Marxisms in the 21st Century

Williams, Michelle, Satgar, Vishwas, Williams, Michelle, Veriava, Ahmed, Saul, John, Satgar, Vishwas, Pillay, Devan, Ngwane, Trevor, Luxton, Meg, Jara, Mazibuko, Glaser, Daryl, Desai, Ashwin, Cock, Jacklyn, Burawoy, Michael, Bond, Patrick

Published by Wits University Press

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/50555

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=1944231

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.
CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS iv
ACRONYMS AND ABBREVIATIONS vi
INTRODUCTION Michelle Williams 1

PART ONE: DEMOCRATISI NG AND GLOB ALISING M ARXISM 15
CHAPTER 1: Marxism and democracy: Liberal, vanguard or direct? Michelle Williams 16
CHAPTER 2: Marxism after Polanyi Michael Burawoy 34
CHAPTER 3: Transnationalising Gramscian Marxism Vishwas Satgar 53

PART TWO: M ARXISM AND LEFT POLITICS 83
CHAPTER 4: Notes on critique Ahmed Veriava 84
CHAPTER 5: Marxism and feminism: ‘Unhappy marriage’ or creative partnership? Jacklyn Cock and Meg Luxton 116
CHAPTER 6: Marx and the eco-logic of fossil capitalism Devan Pillay 143

PART THREE: C RISES OF M ARXISM IN AFRICA AND POSSIBILITIES FOR THE FUTURE 167
CHAPTER 7: Retrospect: Seven theses about Africa’s Marxist regimes Daryl Glaser 168
CHAPTER 8: Socialism and southern Africa John S. Saul 196
CHAPTER 9: Uneven and combined Marxism within South Africa’s urban social movements Patrick Bond, Ashwin Desai and Trevor Ngwane 220
CHAPTER 10: Critical reflections on the crisis and limits of ANC ‘Marxism’ Mazibuko K. Jara 260

CONCLUSION Vishwas Satgar 281
CONTRIBUTORS 287
INDEX 289