Table of contents

Acknowledgements 7

Introduction 9

Andreas Hellerstedt

Eustratius of Nicaea as a source for the Neoplatonist notion of levels of virtue in the Early Latin commentators on the Nicomachean Ethics 37

Erik Eliasson

Teaching virtue through the law 59

Justice and royal authority in Giles of Rome's De regimine principum (c.1280)

Biörn Tjällén

The tree and its fruit 79

The problem of good deeds in the Swedish Reformation

Mari Eyice

Fostering civic virtue 97

Johannes Messenius and Swedish school drama

Tania Preste

Dancing virtue 113

Educational aspects of Queen Christina's court ballets

Stefano Fogelberg Rota

The path to virtue 135

Dancing the education of Achilles and the Nereids

Kristine Kolrud

Virtue and duty 179

Academic moral discourse in seventeenth-century Sweden

Bo Lindberg
The Royal Rhetor

Princely and common virtues in the operas and plays of Gustavus III

Jennie Nell

Antagonistic parents in Frances Brooke’s The Old Maid and The History of Julia Mandeville

Michaela Vance

Cracks in the mirror

Changing conceptions of political virtue in mirrors for princes in Scandinavia from the Middle Ages to c.1700

Andreas Hellerstedt

Index

List of figures

Figure 1  Appearance of the Nereids  137
Figure 2  Ballet of the Masters of the Arts: a Corybante and a Curete  138
Figure 3  Prophecy of the Oracle of Apollo, Thetis to the right in the foreground  139
Figure 4  Ballet of the Masters of the Arts: Agesidamus and Glycon  140
Figure 5  Juno with Vulcan in the background  142
Figure 6  Ballet of the Nereids: Philyra, Doris, Callirrhoe, and Eurynome  143
Figure 7  Virtue  144
Figure 8  Ballet of Achilles and his Companions: Odysseus, Menelaus, Agamemnon, and Polydamas  144
Figure 9  Ballet of the Zephyrs: grand ballet  146
Figure 10  Ballet of Children’s Games: Achilles and Patroclus  147
Figure 11  Ballet of the Smiths of Vulcan  147
Figure 12  Detail of the inscription on the proscenium arch (detail of Figure 1)  148
Figure 13  Ballet of Achilles and his Companions: grand ballet  161