Breaking Down the State
Jasper, James, Duyvendak, Jan Willem

Published by Amsterdam University Press

Jasper, James and Jan Willem Duyvendak.
Breaking Down the State: Protestors Engaged.
Amsterdam University Press, 2015.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/66492.

For additional information about this book https://muse.jhu.edu/book/66492

For content related to this chapter https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2359385
Contents

Introduction
Players and Arenas Formerly Known as the State
James M. Jasper

Part 1 The Rules of Law

1 The Courts
Criminal Trials as Strategic Arenas
Brian Doherty and Graeme Hayes

2 Political Parties and Legislators
A Latin American Perspective
Hélène Combes

3 Political Parties and Legislators
An American Perspective
Katherine Krimmel

4 Contentious Governance
Local Governmental Players as Social Movement Actors
Imrat Verhoeven and Christian Bröer

Part 2 The Forces of Order

5 The Police
Donatella della Porta and Kivanç Atak

6 The Military
The Mutual Determination of Strategy in Ireland, 1912-1921
Ian Roxborough

7 Infiltrators
David Cunningham and Roberto Soto-Carrión
8 Liberal Violence
Strategies of Repression in Transitional Regimes
Vince Boudreau

Part 3 International Arenas

9 The United Nations
Gay versus Anti-Gay Players in Transnational Contention
Clifford Bob

Conclusion
Simplicity vs. Complexity in the Analysis of Social Movements
Jack A. Goldstone

Contributors
Index

List of Figures and Tables

Figure 3.1 Percentage of Bills Introduced in the US House
Reported from Committee and Passed 84
Figure C1 Tilly's Polity Model, Static Version 226
Figure C2 A More Complex View of Fields of Action for Social Movements 234

Table 2.1 The Non-Partisan Engagements of National, Regional, and Local Leaders of the PRD between 1968 and 1997 65
Table 2.2 Arenas and the Resource Transfers of Multi-Positioned Players 70
Table 5.1 Styles of Policing, or “Interaction” 121
Table 5.2 Protest Policing Strategies 124
Table 8.1 Domination vs. Contestation 195