Creating the Modern Army

Woolley, William J.

Published by University Press of Kansas

Woolley, William J.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/100134

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=3142144
CONTENTS

Series Editor’s Foreword xi
Preface xiii

INTRODUCTION
The Quest for a National Military Policy, 1878–1920 1

PART I
Creating the Citizen Army, 1919–1925 29

CHAPTER 1
Disappointment and Disillusionment: The Army and the Nation, 1920–1925 30

CHAPTER 2
The Heart of the Policy: Creating the New Citizen Army 43

PART II
The Army in the Era of Stability, 1926–1929: Creating the Branches 89

CHAPTER 3
Stabilizing the Relationship: The Army and the Nation in the Era of Stability 90

CHAPTER 4
The Civilian Components in the Era of Stability 98

CHAPTER 5
Creating Orthodoxy and Predictability: Professional Military Education in the Army, 1919–1939 118

CHAPTER 6
Building a Throne for the Queen: Infantry Branch Organization and Branch Culture in the 1920s 128
Contents

CHAPTER 7
Branch Stagnation: American Field Artillery, 1919–1939 143

CHAPTER 8
End of the Big Guns: Mission and Branch Identity Crisis in the Coast Artillery, 1919–1939 161

PART III
Mechanizing the Army, 1930–1939 177

CHAPTER 9
The Army Besieged: The Army and the Nation in the Decade of the Depression, 1930–1939 178

CHAPTER 10
Stability amid Crisis: The Civilian Components in the 1930s 192

CHAPTER 11
Modern Weapons and Traditional Tactics: The Infantry and Tanks, 1919–1939 206

CHAPTER 12
Mounts or Motors? The Cavalry and Its Response to Mechanization, 1919–1939 223

Conclusion 247

Abbreviations Used in Citations 254

Notes 255

Bibliography 307