102–105; teachers, mentors, and moderators for, 101–103 niche interests, 43, 47–48, 51, 117, 125 norm enforcement, 64, 83, 87, 103–107 norm formation, 87
North American Star League, 61, 98
Northwestern University Bollywood team, 73, 74, 139 off-topic discussions, 50–51

1D on Wattpad. See One Direction fanfiction
One Direction fanfiction, 13, 66–72, 185; academic connection, 71–72, 129–130; book cover designs, 67, 68; career skills from, 140; chapter-by-chapter release, 68–69; collaborative production, 52, 55, 68, 70–71; comments and likes, 70, 95; entry and earning subcultural capital, 91; “geeking out,” 23; generation gap and, 172; learning story, 70–72; “likes for likes,” 70; open sharing of, 46; other genres with, 69; participation by underrepresented group, 16; readership and sharing rates, 67–68; recognition mechanism, 70; shared practices, 68; status and reputation, 69–70, 91, 95; stigmatized interests and, 23, 49–50, 67 online affinity networks: bonding in, 4–5, 22–23; change and adaptation, 62–64; collaborative production, 52–56; common features of, 42, 174; community organizing, 60–64; connection to opportunity, 3, 16–17, 25, 109–111; content world of, 22–23; contests and challenges, 56–60; cross-case analysis of, 11; designers and developers as hidden partners in, 15; explanation of term, 40; high-functioning, 17, 51; infrastructure and space of, 23, 40–47; intentional involvement in, 5, 42–45, 167; interests and learning in, 18–22; intergenerational, 16; learning potential of, 2–3, 109–110, 165; negative dynamics in, 17, 44–45; off-topic discussions on, 50–51; openness of, 42, 45–47, 180–181; positive deviance in, 14–15, 17; research settings in, 12; risks and challenges, 169–174; role in connected learning, 4–5, 17–18; shared culture and knowledge in, 47–51, 166–169; shared practices in, 23, 52–64; social capital in, 23–25; social networks vs., 41; specialized, 42–43; status in, 17, 23–25, 82–111 (see also status); stigmatized interests in, 16, 23; support for interests, 19–22, 20; underrepresented groups in, 15–16. See also specific topics and networks online publishing, 66–72, 142. See also One Direction fanfiction open networks, 42, 45–47; connections and opportunities, 180–181; status and boundaries vs., 83 opportunity, 126–144, 174–181; connection to, 3, 16–17, 25, 109–111; equity gap in, 6–7, 7, 165, 168–171. See also academic connections; economic/career opportunity tonaku culture, 84

Over the Ropes (fantasy wrestling federation), 28, 30–31, 57

Pareto principle, 46

Parsi, Duran (StarCraft II player), 60–61

participatory culture, 52

peer learning, 107–109

Plott, Sean (StarCraft II shoutcaster), 34, 35–36, 98, 143

political causes, 138–139 positive deviance, 14–15, 17

practice partners, 107

Prakasha dance team, 79–81

Princeton University gaming team, 36–38, 61 production-based learning, 178–180 progressive tradition, 19, 126 project-based learning, 178–180

Project for Awesome (P4A), 137, 156, 157

Quest to Learn, 164–165 race: Nerdfighters participants, 155; South Asians participating in Bollywood dance, 16, 74; StarCraft II participants, 32; underrepresented groups, 15–16

Ravelry.com, 1–2, 13; academic connections, 132–134; collaborative production, 52–54; community organizing, 60; economic opportunity on, 1–3, 25, 140, 142–143, 143, 173; gender and elite status, 99; Harry Potter subcommunity, 1, 146–152 (see also Hogwarts at Ravelry); intergenerational connections in, 16, 148; political cause, 138–139; shared culture and knowledge, 47–48

Ravelympics, 138–139

regimes of value, 128

repertoires of practice, 126, 127 reputation systems, 24, 92–95. See also status

Rhashan (Wrestling Boards participant), 29–31, 53, 62

Rheingold, Howard, 40

risks and challenges, 169–174

risky online behavior, 169

Rogoff, Barbara, 126

Rohit (Bollywood dance team member), 73, 76 role-playing: Hogwarts at Ravelry, 53, 88, 146; Wrestling Boards, 14, 28, 30–31, 39, 53, 57, 130

Roque, Ricarose, 177

Sackboy Planet, 112–116, 185; academic connections, 115–116; as attention-scarce marketplace, 90; collaborative production, 52, 55–56; community-driven supports, 104, 105–107, 114; community organizing, 63–64; contests and challenges, 59, 114; dialogic expectations, 91; elites and aspirational standards, 96–98; entry and earning subcultural capital, 90–91; female gamers, 99–100; gender of participants, 99–100, 114; improving and evaluating, 93–94; learner story, 115–116; level design in, 112–114, 113

(see also level design, in gaming); level sharing in, 45; number of members, 114; peer learning, 107–108; reputation system (metrics), 93, 95, 114–115; socialization of newcomers, 103, 105; status in, 90–91, 93–94, 96–98, 114–115; teachers and mentors, 102–103

Salen, Katie, 164

scholarships, for digital skills, 128, 181 schools: opportunities and design principles, 174–181; project- and production-based learning, 178–180; Quest to Learn, 164–165; scholarships for digital skills, 128, 181; shared culture and purpose in, 176. See also academic connections

Scratch online community, 174, 175, 179–180

Sefton-Green, Julian, 187n3

segmented identities, 85

self-publishing, 66–72, 142. See also One Direction fanfiction

Sensei (Sackboy Planet elite), 96–98 sexism, in gaming, 87, 99–100 shared culture and knowledge, 47–51, 166–169; anime music video, 48; connected learning opportunity in, 174–178; Ravelry.com, 47–48; StarCraft II, 49 shared practices, 23, 52–64; collaborative production, 52–56; community organizing, 60–64; contests and challenges, 56–60; One Direction fanfiction, 68; subcultural capital in, 86 shared purpose, 52, 100, 108, 166, 174–178

Shirky, Clay, 117

Small, Mario, 24, 85–86

social capital, 6, 23–25, 83–87; bonding, 85–86, 167–168; translation to opportunity, 25

social causes, 138–139

social change agenda, 10, 165–166

social connectedness, 166 social isolation, 169
socialization of newcomers, 58, 85, 88, 102–105 social networks: Bollywood dance communities on, 77, 78, 79–80; compartmentalized, 172–174; Nerdfighters on, 153–155; One Direction fanfiction and, 70; as primary social vehicle, 2; segmented identities and, 85. See also Facebook sociocultural learning theory, 19, 126, 166 specialized networks, 42–43
StarCraft II, 14, 32–38, 185; academic connections, 37, 123–124, 130–132, 131; age of participants, 32; article writing, 35; BarCraft, 57, 61; bonding through, 23; career opportunities from, 35–36, 141–142; as chess of the 21st century, 32, 124; civic and charitable activities, 136, 138; collegiate teams, 36–38, 57, 61, 124; community organizing, 60–61; connected learning in, 36–38, 123–124; content creation and sharing, 34, 35; contests and challenges, 36–38, 49, 56–57, 98, 99; economic opportunity from, 143; elites, 98; entry and earning subcultural capital, 89–90, 90; family support for interest, 123–124, 135–136; female gamers, 36–38, 99–100; forum posting, 35; high school teams, 57, 61, 124; learner story, 36–38; leveling up, 49, 57; lore and backstory, 33; matching system ("the ladder"), 34, 57; metagame in, 33–34; motor skills in, 37; off-topic discussions, 51; shared culture and knowledge, 49; status in, 43, 89–90, 90, 98; strategy and skills in, 32, 33; Team Liquid online forum, 34, 35; tech-savvy groups (geeks) and, 15, 37
StarCraft II tournaments, 98, 99
StarCraft without Borders, 138 status, 17, 23–25, 43, 44, 82–111; anime music video community, 82, 86, 98–99, 119; bridging to wider world, 109–111; community-driven supports and, 103–107; conventional, school-based vs. online affinity, 86; elites and aspirational standards, 96–100; Hogwarts at Ravelry, 43, 88–89, 93, 96, 149; leveling up and, 49, 51, 57, 82, 100–103; negotiation and contention over, 85; niche interest/expertise and, 43; One Direction fanfiction, 69–70, 91, 95; peer learning and, 107–109; Sackboy Planet, 90–91, 93–94, 96–98, 114–115; segmented identities and, 85; StarCraft II, 43, 89–90, 90, 98; strategies for improving, 93–94; subcultural capital and, 83–87; teachers, mentors, and moderators, 101–103; Wrestling Boards, 29, 91–95 status systems, 86, 87–100; entry and earning subcultural capital, 88–92; online reputation systems, 92–95 STEM skills, 168; Bollywood dance team and, 134; Connected Camps, 175–176; open learning platforms, 170; Ravelry.com and, 132–134; Scratch online community, 175; StarCraft II and, 130–132, 131 stigma, of online relationships, 47, 161 stigmatized interests, 16, 23, 43–44, 49–50, 51, 125; generation gap and, 172; Nerdfighters, 153; One Direction fanfiction, 23, 49–50, 67; Wrestling Boards, 16, 26–27, 49–50 story-sharing app, 66–72. See also One Direction fanfiction subcultural capital, 24, 83–87, 167–168, 172–174; bonding vs. bridging to wider world, 109–111; compartmental intimates and, 86; earning, 84, 88–92; leveling up, 100–103; negotiation and contention over, 85; online affinity networks and access to, 109–110; shared practices and, 86 subculture, 84
Index

teachers: online affinity network, 101–103; school, support from, 18, 71–72, 135 Team Liquid, 34–36, 35, 61, 138 technology: learning and equity in, 5–8, 165, 168–171; shared progressive agenda for, 6 techn-savvy groups, 3, 15, 37
Thornton, Sarah, 83
trajectories of participation, 158 transfer of learning, vs. connected learning, 25, 125–127, 144–145 transition, consequential, 126–127 trolls, policing, 106–107
Tumblr, 41, 44, 68, 155
“Twist Fate” challenge, 181
Twitch (game-streaming company), 142 Twitter, 41

underrepresented groups, 15–16
U.S. Olympic Committee, Ravelry.com dispute with, 138–139 video and audio skills: academic connections, 181; from anime music video community, 120–122, 140; from Bollywood dance, 77–78, 80–81, 102; from Nerdfighters, 141–142, 155, 156–160, 161–163; from Wrestling Boards, 30–31 video games. See gaming; LittleBigPlanet 2; Minecraft; StarCraft II Vimeo, 181

Virtual Community, The (Rheingold), 40 virtual worlds, 12, 40
VlogBrothers, 14, 96, 97, 153–155, 154. See also Nerdfighters

War of the States, 61, 98
Watkins, Craig, 187n3

Wattpad: academic connections, 130; arts and writing challenge, 181; book covers on, 66, 67; chapter-by-chapter release on, 68–69; contests and challenges, 59–60; gender and elite status, 99; One Direction fanfiction on, 66–72 (see also One Direction fanfiction); open sharing on, 46; readership and sharing rates on, 67–68; sociability and affiliation aspects of, 69; status and reputation on, 69–70
Wattpad celebrities, 69–70, 99
Watty Awards, 59–60, 69, 95
Waxangel (Team Liquid editor), 35
Whole Earth 'Lectronic Link (WELL), 40
"World Suck," decreasing, 96, 137, 156–157
World Wrestling Entertainment (WWE), 26–27, 29, 39
Wrestling Boards, 14, 26–31, 185; academic connections, 129–130, 135; age of participants, 16, 28; booking system, 94–95; career opportunities from, 29–31, 140–141; change and adaptation, 62; collaborative production, 52–53, 53; community-driven supports, 104–105; contests and challenges, 57; entry and earning subcultural capital, 91–92; fantasy federation (Over the Ropes), 28, 30–31, 57; gender of participants, 28; help and feedback on, 28–29; intergenerational connections in, 16; learner story, 29–31; “marks” to “smarks” on, 28, 104–105; number of members, 28; participation by underrepresented groups, 15; peer learning, 108; promotion and planning, 26, 27, 30–31; reboot, 62; reputation system, 92–93; role-playing, 14, 28, 30–31, 39, 53, 57, 130; socialization of newcomers, 104–105; status on, 29, 91–95; stigmatized interests and, 16, 23, 26–27, 49–50; titles, images, and avatars on, 29; video and audio skills from, 30–31 writers/writing: academic connections, 71–72, 129–130, 135, 168; Connected Learning Alliance, 180–181; loss of traditional skills, 169; Minecraft, 164–165; National Writing Project, 177, 181; One Direction fanfiction, 46, 55, 66–72, 129–130 (see also One Direction fanfiction); open sharing, 46; StarCraft II, 35; story-sharing app (Wattpad), 66–72; Wrestling Boards, 26–31, 39, 53, 57, 94–95, 129–130, 135, 140–141

XStylus (AMV editor), 60, 119, 140

YOUmedia Learning Labs, 174, 176–177, 179, 181

Young, Tim (StarCraft II player), 129, 142

Young Adult Library Services Association, 181

Youth and Participatory Politics Research Network (YPP), 11

Youth Radio, 136

YouTube: academic connections, 181; anime music videos on, 119; Bollywood dance on, 73, 79–80; collab channels on, 55, 158–159, 159; community of video producers, 155; economic/career opportunities on, 141, 173; fanfiction promotion on, 69; Nerdfighters, 14, 137, 153–163; Sackboy Planet elite on, 98; VlogBrothers on, 14, 96, 97, 153–155, 154; wrestling web series on, 30

YouTube celebrities, 156–157, 170

YPP. See Youth and Participatory Politics Research Network

Zhang, Mona (StarCraft II player), 36–38, 49, 61