Table of Contents

Introduction
Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks

Part I  Temporality and materiality

1. Time, gender, and the mystery of English wine
   Frances E. Dolan
2. Women in the sea of time
   Domestic dated objects in seventeenth-century England
   Sophie Cope
3. Time, gender, and nonhuman worlds
   Emily Kuffner, Elizabeth Crachiolo, and Dyani Johns Taff

Part II  Frameworks and taxonomy of time

4. Telling time through medicine
   A gendered perspective
   Alisha Rankin
5. Times told
   Women narrating the everyday in early modern Rome
   Elizabeth S. Cohen
6. Genealogical memory
   Constructing female rule in seventeenth-century Aceh
   Su Fang Ng
7. Feminist queer temporalities in Aemilia Lanyer and Lucy Hutchinson
   Penelope Anderson and Whitney Sperrazza

Part III  Embodied time

8. Embodied temporality
   Lucrezia Tornabuoni de’ Medici’s sacra storia, Donatello’s Judith, and the performance of gendered authority in Palazzo Medici, Florence
   Allie Terry-Fritsch
9  Maybe baby
Pregnant possibilities in medieval and early modern literature
   Holly Barbaccia, Bethany Packard, and Jane Wanninger

10  Evolving families
Realities and images of stepfamilies, remarriage, and half-siblings in early modern Spain
   Grace E. Coolidge and Lyndan Warner

Epilogue

11  Navigating the future of early modern women's writing
Pedagogy, feminism, and literary theory
   Michelle M. Dowd

Index

List of figures

Figure 2.1  Tin-glazed earthenware mug, dated 1642, London. Victoria and Albert Museum, London  48
Figure 2.2  Brass and iron spit jack, dated 1670, England. Victoria and Albert Museum, London  53
Figure 2.3  Elm chest, dated 1640, England. Victoria and Albert Museum, London  56
Figure 2.4  Silk, leather, and beadwork bag, dated 1625, England. Collection of John H. Bryan, used by permission  63
Figure 4.1  'Astrological' or 'zodiac' man in a portable folding almanac, 1451–81. Wellcome Library London  100
Figure 4.2  Detail of Peter Slovacius's 1581 almanac with zodiac man and symbols indicating auspicious dates for various procedures. Wellcome Library London  101
Figure 8.1  Donatello (Donato di Niccolò di Betto Bardi), Judith, c. 1464, bronze, located between mid-1460s and 1495 in the garden of Palazzo Medici, today in the Sala dei Gigli, Palazzo Vecchio, Florence. Photo: author  188
Figure 8.2  Detail of Figure 8.1. Photo: author  204
Figure 10.1  Juan Bautista Martínez del Mazo, The Painter's Family, Kunsthistorisches Museum, Vienna, Austria. Used by permission  246