Gendered Temporalities in the Early Modern World

Wiesner-Hanks, Merry

Published by Amsterdam University Press

Wiesner-Hanks, Merry.
Amsterdam University Press, 2018.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/66510.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/66510
Table of Contents

Introduction 7
  Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks

Part I  Temporality and materiality

1  Time, gender, and the mystery of English wine 19
   Frances E. Dolan
2  Women in the sea of time 47
   Domestic dated objects in seventeenth-century England
   Sophie Cope
3  Time, gender, and nonhuman worlds 69
   Emily Kuffner, Elizabeth Crachiolo, and Dyani Johns Taff

Part II  Frameworks and taxonomy of time

4  Telling time through medicine 95
   A gendered perspective
   Alisha Rankin
5  Times told 115
   Women narrating the everyday in early modern Rome
   Elizabeth S. Cohen
6  Genealogical memory 135
   Constructing female rule in seventeenth-century Aceh
   Su Fang Ng
7  Feminist queer temporalities in Aemilia Lanyer and Lucy
   Hutchinson 159
   Penelope Anderson and Whitney Sperrazza

Part III  Embodied time

8  Embodied temporality 187
   Lucrezia Tornabuoni de’ Medici’s sacra storia, Donatello’s Judith, and the performance of gendered authority in Palazzo Medici, Florence
   Allie Terry-Fritsch
Maybe baby
Pregnant possibilities in medieval and early modern literature
Holly Barbaccia, Bethany Packard, and Jane Wanninger

Evolving families
Realities and images of stepfamilies, remarriage, and half-siblings in early modern Spain
Grace E. Coolidge and Lyndan Warner

Epilogue

Navigating the future of early modern women's writing
Pedagogy, feminism, and literary theory
Michelle M. Dowd

Index

List of figures

Figure 2.1 Tin-glazed earthenware mug, dated 1642, London. Victoria and Albert Museum, London

Figure 2.2 Brass and iron spit jack, dated 1670, England. Victoria and Albert Museum, London

Figure 2.3 Elm chest, dated 1640, England. Victoria and Albert Museum, London

Figure 2.4 Silk, leather, and beadwork bag, dated 1625, England. Collection of John H. Bryan, used by permission

Figure 4.1 'Astrological' or 'zodiac' man in a portable folding almanac, 1451–81. Wellcome Library London

Figure 4.2 Detail of Peter Slovacius's 1581 almanac with zodiac man and symbols indicating auspicious dates for various procedures. Wellcome Library London

Figure 8.1 Donatello (Donato di Niccolò di Betto Bardi), Judith, c. 1464, bronze, located between mid-1460s and 1495 in the garden of Palazzo Medici, today in the Sala dei Gigli, Palazzo Vecchio, Florence. Photo: author

Figure 8.2 Detail of Figure 8.1. Photo: author

Figure 10.1 Juan Bautista Martínez del Mazo, The Painter's Family, Kunsthistorisches Museum, Vienna, Austria. Used by permission