CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix
Introduction 1

Part One Liberal Time vs. Literary Time 13

Chapter 1 What Edith Wharton Teaches about the Defense of Affirmative Action 18
Chapter 2 Mark Twain and the Secret Joys of Antiracist Pedagogy 35

Part Two Gender, Liberalism, and Racial Geometry 57

Chapter 3 Awakened White Femininity and a Shaping Mexicanist Presence 61
Chapter 4 Trafficking in Liberal Masculinities 71

Part Three American Innocence and Liberal Guilt 91

Chapter 5 “A Good Fellow Wronged”: Christopher Newman and the Feeling of American Exceptionalism 94
Chapter 6 Liberal Guilt and The Age of Innocence 108

Coda. Now, More Than Ever 133

Notes 137
Bibliography 151
Index 163