Places of Engagement
Heijnen, Armand, van der Vaart, Armand

Published by Amsterdam University Press

Heijnen, Armand and Armand van der Vaart.
Amsterdam University Press, 2018.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/76703.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/76703

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2654980
Table of Contents

Foreword 9
Annetje Ottow and Anton Pijpers

Introduction 11
Rob van der Vaart and Armand Heijnen

Part 1  Reflections on core values

Autonomy: A practice serving a purpose 23
Sijbolt Noorda

The positive and fundamental value of excellence in universities 30
Alain Beretz

‘Let the lightning strike!’ — Free speech and the university 35
Carel Stolker

Part 2  Reflections on core tasks

What ought we to wish from university graduates? 49
James Kennedy

The student in 2040 54
Rhea van der Dong

Setting the agenda: ‘To whom are we answering’? 60
Frank Miedema

On the need for universities to engage in lifelong learning 65
Joop Schippers
Part 3  Reflections on learning and teaching

Diversifying the university menu
José van Dijck

The importance of evidence-based development of teaching and learning at university
Sari Lindblom and Jukka Kola

Re-thinking the higher education curriculum: Challenges, possibilities, and dreams
Dilly Fung

The university as a community in the digital age
Anka Mulder

Part 4  Reflections on the global and the local

Building the first global network university
John Sexton

A new dawn? Academia moving eastwards
Bertil Andersson

In search of the South African university — Pages from a Stellenbosch diary
Peter Vale

The labyrinth of EU research, innovation, and education policy
Kurt Deketelaere
Part 5  Reflections on institutional logic

Academic enterprise as a new institutional logic for public higher education
Michael Crow, Derrick Anderson, and Kyle Whitman

Don’t be scared; be prepared
Barbara Baarsma

The idea of the university: National asset or ivory tower?
Huang Hoon Chng

Quality assurance: What it was, is, and should be Karl Dittrich

A Hooge School en Maatschappij for our time! On the difficult relationship between two types of universities
Leen Dorsman

About the authors