Index

Abhinavagupta, 31
Abhinna, 51
achar (private ritual discipline), 48–49
achintya-bhed-abhed, 3
Advaita Acharya, 226n9
Advaita Bhavan temple, 51
aesthetics, 31, 73, 104, 229n36 affect, 27, 29, 106, 185; “affective turn” in theory, 28; anthropology of, 4, 25, 113; devotion and, 22; imagination and, 101; of Navadvip goswamis, 57; psychology of, 90; in studies of South Asian devotion, 30, 32; supra-individuality of, 32. See also emotions Alfonso, C., 155
alta (red foot paint), 80, 99
Alter, J. S., 144
alterity, 74, 138, 217
antash-chintita deha (inner-felt-thought body), 73, 227n4 anthropology, 27, 41, 187; of emotions, 4, 10, 25, 214, 215; manjari sadhana and, 81–87
anuman (inference), 112, 124
Appadurai, A., 25, 41
arati (light-offering), 42, 58, 59, 176; chanting and, 190, 191, 192, 196; lilas of Radha-Krishna and, 78–79; in Mayapur temples, 157, 158, 160, 172; in Samajbari temple, 80, 92, 228n14, 229n29 archaeology, of landscape and imagination, 72 architecture, as embodiment of myth/cosmology, 61
Asad, T., 27, 88–89
asceticism, 40, 55, 92, 122
ashrams, 1, 19, 36, 37, 110; akhras, 16, 61–65, 77; ascetic renouncers in, 2 Assam, 15, 16, 36
asta-kaliya-lila-smaran (meditation technique), 94
asvadan (taste), 227n12
Attali, J., 191
authenticity, 13, 49, 65
autonomy, subjective, 11
Ayodhya, 1, 7, 9, 13, 48, 66
babajis (ascetic renunciate men), 16–17, 22, 67–69, 159; ashrams (akhras) of, 61–65, 71, 201; caste system and, 169; Chaitanya birthplace controversy and, 42, 44, 47, 49; Chaitanya stories and, 36; chanting of lilas by, 192–96; diksha (initiation) of, 91–92; erotic songs about Radha-Krishna and, 32–33; feminine subjectivity adopted by, 79–80, 90–91, 92, 229n28; imagination of, 72, 73, 74, 76, 177, 219–220; ISKCON differences with, 107; kirtan (sacred music) and, 183–85, 195, 202; manas (mind-heart) and, 29, 114; manjari sadhana practice and, 71, 84–85, 107, 108; manjaris’ self-experience and, 99–100; migrants from Bangladesh, 18; pilgrims as disciples of, 39; raganuga bhakti of, 21; sabajiyas despised by, 110, 111–12; of Samajbari temple, 79, 92, 93, 94; sanitation of religion by, 20; sexuality of deities and, 112; singing of, 196; sound and, 190; as vegetarians, 54

Bachelard, Gaston, 10, 26, 75, 146–47, 216–17

bhakti rasa, 31

Balkwill, L., 209

Banaras, 1, 7, 225n4

Bangladesh, 15, 16, 120, 225n2

Bardhaman District, 17, 110

bartaman (presentness, immediacy), 112, 124

Basso, K. H., 72

bauls (poet-singers of Bengal), 117, 118, 129, 232n33, 233n42

Beck, G. L., 213

Becker, J., 199

being-in-place, 187, 214

Bellman, B. L., 85–86, 124

Bender, B., 25

Bengali language, 6, 30, 72, 78, 112, 115; absence of gender pronouns, 228n15; ISCKON publications in, 158; rustic pronunciation of, 110; songs in, 9–10, 196; terminology for space/place/sites, 225n15; urban pronunciation of, 127

Bengal-Vaishnavism, 2, 7, 14, 26, 146, 225n2; achintya-bhed-abhed, 3; aesthetics of, 104; central affective tenets of, 52; chanting and music in aesthetic of, 182; classical Sanskrit aesthetics and, 30–31; consolidation of, 21; Dhameswar temple and history of, 58; diversity of devotional traditions and practices, 215; imagination practices of, 72, 77; kirtan instruments and, 205; meditation and, 75; as scripted religion, 29; “self-replicating” mechanism in theology of, 221; senses of place and, 4, 24; sonic ontology of, 207; spatial practices in, 67; submission in, 91; theatrical performance and, 9; “true” representatives of, 13–14; types of bhakti and, 21

Berg, T. V., 160–61

Bhagavad Gita (the Gita), 6, 13, 16, 157; gurus’ explications of, 29; ISKCON devotional service and, 171; kirtan (sacred music) and, 182; translated into international languages, 158

Bhagavatam, 6–7, 13, 16, 78, 157; gurus’ explications of, 29; ISKCON devotional service and, 171; kirtan (sacred music) and, 182; practitioners’ knowledge of, 81; translated into international languages, 158

Bhagavata Purana, 13, 31, 152, 157, 231n17

bhajan (spiritual discipline), 68, 191

bhakti (devotion), 3, 23, 36, 52, 145, 218; aesthetic theory and, 73; bhakti-vidyākṣema (devotional service), 175–76; emotional Krishna bhakti, 7, 13; intellectual and non-emotional, 13; knowledge and, 86; sensory dimensions of, 14; types of, 21. See also raganuga bhakti; vaidhi bhakti

Bhakti Rasamrita Sindhu (Rupa Goswami), 31

Bhaktiratnakara (Chakrabarti), 45, 226n7, 227n8 (Chap. 2)

Bhaktivedanta, A. C. (Prabhupad), 17, 27, 150–51, 163; biographies of, 173; books written by, 157, 158, 164, 165, 169, 173; on chanting, 166; preaching mission in old age, 178

Bhaktivedanta Book Trust (BBT), 173

Bhaktivinode Thakur. See Datta, Kedarnath

Bharata, 31

Bhattia, V., 47, 50

bhava (latent emotive predispositions), 31, 201

Bhoja, 31

Bibaho-lila, 59

bindi pastes, 80, 228n17

body-as-place, 112, 115, 116, 132, 214, 216; gupta- (“veiled”) Vrindavan and, 146; ritual sex and, 144; social place and, 120–24

body-fluids, 22, 113–14, 115, 118, 127, 222; hydraulic metaphors and, 125; ingestion of, 135–37, 220–21; retention of, 114; sexual fluid, 228n12 body-in-place, 10, 26, 75, 112, 123

body-mind, 27, 72, 77, 97, 104, 227n8 (Chap. 3); boundaries of alterity and, 74; experience of place interiorized in, 10; imagination and, 9; sthul-deha (physical, acting body-mind), 95, 96

bongsho (lineage of goswamis), 55

Boro akhra, 64

Bose, M. M., 231n21, 232n27

Bourdieu, Pierre, 194

Bowen, J. R., 41–42

brahmacharis (celibate devotees), 152, 161, 168–69, 175, 176

Brahmavaivarta Purana, 230n41

Brahmin caste, 2, 15, 54, 92, 230n39 breath/breathing, 30, 95, 96–97, 147, 211, 222; body-fluids and, 113, 130; chanting indistinguishable from, 208; domer kaj (withholding breath), 140, 141, 142; self connected to universe by, 220; in tantric religions, 117

Brooks, C. R., 13

Brosius, C., 67

Buddhism, 74, 89, 210, 220, 227n3, 234n15

Calcutta, city of, 16, 18, 151, 176, 201

Calcutta Review, 47

Carter, Paul, 45

Case, M., 54

Casey, Edward, 10, 25, 26, 41, 42; on bodies and places, 123–24, 214; idea of place, 116, 146; on imagination, 75, 101; on “implacement,” 112, 147; phenomenology of, 77; on place-names, 43; on senses of place, 67

caste system, 16, 169

Cataldi, S. L., 116–17, 147, 193

Chaitanya (Mahaprabhu), 1, 2, 11–12, 52–53, 230n39; associates of, 15, 51, 60, 226n9; biographies of, 16, 29, 46, 50, 180; birthday of, 34, 54, 172; death of, 20; disciples of, 68; as dual manifestation of Radha-Krishna, 3, 8, 37, 57, 125, 130, 208, 230n43; epithets of, 226n1; guru as, 139; idols of, 15, 52, 55–58, 55, 63, 65, 81; life-events of, 40, 41, 49, 56–57, 59, 170; lila-kirtan and, 199, 200;
lilas (divine activities) of, 36, 38–39, 51, 60, 66, 199, 200; Natua Gour (dancing Chaitanya), 63, 64; as perceptive consciousness, 134, 232n28; sahajiya tradition and, 112, 130; similarity to Krishna, 51, 57, 60, 64

Chaitanya, birthplace of, 8, 17, 37, 65, 177; birthplace temples, 46, 68; controversy over, 19, 42–49, 69; spiritual ecstasies offered by, 38

Chaitanya Charitamrita, 13, 31, 81, 126, 231n17

Chaitanya Math, 52

Chakrabarti, Arindam, 105

Chakrabarti, Narahari, 226n7

Chakrabarti, S., 138, 139

Chand gazi samadhi, 52–53

Chandrodaya Temple, in Mayapur, 151, 152, 157, 158, 172, 190

chanting, 165–66, 174, 178, 181; breathing and, 208; discipline and, 189–192; Hare Krishna cycle, 182, 197

Chatterji, R., 201, 205

Classen, C., 186

community formation, 14, 217, 218, 223

Cook, J. C., 30, 85, 220

Cooke, J., 192

Cort, J. E., 69

cosmic pleasure principle (bladini sakti), 3

Csordas, T. J., 74, 112, 116, 138, 157, 217

dance, 192, 198, 205

darshan (spiritual gaze), 52

Das, Akinchana, 231n17

Das, Haridas, 64

Das, P., 232n27

Datta, Kedarnath (Bhaktivinod Thakur), 12, 17, 175; Bengal Renaissance and, 43; Chaitanya birthplace controversy and, 43–44, 47, 48

Dawson, A., 25

depth, 126, 130; after-life beliefs, 6, 118; Banaras as city of death, 225n14; ejaculation as, 129 renunciation as ritual death, 63, 231n19; sense of place and death rituals, 7

deha-tattva (knowledge about the body), 133

deities, 4, 5; body-fluids as embodiment of, 22, 114;

handmaidens of, 73; lilas (divine activities) of, 70, 71; sacred places and, 6; temple-altar deities, 157; uttering/chanting/singing names of, 24, 52, 178, 180, 183, 199. See also Radha-Krishna divine couple

Deleuze, Gilles, 28

Dhameswar Mahaprabhu Mandir temple, 54, 55–59

Dhulot festival, 64

diksha (initiation), 111, 121, 134–35, 141, 232n31; harinam-diksha (initiation into chanting), 169, 189; Krishna-mantra and, 91

dreams/dreaming, 76, 89, 95

dualism, 6, 118; Cartesian, 11, 28, 75, 223; subservient subjectivity and, 171

East/West binaries, 156, 161, 166

discipline and, 19, 32, 74, 146;

discipline and, 95–96; dissolution of causal body and, 96–97;

embodied instruments of kirtan and, 209; embodiment of feminine self following, 93; emotions and, 105; imagination and, 75;

ingestion of body-fluids and, 137; manjari sadhana practice and, 86, 138; nam-kirtan and, 197; sahajiyas and, 113, 129; sexual desire and, 98, 99; subservience and, 104

Eighteen-Place Theory, 115

embodiment, 10, 29, 78, 106, 116; architecture and, 61;
body-fluids as embodiment of deities, 114; of Chaitanya, 51, 57; devotion and, 14; imagination and, 75; of Krishna, 52, 63; phenomenological, 124; place and, 26; raganuga bhakti and, 23; studies of, 27; “vernacular architecture” and, 48 emotions, 8, 27, 29, 85;
anthropology of, 4, 10, 25, 214, 215; bhavataranga (waves of intense emotions), 219; devotional music and, 11; egolessness and, 105; five moods (bhavas) toward deities, 228n22; imagination and, 72, 74, 95; learned through discourse, 28; of manjaris, 138; memory and, 89; metaphors of substance and space, 115; of Radha, 104–5. See also affect Entwistle, A. W., 5–6, 7–8, 34
feces, 113, 130, 136
Feld, S., 24, 28, 186
female sexual (orgasmic) fluid, 113, 114, 130, 132
feminine subjectivities/sensibilities, 12, 14, 77–81, 135; absorption and femininity, 137; babajis’ initiation into, 92; body-fluids and, 114, 144; deities’ lilas in imagination and, 71; dreams and, 76; ego-effacement and, 93; handmaiden of Radha-Krishna, 94; as imagined essential selves, 92; ingestion of body-fluids and, 137; manas (mind-heart) and, 90; manjari in imagination-as-Vrindavan, 97–106; manjari sadhana practice and, 86; raganuga bhakti and, 87; retentive sexuality, 140; sabajiya sexual practice and, 132
Fernandez, J. W., 40
Flood, G., 125
Ford, Alfred, 151
Foucault, Michel, 27
Fuller, J. D., 12, 47
Ganga river, 1, 12, 64, 163; body-fluids mixed with water from, 136; Mayapur as island in, 44; pilgrims traveling by boat in, 35, 35, 45
Gaudiya Math, 12, 37, 61, 66, 150;
Chaitanya birthplace controversy and, 44, 49; establishment of, 42; headquarters (Abhina), 51; service as devotion and, 170; urban devotees of, 50
gender, layered, 9, 10, 216
gender, sacred, 4, 8, 36, 67, 113, 177
George, K. M., 123
Gold, A. G., 42
Goloka. See Vrindavan, celestial gopis (Krishna-lovers), 78 goshtanandi (those deriving pleasure from serving), 155, 219
goswamis, 18, 22, 67–69, 92, 159; Chaitanya birthplace controversy and, 42, 44–45; Chaitanya stories and, 36; chanting of lilas by, 192–96; Dhameswar temple and, 54, 55–60; erotic songs about Radha-Krishna and, 32–33; as householders, 54, 71; imagination of, 72, 73, 74, 76, 92, 95, 177, 219–220; ISKCON differences with, 107; kirtan (sacred music) and, 183–85, 188; lineages in Navadvip, 15–16, 55, 60; manas (mind-heart) and, 29–30, 114; manjari sadhana practice and, 71, 83–85, 107, 108; manjaris’ self-experience and, 99–100; pilgrims as disciples of, 39; raganuga bhakti of, 21; sabajiya despised by, 110, 111–12; sanitization of religion by, 20; sexuality of deities and, 112; as temple owners and attendants, 53–54, 59–61
Graves, E., 207
Gregory, C., 221
Guattari, Félix, 28

gupta (“veiled”) Vrindavan, 8–9, 19, 23, 36, 53, 180; babajis and, 61, 62; body-fluids and, 114, 144; Chaitanya and, 42, 45, 50, 56, 63; chakras of body and, 142; devotion service and, 178; feminine self and, 90; goswamis and, 59, 60; indistinguishability from Vrindavan, 52; ISKCON and, 48, 160; manas (mind-heart) and, 70, 72, 75; Mayapur physical geography as, 153; physical bodies as, 22; physical landscape as, 69; pilgrimage sites and, 37; ritual journey through body, 135; sacred-sonic utterance and, 213; sabaiyias and, 109, 121; sound and, 195; spiritual layering of geography and, 38; storytelling and, 47. See also Vrindavan gurukuls (spiritual schools for children), 152, 156, 162, 166–67
gurus, 18, 21, 29, 65, 75, 215; in devotee’s spiritual lineage, 100; embodiment of feminine self and, 93; ingestion rituals and, 136; ISKCON selection committee for, 169–170; lineages of, 62, 201, 222; mantras taught by, 86; marriage arrangements and, 165; pilgrims and, 49; sabaiyia, 119, 122, 126–27; sex with, 20, 22, 109, 138; temple sermons by, 31

Haberman, D. L., 229n36
Halliburton, M., 28, 74
Hanssen, K., 139
Hardy, F., 13, 97
Haribhakti Vilasa (Gopal Bhatta), 229n27
Haribol kutir, 64
Harisabha Mandir, 63
Harrison, George, 191
Hatley, S., 116
Hauser, S. L., 123
Hayden, R. M., 46, 118
Hayes, G., 125, 201
Hedley, D., 98
Heidegger, Martin, 25, 26, 157
Hein, N., 196
Helmreich, S., 191, 213
Hinduism, 1, 165, 218; after-life beliefs, 6; anthropology of, 1, 2, 4, 8, 11–14, 133; colonial discourse and, 225n1; foot-dust in beliefs of, 64, 78, 228n12; marriage practices, 231n10; sacred geography in, 67; sampradaya (sect/tradition), 19
Hindu nationalism, 161, 171
Hirschkind, C., 30, 185, 222
Holbraad, M., 76
Holdredge, B. A., 181
Holi (Dol) festival, 7, 34, 63, 66, 81, 199
Horstmann, M., 62
householders, 2, 16, 84, 161; Brahmni priests, 2; householder-renouncer binary, 122–23; householder-renouncer binary and, 161 identity formation, 48, 61 imagination, 9, 24, 25; anthropology of, 77; autonomy of, 101; discipline and, 88; double agency of, 90; embodied but not carnal, 20; heightened internal devotional states, 80, 228n16; indirect/inferential (anuman), 112; initiation/preparation and, 91–97; interior affect spaces of, 4, 30; memory and, 89–90, 94–95; as middle ground, 101; practices of imaginative landscape, 70–77; raganuga devotion and, 21; senses of place and, 10; as social activity, 220; as “somatic mode of attention,” 73; universal relevance of, 27; as visualization, 72, 227n3; Vrindavan experienced in, 22, 97–106, 177
incense, 53, 89, 94, 152, 153
ingestion rituals, 22, 126, 130–31, 144 Ingold, T., 75, 187, 207
interiority, 28, 112, 146, 214, 223 “interplaces,” 41
intuition, 32
Irigaray, Luce, 142, 147–48, 209, 221
ISKCON (International Society for Krishna Consciousness), 13, 37, 59, 68, 150, 223; on binary of materialism and spirituality, 163; Chaitanya birthplace controversy and, 43, 44, 47, 48–49; Chaitanya’s renunciation vows and, 56, 111; chanting practices, 189–192; devotional service of devotees, 27, 162, 170–76, 181, 218, 222; emphasis on physical landscape as gupta-Vrindavan, 69; establishment of, 12, 17; founding of, 150–51; General Body Commission, 167, 169, 173; Harinam Department, 174; historical stance toward temples, 61; international devotees of, 19, 50, 148–49, 163–66, 174; manjari sadhana practice and, 85, 107; Mayapur headquarters of, 2, 17–18, 151; metropolitan devotees of, 110, 161; Navadvip Vaishnavas’ criticism of, 158; as offshoot of Gaudiya Math, 42; organizational structure, 152; philosophy of place, 154, 159, 177; pilgrims and, 21, 34, 39, 156; rape cases and, 127, 231n18; “regulative principles” of, 165–66; renunciation seen by, 169; socialization of devotees, 166–170; vegetarianism and, 54; Western devotees of, 154, 174; worldwide popularity of, 18
Islam and Muslims, 43, 44, 116; Chand qazi samadhi site and, 52, 53; dikhr tradition, 185, 193; Sufism, 77, 178, 192, 208, 234n11
Jagannatha temple, 202
Jains, 162
Jankowiak, W. R., 203
Jankowsky, R. C., 210
jap-mala (chanting-bead necklaces), 24, 63, 182, 188, 189
Jewish mysticism, 198
Jiva Goswami, 31, 68, 227n4, 229n34
Johnson, M., 25, 124, 125
Jordt, I., 84
Kali (deity), 1
karan-sharir (causal body), 96–97, 229n34 karma: Hindu karmic cycle, 88, 133, 174, 231n11; sexual practices in sabajiya discourse, 121, 231n11
kay-mana-vakya concept, 29
Khandelwal, M., 92, 123, 154
khol (sacred drum), 69, 180, 183, 197; as embodied instrument, 205–13; mrdangam as Sanskrit term for, 168, 206 kirtan (sacred music), 24, 33, 57, 83, 109, 180; CDs of, 151, 188, 191; embodied instruments of, 205–13; ISKCON service and, 170; kartal (cymbals), 180, 197, 205–12; sabajiya and, 119; Samajbari temple and, 63; sankirtan (collective singing), 189, 219; sannyas (renunciation) and, 139; temple-stories and, 60. See also lila-kirtan; nam-kirtan Kniss, F., 160–61
knowledge (gyan), 86
Kokot, W., 155
Kovacs, G., 157
Krishna (deity), 2, 21, 74, 170; aishwarya form, 87; bathing-pond of, 52; birthday of, 172; blue skin color of, 147; childhood and adolescence of, 6–7; circular dance with lovers, 63, 81; dham (sacred place) of, 155, 172, 177, 187; essential self of, 229n34; flute of, 60, 78, 106, 140, 147, 203, 208–209; Gopal (child Krishna), 64; guru as, 139; as honey-bee, 210; initiation-mantra and, 134; as lover-god, 11; lovers of, 12, 79–80, 87; madhurya form, 87; manjari sadhana practice and, 87; Radha’s emotions toward, 104; semen as embodiment of, 114, 132; sex with women devotees, 132; similarity to Chaitanya (Mahaprabhu), 51, 57, 60, 64; as supreme deity, 3; as warrior-god of Mahabharata, 6, 46. See also Radha-Krishna divine couple “Krishna Consciousness,” 151, 155, 156, 160, 162, 169; householders’ practice of, 175; international preaching of, 190, 222; media productions related to, 176. See also ISKCON (International Society for Krishna Consciousness)

kulakundalini (energy reservoir in spinal base), 141, 142

Laidlaw, J., 162
Lakoff, G., 124, 125
Lalita Sakhi, 79–80, 94, 228n15
Lambek, M., 187
Leavitt, J., 33
Leder, D., 138
lila-kirtan, 179, 182–86, 188, 209; emotional reactions to, 186; rhythm in, 202; Vrindavan experienced through, 199–205. See also kirtan (sacred music) lilas (love-plays), of Radha-Krishna, 5, 20, 71, 78–79, 86, 106; Bhagavata Purana verses and remembrance of, 157; body-Vrindavan and, 138, 146; bower (body) of nine doors and, 143; chanting and remembering of, 192–96; lila-kirtan and, 199, 201, 204; sabajiya cosmology and, 125, 130, 131; spiritual imagination of devotees and, 111–12

lila-smarak-mandirs (temples commemorating divine plays), 59 locality, 41–42, 234n5
lotuses, body chakras (energy-centers) as, 131–32, 141–42, 212, 232n25

Luhrmann, T. M., 40
Lynch, O. M., 54
Lyons, J. D., 193
Mack, A., 50
Mahabharata, 6, 46
Mahaprabhu. See Chaitanya (Mahaprabhu)

manas (mind-heart), 20, 25, 29, 70, 100, 114; feminine self and, 90; imagination and, 71, 75, 77; kirtan (sacred music) and, 185; manjari sadhana practice and, 81; sanitized, 108; as Vrindavan, 72, 97, 102, 103

manas-jap (silent chanting in heart-mind), 182, 192

mandalas, 82, 142, 229n35

Manipur, 19, 79, 228n13

manjaris (female sabajiya practitioners), 132

manjaris (handmaiden of Radha), 12, 20, 81, 92, 195; in imagination-as-Vrindavan, 97–106; “originary memory” of Radha-Krishna’s love, 145; singer-manjaris, 196

manjari sadhana, 71, 89, 96, 107, 227n2; aesthetic theory and, 73; anthropological journey and, 81–87; chanting and, 194; exemplary spiritual figures and, 229n26; ingestion rituals and, 138; sabajiya as, 129; as sexual encounter with guru-Krishna, 125

mantras, 86, 111, 127, 134, 135, 168

Marglin, F. A., 202, 228n12

Marsden, M., 187
Mason, D. V., 9, 205
Massumi, B., 28
Mayapur, 1–2, 9, 17, 22, 126, 148, 219; auditory cultures of, 191; Chaitanya birthplace claim of, 42–49, 46, 151, 155, 177; as gupta ("veiled") Vrindavan, 23; ISKCON compound in, 17–18, 150, 156; as Miyapur ("land of Muslims"), 43, 44; pilgrims in, 23, 34–36, 35; as Prachin (old/original) Navadvip, 44; sacred landscape of, 49–53; sense of place in, 3; temples and temple-deities, 151–52, 152, 172. See also Navadvip-Mayapur sacred complex
McDaniel, J., 28, 115, 219 meditation, 74, 75, 94, 218; silent, 182; sonic, 209, 211, 213
memory, 28, 61, 89, 128
Mendoza, R. H., 165
menstrual blood, 22, 113, 114, 144, 232n34; fire corresponding to, 130; ingestion of, 136, 221
Merleau-Ponty, Maurice, 96, 116, 147
metaphors, 124–25, 147
middle class (bhadralk), 11–12
mimesis, 205
mind-as-place, 10, 26, 75, 112, 216
mind-heart. See manas (mind-heart) mind-in-place, 75
miracles, 59, 62–63
Mittermaier, A., 77, 220
monism, 6, 117, 118, 171
Morley, J., 116, 147
music, 4, 9, 52, 186, 218; Indian classical music, 188; Krishna’s flute, 60, 78, 106, 140, 147, 203, 208–209; musical ecstasy, 27; sensory dimensions of bhakti and, 14. See also kirtan (sacred music) Muslims. See Islam and Muslims mythological discourse, 86
Nadia District, 1, 7, 9, 67; as Chaitanya’s birthplace, 8; devotional topography of, 42; floods in, 45; as mirror-reflection of Vrindavan, 37; pilgrimage in, 34; sacred landscape of, 48, 219; sacred soundscape of, 183; sabajiya in, 17
nambatta (selling deities’ names), 175 nam-kirtan, 179–180, 182, 185, 188; celestial Vrindavan experienced through, 184, 196–99; emotional reactions to, 186; rhythm in, 202. See also kirtan (sacred music)
Nast, H. J., 148
Natu Gour (dancing Chaitanya), 63, 64
Natyashastra (rasa) (Bharata), 31
Navadvip, 1, 2, 7, 11, 121, 216, 230n39; aratis in temples of, 78–79; babajis in, 16–17; as center of Sanskrit learning, 15; Chaitanya birthplace controversy and, 42–49; goswami lineages in, 15–16; Mayapur as Prachin (old/original) Navadvip, 44–45, 226n7; Navadvip yogapitha sketch, 81, 82, 83; as “nine islands,” 44, 45; pilgrims in, 34–35, 35, 184; sacred landscape of, 53–61; sabajiyas of, 16–17, 109–110, 110; sense of place in, 3; temples and ashrams, 2, 6, 122, 199
Navadvip-Mayapur sacred complex, 1, 13, 18, 38; historical-mytical space enveloped by, 41, 61; pilgrims and pilgrimage industry in, 46, 215, 218; resident devotees, 4; sense of place in, 7; Vaishnavas in, 2
Navaro-Yashin, Y., 28, 226n17
Nayak, Bhatta, 31
neo-Krishna movement, 46
Nimai sannyas, 56
Nitaibari Temple, in Navadvip, 199
Nityananda, 15, 60
Openshaw, J., 137
oral traditions, 40, 119, 128, 231n20
Orissa, 15, 19

Palmer, G. B., 203

pancha ras-er upasana (worship of five fluids), 113
Panksepp, J., 198
Panopoulos, P., 207
parivar (disciples of goswami lineage), 55
Partition (1947), 120
Peabody, N., 227n10 (Chap. 2)
Pederson, M. A., 76
Persson, A., 84, 116, 138, 146
phenomenology, 25, 28, 74, 77, 103, 187; of listening practices, 205; of repetition, 203
Pike, A., 198

pilgrims/pilgrimage, 1, 26, 52, 65–67, 218; associated with “crossing over” from life to death, 7; babajis and, 62, 71; goswamis and, 71; greater and lesser sites, 37; in ISKCON compound (Mayapur), 151, 152, 156, 172; offerings of, 60; storytelling and, 39–40, 47, 51; traveling by boat in the Ganga river, 35, 35, 45 place, senses of, 3–4, 19–24, 67–69; community spirit and, 220; contested, 25; cosmopolitan mobility and, 155; creativity of, 215–16; distinct types of, 7; global space and service, 159–166; imagination and, 72; individual sites preceded by, 67; porous boundaries of mind and body, 214; sanctity and, 8; socio-religious landscape of Mayapur, 148–49; Vrindavan in imagination and, 106–8

place-world, 25

poetics, 31, 125, 126–132, 201, 231n21
prachar (preaching), 48

prakat (unveiled), 9, 20, 72
prasad/prasadam (food offered to deities), 80, 93, 122, 132, 138, 153; devotional service and, 174–75; foreign devotees and, 165, 174; served to pilgrims in Mayapur, 156, 157, 174–75
proverbs, 113, 128, 129, 133, 181, 196
puja rituals, 16, 49, 57, 93, 154, 229n27; embodied instruments of kirtan and, 213; in sabaiya households, 118; sale of puja goods, 151

Puri, 15, 37, 56
Pustimargis, 56
Radha (deity), 2, 3, 79; anklets of, 99, 102, 148, 208; bathing-pond (Radhakunda) of, 52, 102, 103; birthday of, 172; emotions and pleasures of, 104–105; gurus as, 139; menstrual blood as embodiment of, 114, 132. See also manjaries (handmaidens of Radha); sakhis
Radha-Krishna divine couple, 2, 14, 19, 70, 225n11; body-fluids as embodiments of, 118, 131, 135, 148; in celestial Vrindavan, 4, 5, 7, 217; chakra-seva ritual and, 221; chanting of names of, 24; depicted in paintings, 152, 169; devotional kirtan music, 11–14; earthly manifestation of, 19; erotic identification with, 4; as extramarital relation, 98, 227n1; Holi (Dol) festival and, 34; idols of, 5, 15, 23, 52, 172, 176, 190; international participation in service to, 159; lila-sthal (playground) of, 8; namkirtan and, 179, 197–98; prakat (unveiled) presence of, 9; quarrels of, 98–99; sensory capacities in service of, 29; sexuality of, 13, 20, 23, 99, 112; songs about, 32–33,
Index  |  271

79; subservience or devotional service toward, 145, 154; in temple-stories, 63–64; uttering/chanting/singing names of, 189. See also Chaitanya; deities; lilas (love-plays), of Radha-Krishna

Radhakunda (Radha’s bathing-pond), 52

Radharani, 179

raganuga bhakti (passionate devotion), 21, 29, 87, 94, 157; discipline transformed into, 87–91, 137; ISKCON opposition to, 23, 166

ragatmika bhaktas (devotees with passionate selves), 94

Ram (deity), 7, 11, 48, 66

Ramakrishna Mission (RKM), 161, 171

Ramanandi spirit, 89

rasa (joyful aesthetic sensation), 31–32, 95, 97, 131, 226n18; Chaitanya and, 125; ego-effacement and, 105; emotions and, 73; ingestion of body-fluids and, 137; male orgasm as, 132; theory of rasaesthetics, 31, 138, 146

rasa-sadhan (worship with love’s juice), 21, 127

Ras circle-dance, 7, 63, 65, 81, 199

Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS), 6, 161, 171

rasika (aesthete, connoisseur), 86, 105, 129, 131, 138

Rasila, 9

Ratnagar, S., 66

rickshaws/rickshaw-pullers, 39, 42–43, 51, 62; “Hare Krishna!” greeting and, 189; in Mayapur, 151; in Navadvip streets, 35

Roberts, Mary N. and Allen F., 178

Rodaway, P., 186

Rodman, M. C., 25

Rupa Goswami, 21, 31, 68, 228n22

Sachi Devi, 51

sadhaka deha (ritual body), 91

sadhana (spiritual discipline), 61–62, 74, 76, 97–98; chakras of body and, 142; early stages of, 104; essence of, 85; imagination and, 101; lila-kirtan and, 200; love-plays (lilas) of Radha-Krishna and, 94; memory and, 89; sabajiya poems and, 129

sadhana bhakti (devotion from active effort), 21

sabajiya, 16–17, 19, 33, 107–8, 150, 159; body-as-place and, 22, 115–16, 120, 220; body-fluids as focus of, 113–14; carnal immediacy of, 112; claim to be true Vaishnavas, 21–22; diksha (initiation) and, 111; dwelling huts near railroad tracks, 109–10, 110, 119; fieldwork methods in study of, 117–120; ingestion of excreta, 135–37, 220–21; linguistic sensibilities of, 124–132; manas (mind-heart) and, 30; marginal social position of, 120–24; marriage practices, 231n10; migrants from Bangladesh, 18, 120; poetry of, 125, 126–132, 231n21; raganuga bhakti of, 21; tantric traditions and, 117–18; views on sex after renunciation, 111; Vrindavan experienced in body by, 177, 221

sabajiya, stages in ritual journey of, 133; pravarter desh (initiation), 134–35; sadkhaker desh (ritual stage), 135–140; siddhir desh (final stage/destination), 140–48; sthuler desh (pre-initiation stage), 133–34

sakhis (eight dear friends of Radha), 83, 100, 139; idols of, 172; Lalita Sakhi, 80, 94; manjari assistants of, 98; services performed by, 99; in yogapitha (place of deities’ union), 81, 98

samadhis (burials), 63, 79; Chand qazi samadhi site, 52–53; of sabajiya, 119, 121, 231n9
Samajbari temple, 63, 79, 80, 228n14; _arati_ (light-offering) performed in, 93, 94; _kirtan_ (sacred music) and, 195, 196
Sanatan Goswami, 68, 69
sanctity, 8, 10, 14, 48, 51, 180
Sanderson, A., 92
_sannyas_ (renunciation), 56–57, 121, 139–140, 161, 169, 170, 232n31
Sanskrit language and texts, 6, 15, 97, 158; classical aesthetics, 31; love-poetry, 31; rasa aesthetics, 138; taught in _gurukuls_, 168
Sarkar, T., 22
Sarukkai, S., 116, 137
Sax, W. S., 9 secrecy, 85–86, 129, 131–32
self, essential, 81, 92, 93, 102, 106, 229n34 self-other boundary, dissolution of, 76
semen, 113, 138, 139; fire corresponding to, 130; male principle (Krishna) embodied in, 114, 132; retention of, 114, 126, 129, 131, 140; tears symbolically linked to, 198
_seva_ (service toward deities), 125, 136, 153, 157, 161 sexuality, 4, 9, 13, 14, 107–8, 222; aural ecstasy and, 186; devotees’ imagination and, 73; ejaculation as self-gratification, 129; foreplay of ritual sex, 135; householder-renouncer binary and, 122–23; _manjari sadhana_ practice and, 87; _manjaries_ and, 98; music and, 198, 209; physical sexuality of _sabaiyas_ and, 112; _sabaiya_ cosmology and, 131–32, 232n25; sex with gurus, 20, 22, 123, 138–39, 221; yoga and, 2
_shiksha_ (esoteric training), 111, 121, 134–35, 141, 232n31 Shiva (deity), 1
_shukho-deha_ (dreaming/imagining body-mind), 95
_shushko bhajan [shushko-sadhan]_ (dry worship), 21, 127
Shyamkunda (Krishna’s bathing-pond), 52
Siegel, Lee, 87, 129
Simmer-Brown, J., 116
Singha, Gangagovinda, 64
SMVS (Sri Mayapur Vikas Sangha), 173–74
Sneath, D., 76
songs, 9–10, 32–33, 56, 79
soteriology, 6, 26, 177, 218
sound, 30, 96, 106, 185–86; being-in-place and, 187; sound-experience and place-experience, 234n15
sperm, 22
spontaneity, 88, 90, 97, 101
Srinivas, S., 178
Srivas Angan temple, 52, 60
Stewart, T. K., 5, 28, 199, 202–3, 221, 227n8 (Chap. 2) sthan-mahatyas, 38
_stbul-deha_ (physical, acting body-mind), 95, 96 stories (narratives), 39–41; of _goswamis_, 60; of Harisabha Mandir, 63–64; temple attendants and, 54; toponymic, 45
subalternity paradigm, 22
subservience/submission, 91, 104, 137; chanting and, 193; discipline and, 89; dualism and, 171; final stage of ritual sex as, 145
Tagore, Rabindranath, 12, 188
tantric practices, 114, 117, 124, 135
Temple of the Vedic Planetarium, in Mayapur, 151, 165 temples, 1, 36, 37; attendants, 52; _lila-smarak-mandirs_, 59; miracles associated with, 59; monumental, 149; _sabaiya_, 120; temple-sermons, 6, 29, 31
Thompson, W. F., 209
tilak designs, 77–78, 102, 180, 201
Tilley, C., 61, 63
Tinkori Goswami, 192–93

Tololyan, K., 155

tourism, 50, 160, 176, 189

Trawick, M., 122

tulsi (sacred plant), 77

Universal Self (atman), 74

untouchables, 12

Upanayan-lila, 59

Upton, D., 48

Urban, H. B., 129

urine, 22, 113, 130, 136

vaidhi bhakti (disciplined devotion), 21, 23, 29, 94, 131, 157; chanting and, 182; dissolution of causal body and, 97; ISKCON philosophical focus on, 166; ritual tenets of, 91, 229n27; sixty-four rules of, 91, 130, 133, 134, 228n24; transformation of discipline to passion, 87–91, 137

Vaishnavism, 2, 47, 65, 176; as anti-caste religion, 230n1; calendar of, 7; discursive theme of Vaishnavas, 20–21; imagination and, 75; low-caste, 22; manjari sadhana practice and, 84; middle-class views of, 11–12; philosophical history of, 13; of puritanical and reformist, 12; as religion of passions, 74; sahajiya-Vaishnavism, 117–120; “true” representatives of, 13–14, 21–22; in the West, 150–51

Valpey, K. R., 155

van der Veer, P., 13, 27–28, 89

Vedantism, 6, 11

vegetarianism, 54, 151, 174

Vidyaratna, Vrajamohan, 63

vigrahas (idols), 2, 55, 64, 225n1

Vishnu (deity), 2, 6, 183

Vishnupriya (wife of Chaitanya), 56, 57, 59

visualization, 4

Vivarta Vilasa (Das), 231n17

voyeurism, 99, 229n37

Vraja. See Vrindavan, celestial

Vrajapattan, 51

Vrindavan, 1, 16, 70, 166, 230n39; body as, 22, 130, 131, 135, 142, 207; chanting and, 195; embodiment of, 26; essential self in, 93; imagination as, 71, 72, 97–106; kirtan (sacred music) and, 181–82; lilas (divine play) of, 78; as lotus-vagina, 131, 143, 145; male meditative head as, 131, 132, 143, 145; mind/heart identified with, 20; pilgrims in, 19; Radha-Krishna enmeshed with, 3; Raslila, 9; as term for states of devotional exaltation, 2; town of, 5, 216; yogapitha (place of deities’ union) in, 81, 82, 98. See also gupta (“veiled”)

Vrindavan

Vrindavan, celestial, 4, 5–6, 23, 37, 103, 195, 223; forests of, 147, 152; as goal for after-life attainment, 7–8; imagination and, 73, 97, 215; karmic cycle and, 88; kirtan (sacred music) and, 184, 196–205; lotus shape of, 101; manjari’s permanent place in, 100; pleasure as foretaste of, 177; Radha-Krishna’s sexual plays in, 71, 141, 179; ritual sex and, 145; spiritual/erotic essence of, 8–9; vaidhi bhakti (disciplined devotion) and, 89

Waghorne, J.P., 161

Warrier, M., 155, 163

Weiss, A. S., 165

West Bengal, 15, 151, 225n2

White, D. G., 230n4

Whitehouse, H., 89

Whitridge, P., 123

Winer, M., 25

Wolfson, E. R., 198

women, 59, 127, 160; babajis’ relations with, 62; body-Vrindavan and sexual practice, goswami, 16, 84; sahajiya, 122; sexual relationships with gurus, 123, 138–39, 221; vaidhi bhakti (disciplined devotion) and, 88
Wulff, D. M., 27

Yamuna (celestial river), 5, 7, 38, 73, 147, 188, 195
yogapitha (place of deities’ union), 81, 82, 83, 98, 229n35

yoga/yogic techniques, 74, 142, 232n38; bhramar-asana (honey-bee posture), 148, 210; breathing routines, 22, 96; Islamic, 116; Satyananda, 146; shushumna (central yogic nerve), 211
yugal-sadhana (worship of deity-consort), 125
yukta-vairagya (renunciation by both partners), 111, 123, 139, 162, 231n14, 233n11