Surprised by Shame
Martinsen, Deborah A.

Published by The Ohio State University Press

Martinsen, Deborah A.
Surprised by Shame: Dostoevsky's Liars and Narrative Explorers.
The Ohio State University Press, 2003.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/33144.

❖ For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/33144

❖ For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=1293566
Contents

Acknowledgments ix
Introductory Note xiii

1 Surprised by Shame 1
2 Something about Lying 18
3 Shame’s Legacy: Fathers and Children 52
4 General Ivolgin: Narratives of Shame and Identity 62
5 Confessional Moments 92
6 Stepan Trofimovich Verkhovensky: Leaving the Narrator Behind 103
7 Divided Selves 135
8 Lukian Lebedev: Narrative and Exposure 147
9 Metaliterary Identity 170
10 Captain Lebiadkin: Pretender Politics and Poetics 184
11 Father and Son: Legacy of Shame 207

Conclusion 217
Notes 225
Bibliography 257
Index 267