The Cosmic Web

Hayles, N. Katherine

Published by Cornell University Press

Hayles, N. Katherine.
The Cosmic Web: Scientific Field Models and Literary Strategies in the Twentieth Century.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/58025

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2089079
CONTENTS

Preface 9
Introduction 15

PART I: MATHEMATICAL AND SCIENTIFIC MODELS

1. Spinning the Web: Representative Field Theories and Their Implications 31

PART II: LITERARY STRATEGIES

2. Drawn to the Web: The Quality of Rhetoric in Pirsig’s
   Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance 63
3. Evasion: The Field of the Unconscious in D. H. Lawrence 85
5. Subversion: Infinite Series and Transfinite Numbers in Borges’s Fictions 138
6. Caught in the Web: Cosmology and the Point of (No) Return in Pynchon’s Gravity’s Rainbow 168

References Cited 199
Index 205