Acknowledgments

We are indebted to the following:
Eelco Wolf, director of Worldwide Marketing Communications at Polaroid, and the Polaroid Corporation for generously funding the fieldwork of this project and the traveling exhibition, City Limits, and also for providing Polaroid equipment and materials. Throughout this project Eelco Wolf has offered helpful counsel and unqualified support.

Robert E. Stoller, patron of the arts, for his generous grant in support of the publication of City Limits.

During our work on this project, we were helped in many ways by various Bostonians and neighborhood institutions.
