Contents

Preface

Introduction: A Hindu Secretary in King Shah Jahan’s Court
1. Chandar Bhan’s Intellectual World: A Revisionist Perspective
2. A Mirror for Munshi: Secretarial Arts and Mughal Governance
3. King of Delhi, King of the World: Chandar Bhan’s Perspective on Shah Jahan, the Mughal Court, and the Realm
4. Writing the Mughal Self: Chandar Bhan’s Life and Letters
5. Making Indo-Persian Literature Fresh: Chandar Bhan’s Poetic World
6. The Persistence of Gossip: Chandar Bhan and the Cultural Memory of Mughal Decline

Conclusion: Ending at Just the Beginning

Notes
Bibliography
Index