Victorian Poetry, Europe, and the Challenge of Cosmopolitanism

Keirstead, Christopher M.

Published by The Ohio State University Press

Keirstead, Christopher M.
Victorian Poetry, Europe, and the Challenge of Cosmopolitanism.
The Ohio State University Press, 2011.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/24264.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/24264

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=859315
Contents

List of Illustrations ix
Acknowledgments xi

1 Introduction: Arnold, Europe, and the (Future) Destinations of Victorian Poetry 1

2 Letter from Europe: The Epistolary Interventions of Clough’s Amours de Voyage 37

3 Barrett Browning and the Spaces of CosmoFeminism: From Casa Guidi Windows to “Mother and Poet” 65

4 Browning at the Border: Red Cotton Night-Cap Country 90

5 Bodies in Translation: Swinburne’s Poems and Ballads and the Fleshly School of Cosmopolitanism 114

6 Affinity versus Isolation: Cosmopolitanism and the Racial Dynamics of Morris’s Europe 143

7 Europe in Perspective: The Dynasts 178

8 Conclusion: “Argosies of Magic Sails”: Cosmopolitan Dreams and Challenges 203

Notes 211
Bibliography 253
Index 267