I'd like to thank all the editors of the various magazines, anthologies, online journals, and newspapers in which some of these essays appeared. I'd also like to thank Murat Nemet-Nejat for being a perceptive reader of these essays in their initial form and Ed Foster, who published many of them over the years in Talisman: A Journal of Contemporary Poetry and Poetics. A special thanks to Lily Brewer for her careful editing of the manuscript, Vincent W.J. van Gerven Oei for all his hard work in its initial and final stages, and finally Eileen A. Joy for taking on the manuscript and seeing it through to print.
