Note on Romanized Terms

Romanization of Korean follows the McCune-Reischauer system; pinyin is used for standard Chinese (Mandarin); and Hepburn is used for Japanese. Pronunciations are Korean unless labeled as Chinese (Ch) or Japanese (J). Following standard practice for East Asian names, the surname is placed before the given name, and the two are not separated by a comma.
THE POWER OF THE BRUSH