CONTENTS

Foreword to the Humanities Open Book Edition xi
Acknowledgments xiii
Preface xv

CHAPTER ONE

A New Vision for an Old Hill, 1630–1900 1
The Shawmut Peninsula 3
When Patriots Gathered 7
The Mount Vernon Proprietors 10
Moving Mountains—Literally 14
Enclave of Charm: Louisburg Square 16
“Brahmins” on the South Slope 18
Sliding Fortunes 23
The North Slope 25
America’s First Black Church 29
The Fight against Slavery 31
Beacon Hill Bohemian 39

CHAPTER TWO

The Beacon Hill Renaissance, 1900–1930 43
“Streetfighter”: Marian Nichols 47
Real Estate Savvy: The Codmans 50
Architectural Passion: Frank A. Bourne 52
Launching the Beacon Hill Association 54
A Gentleman and a “Bull Dog”: Arthur D. Hill 55
Developers, Beware 57
A Tale of Two Main Streets 62
Enter the Automobile 66
The “Lost Generation” 69
Christmas on the Hill 73
CHAPTER THREE

War & Peace, 1940–1950

Japanese and Other “Strangers”  84
Return of the GI  87
The Brick Savers Ride Again  91
Mothers against Storrow Drive  95
Nowhere to Go but Down  99
West End Story  103
A Hill for History  106

CHAPTER FOUR

Reinventing Beacon Hill, 1960–2000

Awakenings  113
Battle for the North Slope  116
Today’s Interior, Yesterday’s Wall  119
Town and Gown  123
The Summer of Love  125
The ‘60s Generation Digs In  131
Hill House  134
Charles Street Fair  136
Small Miracles  140
Beacon Hill Village in the New Millennium  146

Epilogue  149
Notes  153
Index  167