Note to the Reader

At the time when I began preparing a critical edition of Sefer ha-Rimmon as part of my doctoral thesis at Brandeis University the text was only extant in manuscript form. Since the publication of my dissertation, however, a critical edition of the second part of the text on the negative commandments has been published by Dorit Cohen-Alloro of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. Unfortunately, this edition did not reach me until after the English section of my manuscript had been sent to the press for publication and the revisions on the Hebrew text were almost completed. Hence, no reference to her edition will be found in this book.