Acknowledgments

I would like to thank the editors, Charles L. Ross, formerly of Hartford Studies, Morton Kaplan of Literature and Psychology, and Evelyn J. Hinz of Mosaic, for their help during the publication process.

I also want to thank Arthur Collins for guiding my independent study of George Eliot and Jeffrey Berman for guiding my independent study of literature and psychoanalysis during my doctoral student days at SUNY at Albany nearly a decade ago.

Finally, I want to thank Douglas Johnstone and Jeffrey Berman for so willingly reading my manuscript prior to publication. I made good use of their suggestions during my final revisions. I am also grateful to the editorial staff at New York University Press for their assistance during the book publication process.
