contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction:
In the Presence of Audience: The Self in Diaries and Fiction 1

1 Virginia Woolf’s Diary:
“Whom do I tell when I tell a blank page?” 21

2 Katherine Mansfield:
“‘Damning little notebooks[s]’ tell their own story” 54

3 Violet Hunt:
Mythmaking in “Her Book of Impressions” 85

4 Doris Lessing’s The Golden Notebook:
“An Exposed Position” 122

Notes 139
Works consulted 149
Index 165