Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: In the Presence of Audience: The Self in Diaries and Fiction 1

1 Virginia Woolf’s Diary: “Whom do I tell when I tell a blank page?” 21

2 Katherine Mansfield: “‘Damning little notebooks[s]’ tell their own story” 54

3 Violet Hunt: Mythmaking in “Her Book of Impressions” 85

4 Doris Lessing’s The Golden Notebook: “An Exposed Position” 122

Notes 139

Works consulted 149

Index 165