The Event of Art

MarcLafia, MathieuBorysevicz, DanielCoffeen

Published by Punctum Books

MarcLafia, et al.
The Event of Art.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/80764

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2762885
Contents

Mathieu Borysevicz: On Marc Lafia  ....................................................... xi

Daniel Coffeen: The Medium is the Machine: The Post-Media, Post-Relational Work of Marc Lafia ....................................................... xvii

Introduction: Art as Event ................................................................. 1

1 Art as a Recording, but What Kind? ............................................... 18
   Art as performative recording • It would be a story • Dreaming Alphabets • Actions are actions only if they are recorded • Body, Actions, Recording, My Double My Self, Me as a Recording

2 Photography and Cinema, Recording Instruments of the Everyday, Instruments with Many Registers ............................................ 36
   My Image My Self • Confessions of an Image

3 The Unbounded Wor(l)d ................................................................. 60
   HyperHyper, The Unbounded Wor(l)d, (the book) • Planet, World Picture Clock • Cyberia • HyperHyper, The Unbounded Wor(l)d, Computational Version • The Vanndemar Memex (Lara Croft Stripped Bare by Her Assassins, Even) • Art and Culture • Ambient Machines • Three Things • Writing Space • Durations Loops and Iterations • Variable Montage

4 Computations ................................................................................. 92
   Joan of Arc, Computational Montage • Microarchitextures • Record • Time • Midsummer • Textures, 2007

5 Permutations .................................................................................. 102
This Battle of Algiers: Cinema as Database, Lines of Force

Self-Exposures, F4, the Desktop Photography Collective

Chat Me Up: This Moment Already Always Recording

Revolution of Everyday Life

Here and Somewhere Else, Shanghai Kids

Being Art

Instructions

Self Becoming/Becoming Recordings

Delirium

The Unbounded Word

Art as Invention
44 When Form Becomes Attitude ........................................... 676
45 The Ecstatic, the Quiet as Form ........................................ 680
46 The Banal, the Empty, the Cool, the Tragic ......................... 686
47 Forms, Appearances and the Tragic ................................... 690
48 Space, Shape, Volume and Objecthood ............................... 698
49 The Mundi, an Immensity Possessing No Dimension, a New Form of Cultural Exchange ........................................ 718
50 Modular, Mutable, Notional and Performative .................... 728
51 Of Reward and the Beautiful ........................................... 738
52 Whatever I Do Comes from Doing and That’s That ............... 744