Cultural Encounters on China’s Ethnic Frontiers

Harrell, Stevan

Published by University of Washington Press

Harrell, Stevan.
Cultural Encounters on China’s Ethnic Frontiers.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/21071.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/21071

For content related to this chapter https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=742743
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Abahai. See Hong Taiji</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aborigines (Taiwan), 20, 146, 246, 323</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adams, James R., 226, 232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Agency, 128, 134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aisinh Gioro, 190–91, 195, 196, 198, 211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anderson, Benedict, 266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anthropology. See Ethnology</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anti-Local Ethnic Chauvinism Campaign, 280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anti-Rightist Campaign, 280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Army of the Green Standard, 197, 204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Assimilation, 9, 13, 19, 131, 184–85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Axi (Ashi), 150–158, 160, 163n16, 166n21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baber, Edward Colbourne, 68, 7099, 147–48, 160</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bai of Yunnan, 31–32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baima, 77</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baiman (White Barbarians), 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baiyi, 324. See also Dai</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barth, Fredrik, 193–94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bawden, C. R., 257–58, 259</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bentley, G. Carter, 205–206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boell, Paul, 164, 164n17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bouyei landlords, 96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boxer Uprising, 228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Buddhism. See Tibetan Buddhism</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bukuri Yongson, 190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Burma, 144</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Capitalism, 217, 231, 237, 238–40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chao Paendin, 303–307, 327</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cheli, 314. See also Sipsong Panna</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chen Tianjun, 89–90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chiang Kai-shek, 276n34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Children, 14, 15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>China Inland Mission, 110, 145, 149, 226, 242</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chinese Nationalist government, 106–107, 265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chinese Soviet government, 265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chinese state (imperial), 18–20, 35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chinggis Mausoleum, 266–76 passim</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Christianity, conversion to, 142, 177; differential rates of, 145, 217, 229–40; and use of local language, 155, 159; individual vs. community, 177–79; as resistance, 231–32, 236; and capitalist commodification, 238–39; and aborigines, 246. See also Christian movements; Christian project; Missionaries; Missionary project</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Christian movements, 217, 226; success of, 229, 240–43; and resistance, 244–45. See also Christianity, conversion to; Missionaries; Missionary project</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Christian project: theory of 20–22; competition with Confucian project, 24; scale of civilization, 25. See also Christianity, conversion to; Missionaries; Missionary project</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Christians, persecutions of, 227–28, 235. See also Missionaries, and political power</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Civilizedness, scale of, 18, 19, 22, 25, 42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Civilized village campaign, 17, 121, 121n5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Civilizing projects, 3,4; effect of on civilizeds, 4,6–7; effect of on civilizeds, 4,6; co-optation of, 4, 11, 25, 34–35, 132, 136, 148, 169; dialogics of, 4, 7; ideological legitimation of, 4, 8–17, 19, 20; reac-</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
INDEX

Co-optation. See Civilizing projects, co-optation of

Court of Colonial Affairs, 105

Cuan, 74, 87

Culture, common (as criterion for ethnic identity): Mosuo and Naxi, 52–53; Yi, 64–65; Miao, 67, 97–99; Yao, 120; Mongol, 288–91; Dai, 319–20

Cultural Revolution, 113, 129, 182; and Mongols, 267, 268, 284; and education, 285, 286; and language policy, 292–93

Cushman, Richard, 123–26, 127, 133n16

Dai, 11, 26, 32, 45; and ethnic identification process, 301, 315–16, 317–20, 325–28; and regional national autonomy, 321–22; acceptance of Chinese categories by, 325–28; and Thailand, 328. See also Dai-Lue; Lue; Tai; Tai-Lue

Dai-Lue, 301; identification with kingship, 303, 307; Chinese state’s view of, 310–13, 321; relations with other Tai-speaking groups, 316–19; ethnicity today, 319–24; See also Dai; Lue; Tai; Tai-Lue

Dali kingdom, 88, 308, 312

Darwinism, social, 147, 152, 170, 176. See also Evolutionary theory; Morgan, Lewis Henry

Degradation theory, 152

De Vos, George, 306

Dorgon, 191, 192, 208

Dragon Boat Festival, 111

Dress,12, 97–98, 105, 116

Durkheim, Emile, 274

Economic backwardness (of peripheral peoples), 106

Economic system, common (as one of Stalin’s criteria), 10–12, 82, 95–97

Education: missionary, 14, 94, 108, 110, 118, 240–41, 247; as part of civilizing project 15, 19; modern, 261; ethnic, impact of, 278, 285–300; ethnic, aims of 278–81, 283–84; ethnic, guidelines in

Clifford, James, 179, 184

Colonialism, 20–21, 36, 145–46. See also Civilizing projects; Western imperialism

Colquhoun, Archibald, 149, 138n12

Communist ideology: of sexual equality, 12; of nation building, 12; of ethnic equality, 12; and modernization, 23, 109, 112, 122, 150, 281; of social evolution, 39–43, 47–48, 53, 80n14; and ethnic integration, 213, 279, 291, 290; and symbol of Chinggis Khan, 262. See also Ethnic identification project

Communist project, 9, 10, 14–19 passim, 22–24; Confucian co-optation of, 25; and historical evolution, 26–27; and assimilation, 27; and fostering of ethnic pride (festivals, costumes, dancing), 27; and Manchus, 31, 32; promotion of national culture, 40, 40n2; and Yi history, 67, 80–84; and Miao, 109–14; use of history, 118–19, 184–85; and Sani, 184–85; and language policy, 280. See also Ethnic identification project; Education, ethnic

Confucian project, 7, 10, 17, 27, 67; and hierarchy of peoples, 8–9, 208; and ethnic identification, 17–20, 208; and competition with Christian project, 24–26; co-optation of communist project, 25–26; and Hui, 33; and moralism, 42, 44, 208; and literati tradition of history 129; and emphasis on emperor-subject relationship, 195–96; and exam system, 197

“Cooked” and “raw” measures of civilization, 19–20, 100

Dai kingdom, 88, 308, 312

Darwinism, social, 147, 152, 170, 176. See also Evolutionary theory; Morgan, Lewis Henry

Degradation theory, 152

De Vos, George, 306

Dorgon, 191, 192, 208

Dragon Boat Festival, 111

Dress, 12, 97–98, 105, 116

Durkheim, Emile, 274

Economic backwardness (of peripheral peoples), 106

Economic system, common (as one of Stalin’s criteria), 10–12, 82, 95–97

Education: missionary, 14, 94, 108, 110, 118, 240–41, 247; as part of civilizing project 15, 19; modern, 261; ethnic, impact of, 278, 285–300; ethnic, aims of 278–81, 283–84; ethnic, guidelines in
INDEX

Inner Mongolia, 280–84; ethnic, language policy, 280–92, 295–98, 299; urban, 284–93; ethnic, and the Hui, 287; ethnic, and ethnic integration 296

Educational metaphor, 13–15

Engels, Friedrich, 41, 85. See also Evolutionary theory, social Ethnic consciousness, 3, 6, 23; development of, 7, 17, 27–34; definition of, 27–28; elements of, 29; Bai development of, 31; Yao development of, 32; Dai of Sipsong Panna development of, 32–33; among Mongols, 33; Hui development of, 33–34; as reaction to missionary project, 140, 140n1, 180, 184, 243, 244, 245; and Sani, 142, 142n1; and tourism, 142n1; reclassification effort, 172; development of, and millennial movements, 221; and impact of ethnic education, 280. See also Ethnic identity

Ethnic history writing project, 122

Ethnic identification project, 9; description of, 23–24, 46–47; use of history, 46–47, 81, 117; and Chinese ethnology, 40–41, 61–62, 79; and social evolution, 41–43; and Naxi, 46–62; politics of, 61–62; and Stalin’s criteria, 66, 82; method, 81–83, 130n13, 172; and Miao, 109–14; and Yao, 129–30; minzu support of, 120–30, 322–23; interaction with existing notions of ethnicity, 137–40; and domination, 316–17. See also Stalin’s criteria for nationality

Ethnic identity, 6; and discrimination, 6, 293, 323; racial paradigm of, 15, 66, 70–75 passim, 154, 171, 208, 209–10; official policy encouragement of, 44, 115–16, 213, 214, 237, 326; and history, 52–62, 66–67, 75–79, 81, 83–84, 90–91, 117–18, 128–35; and religion, 55–66, 58–59, 137–59, 177, 220–21, 240–43, 233–37 passim; subjective meaning of, for Naxi and Mosuo, 56, 58; subjective meaning of, and Yi, 65–66; historical basis of, 66, 77, 79, 81, 123–38; ascribed, 83, 106, 137, 193; subjective meaning of, and Miao, 99; adoption of Chinese categories, 107, 114–16; transformations of, 117; political nature of, 120–21, 187, 189, 191, 194, 307, 327; negotiation of, 121; and resource competition, 127n10; subjective meaning of, and Mongols, 136, 286, 289, 290; Edmund Leach’s conception of, 165–166; definitions of, 187, 142, 250, 278, 320; and habitus, 205–206, 214; emotional appeal of, 206, 266, 269; as dialogic, 207; and descent, 208, 277, 304, 306; and shared experience, 211–12; impact of education on, 211, 278, 285–300; and conflict, 220, 221, 237, 260–61, 292; and literacy, 240–41; language as basis of, 288, 290, 292, 297, 300; peer group influence on, 299; subjective meaning of, and Tai/Dai Lue, 299–300, 304, 305, 315, 320–21; and subjecthood, 303–307, 325; and common territorial membership, 304–305, 315. See also Stalin’s criteria for nationality

Ethnic integration (official policy), 213, 279, 284, 291, 296

Ethnic markers, 32, 33, 44, 66, 97–98, 108

Ethnic melting (official policy), 278, 280

Ethnology, Chinese: and nationalities question, 39–41, 46–47, 53, 61–62, 120; and evolutionary theory, 41–43, 47–48, 53; and Mosuo, 44; and Naxi, 48–49; and post-liberation vocabulary, 53; and Miao, 97; and Communist Party, 97, 120, 311; cultural basis of during Republican period, 106–107

Evolutionary theory, social, 7, 15–16, 118; and People’s Republic of China, 39–40, 80n14; and nationalities question, 39–43; critiques of, 39–40; and Chinese ethnology, 41–43, 47–48, 53; and Naxi, 47–49, 60–61; and descent systems, 54–57; and Yi, 89–91; and Yao, 123, 128–35. See also Darwinism, social
INDEX

Fanca, 190
Fang Guoyu, 53, 54n26
Fei Xiaotong, 98–99, 316
Feminization (of peripheral peoples), 10, 12–13, 44.
Feng Han-yi, 73–75
Fenouil, Monseigneur, 148, 148
Festivals, 110–12
Feudalism, 26, 87, 88; and Yi, 89–90, 148n7; and Miao, 95, 96–97, 229–31; and Yao, 128, 131, 136; and minzu classification, 148n7
Flower-Mountain Festival (Huashan Jie), 111–12
Folk categories, 23, 47, 66
Forbidden City, 196
Gada Meilin (Mongol hero), 295
Gai tu gui liu, 222, 229
Galdan Tsering, 257–59
Gang of Four, 113
Gender equality, 167
Genealogies, 54, 58, 67–68, 94
Gni-p’a, 140, 141, 153, 172. See also Sani; Yi
Golden Descendants (Altan Uragh), 252, 266, 272
Golden Palace of Jing Rung, 308, 311
Goodenough, Ward, 177
Gramsci, Antonio, 8
Great Leap Forward, 267
Group marriage, 43
Gu (magical poisoning), 107
Habitus, 205–206, 214, 221n3
Hakka (Kejiaren), 212
Han, 9, 11, 23, 41; concepts of ethnicity, 14, 46, 49, 50, 98–99, 104, 109; numerical dominance of, 19, 25, 40, 75, 93, 267, 283, 298; and Christians, 21, 157–58; culture of as standard for civilization, 25, 40, 76, 78–79, 81, 87, 100–101, 315, 315n13, 327; chauvinism of, 25–26, 42, 48, 49, 126, 260, 290, 291, 293, 299–98; and Yi, 25–56 passim, 76, 78–79, 81, 154–56; and Naxi, 42, 48, 49, 50; and Miao, 95, 96–97, 98–99, 100–101, 104–106, 109, 230–36; household economy of, 96–97; and Yao, 126; and Sani, 154–56, 161, 169; marriage customs of, 166–67; and Manchus, 197, 200, 202, 206–10; and Miao, 230, 236; and Mongols, 235–56, 259–60, 260n13, 282–83, 290–98 passim; as elder brother, 279; history of as official, 293–95; and Dai, 317–18, 323. See also Hanjun
Handbook for Minority Work (Minzu gongzuo shouce), 109–11
Hani, 322–23
Hanjun, 189–90, 195, 207
Heavenly Dynasty, 308, 309
Hegemony, 8, 110, 36
He Xuewen, 49
Historical consciousness, 274
Historical metaphor, 15–17, 121
History: and Communist project, 26–27; Marxist-informed, 26, 27, 118–19, 129; construction of, and ethnic identity, 46–47, 53–62, 66–67, 117–18, 128–35; and legends, 58, 79, 146, 247; basis in for minzu identity, 75–79, 81, 83–84, 90–92, 128–35; oral, 129; contested nature of, 129, 129n12, 135–39; reconstruction of and philology, 130; and narratives, strategies of, 131; and incorporation of local perspectives, 136, 139; Orientalist use of, 170; Western imperialist use of, 170. See also Evolutionary theory, social
The History of the State of Lue, 313n10
Hli-Khin, 48
Hmong, 29, 92, 168, 217n1
Hmu, 217
Hobsbawm, Eric, 266, 277
Hong Taiji (Abahai), 187, 190–91, 196, 233; administrative techniques of, 192–93; and Chinggis Khan symbol, 264
Houli, 308, 312
Hughes, Daniel, 177–79
Hui, 33–34, 95, 105, 199, 287
Ideology: of civilizing project, 4, 8–17, 19, 20; communist, 4, 8, 12, 17, 19, 20,
INDEX

39–40, 56, 80n14, 122, 262, 279, 315–16, 325; Chinese Nationalist, 106–107; of subjecthood, 304–307. See also Evolutionary theory, social Imperial Chinese state, 18–20
Imperialism, Western. See Western imperialism
Indochina, 68
Inner Mongolian People’s Revolutionary Party, 292–93, 293n2
Jackson, Anthony, 36, 56n32
Japanese, 106, 186, 210, 211, 264
Jesuits, 176
Jiang Yingliang, 76–77
Jianshi. See Yaozu Jianshi
Jianzhou Jurchen Federation, 187–90, 198. See also Jurchen
Jimizhengce (loose reign policy), 132, 133
Jin dynasty, 187–88, 195, 293
Jing Man, 130
Jino, 322–23, 322n6
Johnston, R. F., 163
Joint Boarding School, 287–91
Jurchen, 188, 190, 195, 199, 293, 294
Kalmyk, 248n2, 261
Kangxi emperor, 17, 194–95, 208, 255
Kazaks, 248n2
Keyes, Charles F., 290n4, 320
Khalkha, 251, 255, 256, 257–59
Khatso (Yunnan Mongols), 279n32
Khorchin, 251
Kirghiz, 248n2
Kuhn, Philip A., 127
Language: diversity among Naxi, 50; and history, 81; diversity among Miao, 93–95; diversity among Yao, 119–20, 123; as tactic in conversion, 195; and Mongols, 268, 268n22, 283; policy in education, 280–92, 295–98, 299; differential prestige value of, 286–87; diversity among Tai/Dai ethnic group, 319
Lao She, 202
Lattimore, Owen, 235–56
Law of the People’s Republic of China for Regional National Autonomy, 315, 316
Leach, Edmund, 161–66, 166n10
Leenhardt, Maurice, 179
Legal status of peripheral peoples, 18, 23
Legendre, A. F., 68, 71–72
Legends, 38, 79, 146, 247
Lenin, Vladimir Ilyich, theory of, 27
Lietard, Alfred, 69, 70, 160, 166n21
Ligden Khan (Chinggisid), 252–53, 264
Literacy, 240–41, 247
Li Tianbao, 224
Li Zicheng, 192
Lolo, 137. See also Gni-p’a; Sani; Yi
Long Yun, 106
Lue, 304–10 passim, 320, 328. See also Dai; Dai-Lue; Tai; Tai-Lue
Lue state, 309. See also Sipsong Panna
Luo Raodian, 104–105
Lu Simian, 76, 77
Ma Changshou, 84–89
Man, 109
Manchu Association in Taiwan, 212
Manchukuo, 186, 211
Manchus, 6, 9, 30–31; and Communist project, 31, 32; during Republican period, 106, 212; identity, creation of, 187, 190–91, 211–12; banners of, 189–90; and Hong Taiji, 190–91; consolidation of rule, 191, 192; identity, components of, 192–94; identity, formalizing notions of, 194–99; political tradition of, 106; identity of as hereditary, 196–97, 198, 205; absorption of Han culture, 196–97; elite, 197–99; purity of, 197–99; frontier, 199–202; economic weakness of, 199–204; identity of, and ordinary Manchus, 199, 211; garrisons of, 202–204, 206; interaction with Han, 204, 207–10; massacres of, 210; and Nationalist government, 212; and People’s Republic of China, 212–13; in Taiwan, 212, 214; identity and official recognition of, 213–14; and Mongols, 251n5, 252, 255–57, 259–60; and Tibetan
INDEX

Buddhism, 256; sinification of, 260; and Chinggis Khan symbol, 264
Mao Zedong, 265, 266, 279
Marx, Karl, 41, 61. See also Evolutionary theory, social; Marxism; Stalin's criteria for nationality

Marxism: scholarship of, 16, 28, 172; historiography of, 67, 88n7, 118, 119n2, 147. See also Evolutionary theory, social; Marx, Karl; Stalin's criteria for nationality

Ma Xueliang, 174, 181–83

Miao, 9, 13, 158; sexual customs of, 10, 101, 109; depiction of in pictorial albums, 11, 19, 100, 101–104; ethnic consciousness of, 29–30; elite participation in civilizing project, 35; Miao-Yao and Yi, 73; San, 89, 99; spatial distribution of, 92–93; language diversity of, 93–95; Chuan-Qian-Dian languages of, 94; economic diversity of, 94–97; Sheng, 96, 102; cultural diversity of, 97–99; origins of, 99–100; as a Chinese category, 99–106; Hong, 102; Hei Sheng, 104; Western, 105; La Pa, 105; Caijia, 105; Eastern, 105; Shan, 105; during the Republican period, 106–108; Chuan, 108; in People's Republic of China, 109–14; economic organization of, 109, 110; migrations of, 109–110; religious festivals of, 110–12; economic development of, 112–14; adoption of government ethnic categories, 114–16; Bai, 115, 217n1; and millenarianism 217, 218–20, 233–34, 245–46; Qing, 217n1; and Chinese expansion, 222–25; and Western expansion, 226–40; impact of capitalist activities on, 228–29; resistance and Christian missionaries, 234–35, 237; political economy of, 236–37. See also Miao, Hei; Miao, Hua

Miao, Hei (Black Miao), 105; and millennial movements, 217; and failure of missionization, 226, 236–40; political economy of, 236–37

Miao, Hua (Flowery Miao), 95, 102, 108; and economic development, 113–14; idea of own ethnicity, 115; and millennial movements, 217, 234, 236; response to missionization, 226, 238–39, 240–43; political economy, 229–31; Christians, persecution of, 235; and ethnic change, 240–43

Miao King (Miao Wang), 220, 222–23, 224–25, 232–33, 240

Mid-Autumn Festival, 294

Mien, 137

Millenarianism, 217–47; theoretical approaches to, 217–21; and ethnic cohesion, 220; as a response to domination, 220; and semiotics, 223–25, 233–34

Ming dynasty, 99–105 passim, 192, 251n5

Minjia, 31–32

Minorities. See Minzu; Peripheral peoples

Minorities question, 46–47. See also Ethnic identification project; Minzu

Minzu, 9, 12, 23, 41, 50; and historical development, 24, 26, 148n7; willing adoption of category of, 35, 114, 116; relative poverty of, 40; study of, 41; characteristics of, 82, 92; discursive nature of, 122, 311; as an objective reality, 135; and interaction with existing notions of ethnicity, 137–40; membership privileges of, 213. See also Ethnic identification project

Minzu tuanjie (ethnic unity), 278

Missionaries, 17, 30; and schools, 14, 110, 153, 158, 240–41, 247; and Western imperialistic expansion, 20, 144, 226–40 passim; and Han, 21, 22, 145; and conversion, 22, 25, 143, 176–79; expulsion from China, 22; and Yi, 68–70; and written language, 94, 108; and interaction with Orientalist agenda, 143–44, 159; as defenders of minorities, 145; Chinese persecution of, 153; tolerance for local customs, 175–76; conversion practices of, 176–79; Jesuits, 176; as ethnographers, 179–80; and ethnic change, 217; and political power, 221,
INDEX

228, 231, 235-36, 237-38; and conflict with Chinese society, 227-28; and resistance, 234-35. See also Christianity, conversion to; Christian movements; Christian project; Missionary project Missionary project, 9, 14-15, 16, 18, 176; and native religions, 9; motivation for, 20, 147; ethnocentric reactions to, 140, 140n1, 184; and Orientalism, 143-44, 159; rational, 157; Sani response to, 180-83; as destructive of local culture, 181-82; as competing against Communist project, 181-83; success of, 226, 238-39, 240-43; lack of success of, 226, 236-40; and Western expansion, 227-29. See also Christianity, conversion to; Christian movements; Christian project; Missionaries Les Missions Catholiques (tabloid), 150, 151, 152, 157 Modernization: and Communist project, 23, 109, 112; and peripheral peoples, 42-43, 106; theory, 42n5; and forces retarding, 78, 122, 130; and evolutionary theory, 119; Yao support of, 120; and minzu history, 135; and traditional culture, 138-39; and official histories, 139-40 Modern media, 261, 269 Mong, 217n1 Mongke Temur, 188, 190 Mongolia, 248n1. See also Mongolia, Inner; Mongolian People's Republic; Mongols Mongolia, Inner, 248; and People's Republic of China, 266, 274, 276; and ethnic education, 280-84; and Han chauvinism, 295-98 Mongolia, Outer. See Mongolian People's Republic Mongolian Language Learning Movement, 291-92 Mongolian People's Republic: 248n2; and meaning of Chinggis Khan, 249-50; 261-64; founding of, 261; nationalism and Soviet repression, 261-64. See also Mongols, Outer Mongols, 33, 51, 61, 105, 106; Inner, and Chinggis Khan, 248-49, 264-69, 273; Buryat, 248, 261; ethnicity, development of, 248-50, 255-60, 261, 268; Outer, and Chinggis Khan, 249-50, 261-64; early history of, 251-53; factionalism of, 251, 254-55; ethnicity, lack of, 254-55, 259; political and economic organization of, 256-57, 283, 285; rebellion of, 257; ethnicity, criteria for, 268-69; Yunnan, 279n22; ethnicity of, and impact of education on, 278, 280, 282, 285-300; and urban education, 284-93; cultural diversity among, 288-91; Temut, 283-86, 292, 299. See also Chinggis Khan, symbol of Morgan, Lewis Henry, 7, 16, 39, 41-43, 53, 89-91. See also Evolutional theory, social Morgan-Englesian theory, 39-49, 53. See also Evolutional theory, social; Morgan, Lewis Henry Mosuo, 16, 44, 163n16; and zouhun, 43, 44, 52-53, 56-57n32; and Stalin's criteria for nationality, 48, 49-53; social organization and social evolution of, 52-53, 54-55, 56-57, 59-61; religion of, 55-56, 58-59; history of, 58 Moyao, 125 Mueller, Herbert, 71, 72-73 Muslims, 150-51 Myths, 54, 99, 190, 224 Nagata, Judith, 206 Namm, 124 Nanzhao kingdom, 87-88, 311, 312 Nari, 48 Nasu, 229n6 National culture, 40, 42n2, 118n1, 279, 279n1 National integration, 281 Nationalism, 293, 324 Nationalities Commission, 66. See also Ethnic identification project; Minzu National People's Congress, 115 Nation state, modern, 22, 28 Naxi: and social evolutionary theory,
INDEX

39–46, 54, 60–61; and Chinese ethnologists, 40–49; and ethnic identification process, 46–62; and Stalin’s cri­ tera for nationality, 49–53; social organization of, 52–53, 54–55, 56–57, 57n32, 60; construction of history of, 52–62;
religion of, 55–56, 57; and Tibetan Buddhism, 58–59; and Yi, 86
Neo-Scholastic movement, Catholic, 152, 177
Nuosu (Yi), 59, 65, 148, 150n8, 168. See also Yi
Nurgaci (Nurhaci), 187, 188–90, 196, 207, 253
Nuragan, 188, 200
Oboi, 191–92, 194, 197, 208
Oirat, 251, 255
Orientalism, 7; and Christian project, 21,
140–43, 144, 199, 175; approaches of,
141–47; and variation in motivation,
143–47; use of history in, 147, 170–71;
classification of peoples in, 172; mutual reinforcement among participants in, 175; and Sani, 183–85
Pan Hu (Dog King), 126, 137
Pan Yao, 137
Peirce, C. S., 218–19. See Semeiotics,
Peircian
Peripheral peoples, 3, 4; complicity with civilizing project, 4, 5, 6, 116, 34–35, 122, 126, 146, 169; definition of, 8–17;
objectification of, 8–17 passim; ranking of, 9, 18–19, 22, 25, 42; sexual metaphors for, 10–13, 44; feminization of,
10, 12–13; as polluting, 13; as children,
13–15, 151, 156, 158n11, 160; as ancient,
15–16, 121; as primitive, 15, 16, 19, 45, 90, 108–109; absorption of, 19; legal status of, 18, 23; prejudice against, 26;
reactions to civilizing project, 27–34;
development of ethnic consciousness,
28–29; as barbarians, 42, 44, 100, 102,
123; contradictory views of, 43
Philology, 130
Pimo (Yi priest), 162n8, 169
Pollard, Samuel, 30, 171–72, 226, 232, 233
Pollard script, 94
Popular culture, 44, 116
Printing, modern, 261
Propaganda (Holy See’s agency to coordinate missionary activity), 175
Pu, 76, 86
Pumi, 59, 60
Puren, 86
Pu Yi, Henry, 186
Qiandong languages, 94
Qiang, 89
Qianlong emperor, 20, 30–31, 194–99,
208
Qing dynasty, 105–106, 208; Manchu pol­icy of, 191, 192n3, 199–201, 210, 211; decline in power of, 186, 208; and Monggols, 251, 255
Qubilai Khan, 252, 272
Rabinow, Paul, 179–80
Race: as ethnic marker, 15, 66, 70–75,
171; as characteristic of being civilized,
19, 21; and history, 81, 146; and Orientalism, 154; and anti-Manchu sentiment, 208, 209–10
“Raw” and “cooked” measures of civilizi­ atlon, 19–20, 100
Rea, George Bronson, 186
Rebellion, 35; Miao, 104, 105, 110, 222–
25, 234–35, 237; Yao, 126–28, 134; by Three Feudatories, 208; against Man­ chus, 210; Taiping, 227; Boxer, 228;
Mongol, 257, 260, 260n13, 295;
Kausambi, 310. See also Resistance
Religion: Naxi and Mosuo, 55–56, 58–59;
Miao, 110–12; freedom to pursue, 114;
as survival of earlier historical stages,
137; and Sani, 178–79; and emotion,
218–20, 233, 234; and ancestor worship of Chinggis Khan, 252, 269–74. See also Christian movements; Millenarianism;
Tibetan Buddhism; Taoism
Republican period: scholars of, 76–79; views toward nationalities during,
106–108, 212
INDEX

Researches on Manchu Origins (Manzhou yuanliao kao), 195, 196
Resistance: to civilizing projects, 4, 35; of Tibetan nationalists, 4; Miao, 100, 104, 110, 111, 234–36, 238, 244–45; Yao, 117, 119, 121; and millennial movements, 220; and conversion to Christianity, 231–32, 234–35, 244–45; and missionary influence, 235–36, 238; and symbol of Chinggis Khan, 263. See also Rebellion
Revolution of 1911, 210, 211
Rites Controversy, 176
Ritual, 55–56, 101, 137; of Chinggisin Tahilga 269–74
Rock, Joseph F., 54n27
Roux, Père, 168, 168n24
Royal Geographic Society, 149
Sacrifice to Heaven (Naxi), 55–56, 56n30, 31
Said, Edward, 7, 8, 11, 21, 142–43. See also Orientalism
Sani, 22, 30, 35, 63n1, 65; Père Paul Vial’s writing about, 60–140, 151–57, 163–66; usage of term, 140–41; creation of as a category, 140, 141, 165, 170–73; and Orientalist literature, 147; response to missionary project, 155, 156, 158, 180–83; migration of, 160; relationship to Han, 161; creation myths of, 162; literature and poetry of, 164; morals and customs of, 164–68; gender equality among, 167; inheritance rules of, 167n22; kinship terms of, 168, 168n22; sinification of, 169; writing system of, 169–70; religion of, 178–79; in People’s Republic of China, 184–85. See also Yi
Sani Yi, 140, 172. See also Sani
Schools, 14, 211. See Education; Missionaries, and schools
Science, 26, 70–71, 71n10, 146, 316
The Secret History (Nuuchi tobchi), 252, 252n10, 263
Self-Government Law of the Yunnan Xishuangbanna Dai Nationality Autonomous Prefecture, 322
Self-strengthening movement, 118
Semiotics, Peircian, 218–19, 223–25, 238
Sexual exoticization of peripheral peoples, 10–13, 44, 45, 102–103, 116
Shepherd, John, 246
Shi ji, 124
Shryock, John, 71, 73–75
Shunzhi emperor, 191, 191n3, 208
Sinification, 105, 107, 114, 127, 169, 260
Sino-French war, 144
Sipsong Panna: existence of, 301–304; relationship with other Tai kingdoms, 306–307; status of, 311, 321; interaction with Chinese government, 313–14, 319, 322, 323; and Xishuangbanna Dai Nationality Autonomous Prefecture, 315–16; and Chinese nationalism, 324; and ethnic identity, 235; kings of, 308–14. See also Dai; Dai-Lue; Lue; Tai; Tai-Lue
Slave system, 85, 86–88, 133, 148n7, 200, 231
Socialist development, 281. See also Modernization
Société des Missions Étrangères de Paris, 150, 175
Soviet historiography, 80. See also Evolutionary theory, social Soviet Union, 249, 261–64
Spencer, Herbert, 7
Stalin’s criteria for nationality, 23, 33, 39, 47, 66; common territory in, 49, 92–93, 304, 305, 315; common language in, 50, 81, 91–95, 119–20, 123, 268, 268n22, 283, 319; common economy in, 50–52, 82, 95–97; common culture in, 52–53, 64–65, 67, 97–99, 120, 288–91, 319, 320
Subaltern, voice of, 126
Sun Yat-sen, 106, 209, 276n34
Symbols: multisignification of, 264; emotional appeal of, 266; of kingship, 306, 307. See also Chinggis Khan, symbol of; Miao King
Tai, 306–308. See also Dai; Dai-Lue; Lue; Tai-Lue
INDEX

Tai-Lue, 301, 303; view of Chinese state, 308–10; Chinese view of, 310–12, 314–15. See also Dai; Dai-Lue; Tai; Tai-Lue

Taiping ideology, 209

Taiping Rebellion, 210, 227

Taiwan, 20, 212, 214, 246

Tang dynasty, 132

Tang Jiyao, 106

Taoism, 122, 137–39

Tatars (Turkic Muslims), 106, 202

Temujin (Chinggis Khan), 251. See also Chinggis Khan, symbol of

Temur Secondary School, 285–87

Territory, common (as Stalin’s criterion for nationality), 49, 92–93, 304, 305, 315

Thailand, 301, 304

Three Feudatories, 208

Tibet, 311

Tibetan Buddhism: and Naxi and Mosuo, 58–59; monasteries of, 96; in Mongolia, 253–54, 256–57, 270, 273, 286

Tibetans, 4, 11, 105, 106

Tibeto-Burman dictionary project, 173

Tibeto-Burman language, 50

Tourism, 110, 142

Tuguan, 133

Tuola, 86

Turkic peoples, 105

Tusi: and Naxi, 51, 52, 54; and Mosuo, 61; and Yi, 89; and Miao, 105, 222; and Yao, 112, 134

Under the Red Banner (Zheng hong qi xia), 202

Uprising. See Rebellion

Vial, Père Paul, 30, 69; motivation of, 141; background of, 141–42; earliest records of, 149–50; comparison of Sani and Han by, 150, 154–56, 169; writings of, 151, 152–58, 158–75; and Orientalism, 151, 154–55, 155, 183–85; arrival in Sani country, 153; and conflict with Han authorities, 157–58; death of, 158; De la langue et de l’écriture indigène au Yú-Nán, 158–61; Les

Lolos: Histoire, religion, moeurs, langue, écriture, 158–59, 161–71; Dictionnaire Français-Lolo, dialecte Gni, 159, 173–75; and subjectivity of ethnicity, 159, 166; and local customs, 177–78; as ethnographer, 179–80

Von Eickstedt, Egon, 71, 73–74

Wa, 45

Wenhu, 18, 25

Western imperialism: and missionaries, 20, 36, 144, 145–46, 227–29; and Orientalism, 143, 175; and evolution, 170; and anti-Manchu agitation, 209; political aspects of, 227–28; economic aspects of, 228–29

World systems theory, 42

Wuling Man, 130

Wu Sangui, 225

Wuxi Man, 130

Wuman (Black Barbarians), 87

Xiangxi, 94

Xifan, 86, 86n16

Xioob, 217n1

Yang Hanxian, 107

Yao, 32; People’s Republic of China portrayal of, 117, 118–20; category, composition of, 119, 119n3; language diversity among, 119–20, 123; cultural diversity among, 120; participation in modernization project, 120–21; negotiation of ethnicity, 120–22, 128–30; origins of, 121–22, 123, 124–25, 130–32; Taoism of, 122, 137–39; resistance of, 123–24, 126–28, 131, 132, 133; history, pre-1949 conception of, 123–28; proliferation of studies about, 123n6; Marxist evolutionary history of, 128–35; economy of, 132; migration of, 133–34; history, contested nature of, 135–39; scholars, 136, 138

Yao Miao, 102

Yaozu jianshi (A concise history of the Yao), 130–32, 133–38 passim

Yesugui, 251n4
INDEX

Yi, 30; language of, 63; cultural diversity among, 64–65; self-identification of, 65–66; and ethnic identification process, 66, 81–84; history, Western writers of, 67–75; history, missionary accounts of, 68; racial paradigm of, 70–75; White, 73–74, 78; Black, 73–74, 78, 86; history, pre-1949, 75–79; Han influence on, 78; history, post-1949, 79–90; Ma Changshou’s account of, 84–90; origins of, 84, 89; social structure of, 84, 87; slave mode of production, 86–89; relationship with Miao, 95, 105, 230, 234–38, 244–45; Orientalist descriptions of, 147–48; distinction between forms of, 173n29; holy books of, 181;

Yizu gudai shi (Ancient history of the Yi), 84–89

Yongzheng emperor, 194

Yuan dynasty, 51, 51, 188, 252, 255

Yue Fei, 293–94

Yunnan school of painting, 11

Zandan, 273n31

Zasaak, Prince, 295

Zeng Chaolun, 77

Zhang Zuolin, 295

Zhao Kuangyin (Song Taizu), 124

Zhongguo minzu shi (History of the peoples of China), 76

Zhou dynasty, 76–77

Zhou Enlai, 280, 319

Zhu Yuanzhang, 294

Zongmuyu (Zzemuvyvy), 85

Zounin (walking marriage), 43, 44, 44n10, 52, 52n24, 60

Zungar, 253, 256, 257–59, 261. See also Oirat