A Critical History of the Separation of Church and State

Stephen M. Feldman
To my parents, Isaac and Frances, for the love and education they gave me
Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.... Alas, how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus.... There would be no childlike faith, then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The Eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

—Francis Church
