Contents

Acknowledgments
Introduction
1. Hindu Sectarianism: Difference in Unity
2. “Just Like Kālidāsa”: The Making of the Smārta-Śaiva Community of South India
3. Public Philology: Constructing Sectarian Identities in Early Modern South India
4. The Language Games of Śiva: Mapping Text and Space in Public Religious Culture
   Conclusion: A Prehistory of Hindu Pluralism

Appendix
Notes
Bibliography
Index